8 Minnesota Communities Hit Hardest

WASECA, Minn. (AP) — Searchers probed through splintered rubble of homes smashed by tornadoes at Waseca and Albert Lea today grimly looking for more bodies in the aftermath of a night of storm terror which left a dozen dead, over 100 injured and property damage in the millions at eight communities and numerous farms.

A band of possibly a half-dozen tornadoes smashed across a 50-mile-wide area of southern Minnesota around the dinner hour Sunday night.

"It was horrible!" exclaimed Mrs. Archie Draheim of Waseca. "We were sitting at the dinner table eating when the picture window hit me and my husband right in the face. There was no warning. There was this terrible rain falling and all of a sudden I was diving along the floor with glass all around me."

She and her husband were treated for cuts at a hospital and released.

Taken by Surprise

Countless others were similarly taken by surprise, even though a tornado watch had been issued by the Weather Bureau for the area.

The tornadoes roared upon them in the midst of heavy rains and nearing dusk, which apparently prevented them from watching the skies closely. Witnesses said the Waseca warning siren began blaring a couple of minutes after the tornado had passed.

One of the first on the scene at Waseca was Arthur Kost, whose ambulance service in Mankato took two ambulances to the stricken town of 6,100 some 25 miles to the east.

"I picked up two dead people, one of whom was almost decapitated," said Kost. "I saw several cars that had been knocked around like balls. At first, the hospital was a mass of confusion. People were sitting on chairs and lying on stretchers."

Five were killed in Waseca and two were critically hurt and taken to a Rochester hospital. Police said eight Waseca homes were destroyed and about 30 others were damaged, some severely, on the south side of Clear Lake, where the twister hit. Many cars were damaged.

National Guard units were on duty guarding the twister-damaged area.

Explosion Kills 8 Arab Children

ADEN (AP) — Aden's two rival nationalist groups joined today in a general strike protesting the explosion of a British-made antitank mine which demolished a school bus, killing eight Arab children and their driver.

British troops killed an Arab sniper this morning in the suburban Sheikh Othman district where the mine exploded Sunday.

Assemblymen Tour Sites

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Members of the Assembly Education Committee toured the proposed sites for a four-year University of Wisconsin campus, and indications were that the committee would support the Larsen Farms site for construction.

The group flew here this morning and first toured the Larsen site on the far west side. This site originally was chosen for the University campus, but the Shorewood Golf Club site was chosen by a second committee, named to pick a campus site.

This brought strong opposition from the lower Fox Valley area, followed by a bill submitted by Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, to change the location to the Larsen site.

Other members of the Assembly and Senate making the site inspection today said they expected the Assembly would vote in favor of the Larsen Farms site over the Shorewood location.

The 11-member Education Committee agreed the Shorewood location had better esthetic value, but stated they mainly were concerned over the problem of commuter students who would have to travel across Green Bay to reach the location on the city's northeast side.

Following the inspection of the Larsen site from chartered bus, the group traveled to De Pere, from where they traveled Brown County Trunk G to the Shorewood location.

There, the group left the bus to walk around part of the area for the proposed campus and then left for a supper club for lunch and a press conference.

In addition to the Assembly committee, state officials in attendance were Assemblymen Cleatus Vanderperren, Jerome Quinn and Lawrence Kafka, and Sens. Robert Warren of Green Bay, Ruben LaFave of Oconto and Gerald Lorge of Bear Creek.

Britain Puts Conditions on Market Entry

Wilson's Cabinet Agrees to Apply To Customs Union

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet agreed Sunday that Britain should try again to join the European Common Market, but it set conditions apparently to assure protection of its trading interests.

The conditions were kept secret. They were part of a compromise agreement reached at an eight-hour meeting at Chequers, the prime minister's official country home.

Wilson sought a free hand to negotiate Britain's entry into the six-nation customs union. But seven or eight of the 21 Cabinet ministers are known to oppose British entry. They stressed the economic risks and tried to attach conditions that might cripple British negotiators at Common Market headquarters in Brussels.

Officials said the compromise forestalled, at least for now, any resignations by these ministers.

Britain tried to join the Common Market in 1963, but its application was vetoed by French President Charles de Gaulle. Continental supporters of the British candidacy have urged Wilson to join as quickly as possible then negotiate the best possible deal from the inside.

Alludes to Wallace Romney Forecasts Third Party's Doom

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today a third party move in the 1968 presidential election would be both tragic and futile. He predicted voters of the South will reject the move.

"I don't think the states of the South should hook themselves to the principle. But he said legislation had created false hopes. Romney said efforts in this area should be concentrated on state, local and private levels rather than trying to solve the problem by one approach such as federal law."

Romney was asked his reaction to the cordial meeting of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia recently.

"It's interesting to see what strange bedfellows develop in politics and I think —" he paused. "Well, that's all."

Later Romney said he shares the concern of others that the civil rights movement is in trouble, but he said the movement still can go forward if public officials demonstrate their willingness to implement rights guarantees.

Romney Club Formed

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The organization of a Wisconsin club to promote the presidential candidacy of Gov. George Romney of Michigan was announced today by Wilbur N. Renk, a prominent Wisconsin Republican leader.

a fallen star." Romney, a Republican, said at a news conference, opening a whirlwind campaign-like speaking tour in Atlanta.

Romney said a third party campaign, which former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama has indicated he will head, would have less effect if the people of the South understand what it involved.

"Self-Defeating
"Once they see that this effort is futile and self-defeating, they will not support it," said Romney, who did not mention Wallace by name.

"I think it will hurt the Democrats more than it will hurt the Republicans," he said.

Romney said federal legislation was not the primary need in civil rights. In response to repeated questions, Romney refused to say if he supports the open housing bill now in Congress or whether he supports

Dogfights Over North

Three More MIGs Downed

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. pilots shot down three more Communist MIGs over North Vietnam today while just south of the demilitarized zone U. S. Marines suffered and inflicted heavy casualties battling North Vietnamese soldiers for a strategic hill.

A Marine spokesman said 49 Marines were killed and 156 wounded as they fought foot by foot Sunday up the slopes of twin-peaked Hill 881. The Marines have had 86 men killed and 240 wounded in the past week in the area.

The spokesman said the Marines killed 180 Communists. Elements of two Marine battalions clung to their positions overnight and moved forward today in a new attempt to take the summit for use as an outpost for checking North Vietnamese movements. There are reported to be 35,000 North Vietnamese regulars in and around the demilitarized zone, possibly poised for a major assault.

Tons of Bombs

As the Marines halted their advance late Sunday, tactical bombers and B52s dumped tons of explosives on the North Vietnamese positions.

The air war flared to a new intensity with 133 missions over North Vietnam and a record 577 strikes over the south.

Two U. S. Army helicopters collided over the Bien Hoa Air base, 15 miles northwest of Saigon, late today and all eight crewmen in the two craft were killed, a U. S. military spokesman said.

The MIG kills brought to 48 the total number reported shot down in the war, including four in the last two days. The U. S. command has announced the loss of 13 U. S. planes to MIGs.

There was no announcement whether any U. S. planes were lost in the latest dogfights, but in a delayed report the U. S. command said an Air Force F-4 Phantom was downed by ground fire April 29. The two crewmen were listed as missing. It was the 522nd American plane reported lost over the north.

U. S. Navy pilots from 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin were credited with bagging two of the MIGs today.

Whether they were the late-model 21s or the earlier, less maneuverable 17s was not known. The specific area where they were shot down was not announced.

In the third kill, a U. S. Air Force Phantom drove a MIG17 into the ground during a dogfight between eight F4C Phantoms out of Da Nang airbase and eight MIGs about 20 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Pound Rail Lines
Air Force pilots pounded Communist rail lines and yards in the Hanoi area during 65 missions over the north Sunday.

The Air Force missions were the largest since last Oct. 12, when 66 were flown.

The 577 air strikes in South Vietnam—214 in support of ground operations—topped the previous high of 575 over the south March 12.

Red China spurned a Soviet call for united action to help North Vietnam, terming Soviet leaders "accomplices to U. S. gangsters."

A long article in the Peking People's Daily, the Chinese party paper, said acceptance of U. S. offers to end the war could lead to the loss of North Vietnam. The comment was probably aimed at discouraging North Vietnam from entertaining peace notions.

Bandits Get Bullion Worth $2.1 Million

LONDON (AP) — Bandits overpowered the crew of an armored car in London today and got away with gold bullion estimated to be worth $2.1 million, a Scotland Yard spokesman said.

He said the gold was in 140 ingots.

The armored vehicle was hijacked in the Islington district of North London.

Police said the truck's crew of three men was overpowered by the gang, who then drove it away.

The vehicle was found abandoned in Kentish Town, about four miles away, with the crew tied up in the back.

One of Biggest

The daring robbery was one of the biggest in Britain since the $7 million great train robbery in 1963.

One member of the truck's crew was taken to London's Middlesex Hospital with head and chest injuries.

The other two were taken to Moorfields Eye Hospital in London.

Police said the gang attacked with ammonia and beat up one of the men.

Police said the gold belonged to the London banking firm of N. M. Rothschild and Sons.

Although full details were still not available, the crime appeared to have all the hallmarks of the smoothly run great train robbery.

The gang was reckoned to have full knowledge of the movement of such a large consignment of bullion.

Mao Makes Appearance

Communists Give Annual May Day Exhibits of Power

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the new Soviet defense minister, opened May Day ceremonies in Red Square today with standard Soviet attacks on the United States, West Germany and Red China.

No new weapons were among the 330 that rumbled through the square in the annual parade. Observers believe the armed forces are saving up surprise weapons for a splash display on

Nov. 7, the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Mao Tse-tung made his first May Day appearance in five years as he and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao, rode in an open car through hundreds of thousands of Chinese at a rally in Peking.

Liu Missing

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said it was Mao's first public appearance since last November and the first time during China's current power struggle that Mao's chief adversary, President Liu Shao-Chi, did not attend a mass gathering with other Chinese leaders.

The Moscow parade displayed antiaircraft rockets of the kind used in North Vietnam against American planes, antiballistic missiles and 110-foot intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Among those on the reviewing stand were Communist Party Secretary General Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Grechko made a milder speech than usually came from his predecessor, the late Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

In his six-minute speech, he charged that the "monopolistic bourgeoisie" in the United States are responsible for the Vietnamese war.

Saigon Rally
In Saigon, students scuffled with police following a May Day rally at the Saigon Zoo. The rally was among four held by labor unions in the city. Some students and labor union members unfurled banners calling for an end to the war. When police moved in to seize the banners, the scuffling began.

Orderly rallies were held in 800 Japanese cities and towns by an estimated six million Japanese. Socialist party Chairman Kozo Sasaki set the tone for a Tokyo rally by declaring that "American imperialism in Vietnam poses a dire threat to world peace."

Chicago Milk Deliveries Halt

Most Distributors Stop Work After Strike Against One

CHICAGO (AP) — Most deliveries of milk and dairy foods to homes and retailers in the Chicago area halted Monday because of a strike called against one distributor.

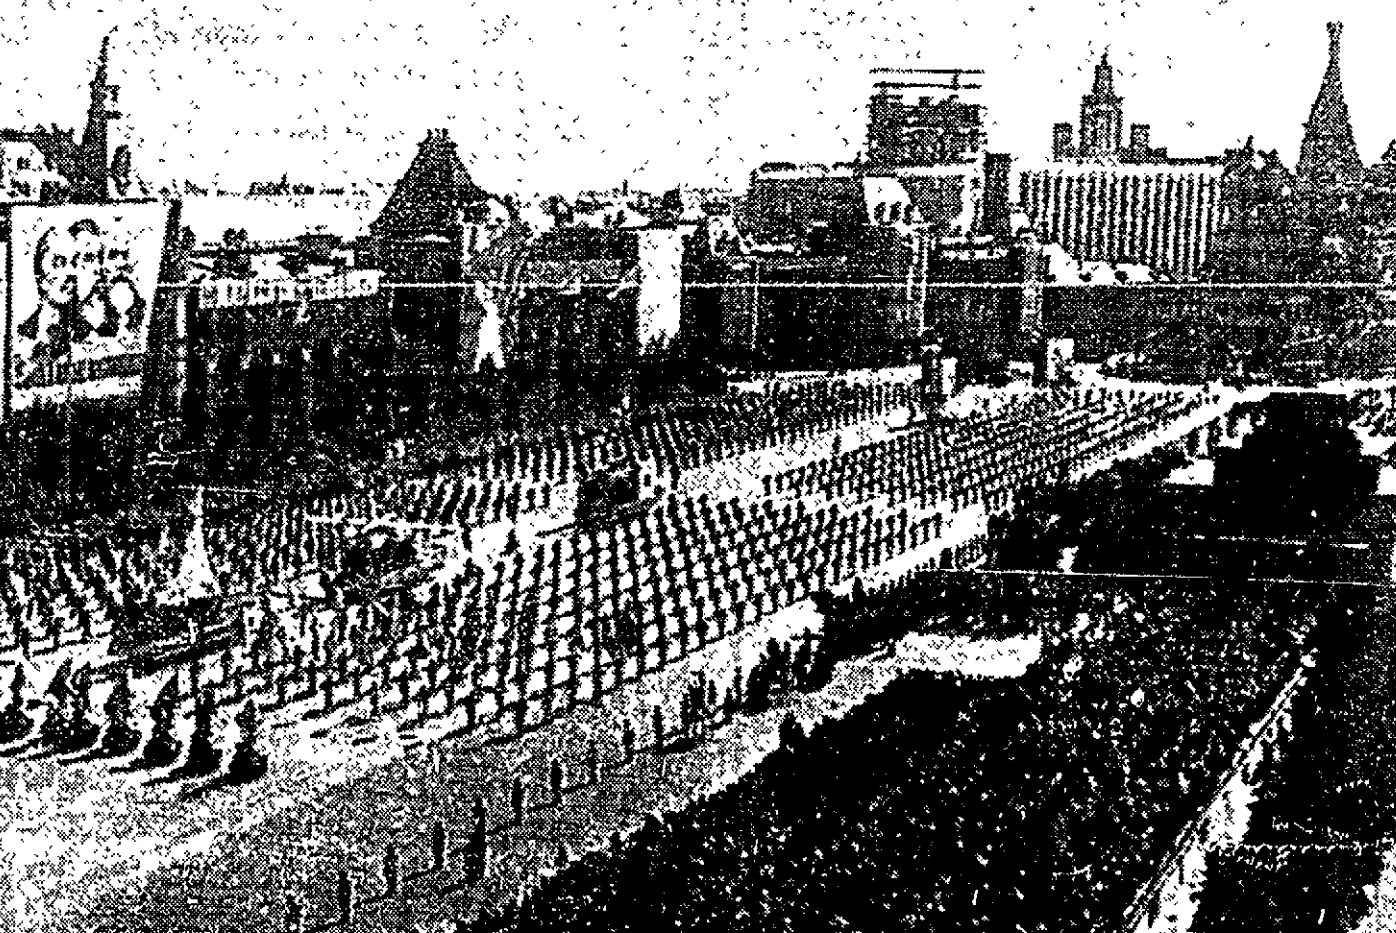

Major distributors belonging to the Associated Milk Dealers suspended deliveries in accordance with a policy which an association spokesman termed "a strike against one is a strike against all."

The strike was called against the Dean Foods Co. of suburban Franklin Park at 2:15 a.m. by the Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers Union, Teamsters Local 753, after some 48 hours of continuous negotiation on a contract with the association.

Associated Milk Dealers responded by declaring a lockout by its members and they were joined in the lockout by the Chicago Dairymen's Association, a separate organization of milk distributors.

Unknowns Get Chance As 'Cold Blood' Killers

Filming of Truman Capote Book Based On Murder May Bring Fame to 2 Actors

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — "Yes, they look just like those two killers — especially the dark one."

That comment can be heard around the Finney County courthouse these days as the trial of Richard Eugene Hickock and Perry Edward Smith is being replayed for the filming of "In Cold Blood."

Hickock, 33, and Smith, 36, were hanged in Kansas State Penitentiary after being convicted of murdering the four members of the Clutter family in nearby Holcomb. The two killers are now being played by Hollywood actors Robert Blake and Scott Wilson, who face the prospect of worldwide fame after lives of obscurity.

Indeed the dark one — Robert Blake, 33 — does bear a haunting resemblance to the moody, murderous Perry Smith. Blake is dark, strongly built, with short legs.

Wilson, 25, is handsomer than the other killer, Hickock. He is taller, too, as has been noted by Truman Capote, who spent much time with the condemned men in research for his book, "In Cold Blood."

Both actors seem moody and almost overwhelmed by the sudden burst of publicity concerning their roles. They had grown accustomed to years of agonizing waiting as undiscovered Hollywood actors.

"Me, I hung around town five-six years until this happened," said Wilson, a slender, thin-faced young man. "I had to take any job I could find — grocery box boy, junior draftsman, parking lot attendant, bus boy, gas station man, mail clerk, you name it. Guys like me who want to be actors can't take a regular job because you can't leave it when an acting job comes along."

Wilson, an Atlanta, Ga., bachelor who hitchhiked to Hollywood to become an actor, stuck it out with little encouragement. His role in a forthcoming Sidney Poitier film brought him to the attention of Richard Brooks, maker of "In Cold Blood." He was interviewed, tested and handed the role.

In Richard Boone Show Robert Blake, the dark one, is a cooler cat. Born in Nutley, N.J., he drifted through the United States and in and out of the Army, landing in Hollywood in 1958. He has had more experience than Wilson, especially during the brave, abortive repertory season on TV of the Richard Boone Show. Blake appeared in 26 of the 30 dramas.

"It's only in the past three or four years that my wife and I decided I was doing well enough so we could start a family," said Blake, now the father of two.

Still, he is unsure of his new position and is likely to answer in an erratic and combative way questions thrown at him by correspondents who have been pouring in to observe the location.

Scott Wilson, Left, and Robert Blake, a couple of obscure Hollywood actors, face the prospect of world-wide fame when the movie version of novelist Truman Capote's "In Cold Blood" is released. They portray the real-life murderers who were hanged for killing four members of the Clutter family in Garden City, Kan. The Clutter house is in the background; portions of the movie are being filmed in the house where the killings occurred. (AP Wirephoto)

'Zero Hour' Is One-Man Special

BY TV SCOUT 9-10 Channels 11-6-9 — Zero Hour is the long-awaited one-man special by Zero Mostel, widely accepted as America's comedian's comedian. Zero begins by immediately debunking his sophisticated status via a page from Soupy Sales' book. Among the dozen skits and scenes, including song and dance, are a touching takeoff on the insulting interviewers with Zero spewing the invectives as Joe Pain; a new version of "September Song" which opens with Zero as a two-month-old baby discovering his fingers; a used car lot with Zero as the used cars, and a sentimental salute to Jimmy Durante. First rate fare for all.

The Lucy Show should know better. It casts its formidable heroine as a fight manager. Her client? Comedian Don Rickles who in this silly episode plays a tired old fighter who wants to give up the ring to open a flower shop. aged area, a stretch about two blocks wide and eight blocks long in the southeast part of town. The twister skipped over Clear Lake and struck homes on the other side.

The Wasecans critically hurt and taken to Rochester are George Hurley and Mrs. George Willock.

Hits Albert Lea

Albert Lea had a wider area of destruction, but the known death there was two — Elmer Manuel, 41, and his wife Lucy, 46, both of Albert Lea. Ten persons were hospitalized at that city, and about 40 were treated and released.

Ten persons are hospitalized at Albert Lea. Twenty others were treated and released. The tornado hit Albert Lea's west side, then slid around the north edge of the city of 19,000. It cut a path about 20 feet wide for 2½ miles, damaging or destroying nearly 100 homes.

Victims identified at Waseca were Mr. and Mrs. John Ripple, George Willock and Mr. and Mrs. Art Rux. The Rux car was blown off a street and into Clear Lake. Mrs. Rux' body was recovered Sunday night from the lake. Rux was thrown from the car and died in a hospital.

Other victims were Mr. and Mrs. Merton Bickford of Albert Lea, who died when a tornado ripped into their daughter's home about a mile west of Owatonna — the northernmost report of a tornado touching down. Owatonna is about 50 miles south of Minneapolis.

The Bickfords were baby-sitting with their two grandchildren, who were hospitalized with injuries.

Killed near Freeborn was Harlan Holleschau of Shakopee, Minn., in his late 30s, who was visiting on his father's farm when a twister leveled the house and all outbuildings. Eight others in the farm home were injured and hospitalized at Wells, Minn.

Also killed were Hernan Nehring of Clarks Grove and Mrs. Michael Hessing, 27, of Alden — both tiny communities in the Albert Lea area. The Clarks Grove man was caught at a gravel pit where he did construction work.

At Albert Lea, nearly 150 residents of St. John's Home for the Elderly escaped injury although six windows were blown in and at least 10 rooms in the home had their walls pierced by tornado debris.

A spokesman for the home said it was a miracle the residents were not in the dining room lounge, where the six large glass windows shattered. They would have been

Increased Lake Levels Predicted

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The levels of Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron and Erie will rise from two to five inches during the next month, the army Corps of Engineers predicts.

The Corps said Lakes Michigan and Huron will rise three inches. They already are 11 inches above last month and four inches higher than the same period last year.

Lake Superior will rise five inches, the Corps said, after going up eight inches in the last month.

Some Diseased Kidneys Get Help, but Most Don't

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is examining critically its own costly and expanding role as life-giver to hundreds of Americans who would die without access to federally owned artificial kidneys, it was learned today.

A special advisory committee of 10 medical and social scientists is due to report shortly. The panel was named last July — but never announced — by the Budget Bureau in consultation with the Presidential Office of Science and Technology.

Policy Decisions
Its findings will help several agencies make policy decisions on whether to expand, diminish, or alter the government's status as chief owner-operator of the bulky, expensive hardware that lets chronic kidney disease patients go on living after their kidneys stop functioning.

Figures are not available on the current over-all costs of the kidney machine program, but estimates run well over $1 million monthly. One estimate on the cost of a progressively expanded program 10 years from now places the total at $1 billion yearly.

Heading the advisory committee is Dr. Carl W. Gottschalk of the University of North Carolina. He reports his group will submit its findings by July 1. Officials give no assurance that the report ever will be made public in full.

Involved are some difficult judgments in ethics and equity, and the underlying hard fact that thousands of kidney disease patients are dying every year who could be kept alive with artificial kidneys. The problems include:

—Whether survival should be subsidized for some kidney patients while others die. Veterans' hospitals and Public Health Service — PHS — centers own most of the existing machines, but not enough to meet more than a fraction of the national need.

Years to Come
—Whether survival should be should commit itself — and kidney disease patients for years to come — to this particular device, should pour funds into the promising technique of transplanting human or animal kidneys, or other devices.

—Whether the concentration on kidney disease is justifiable. Might the victims of other diseases also be kept alive by treatment, if some of the funds were diverted into other technologies?

—Whether local demonstration centers should be launched with only three-year PHS grants, as at present. If communities cannot support the centers when the money runs out, are the patients to be allowed to die?

Though the committee has tried to operate confidentially, word of its existence and activity has begun to circulate among medical men because it has held interviews and meetings across the country.

Blood Washing
Therefore officials of the Budget Bureau, Veterans Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare and other agencies agreed to discuss the problems — but not the proposed solution — with The Associated Press.

About 700 American men and women are being kept alive by the technique of dialysis — the "washing" of the blood in the bulky and complicated machine, called the artificial kidney.

The government pays most of the bill, officials said, simply because at this stage dialysis costs too much for most private institutions — in terms not only of money but of space, equipment, staff, and nursing, medical and supervisory manpower.

The patients can live almost normal lives, except for all-day or all-night stays in the hospital or clinic two or three times every week.

There the patient is hooked up to the dialysis equipment by tubes attached to blood-vessel connections embedded permanently in his arm. His blood is fed continuously into the apparatus and back through his body. The machine filters out the wastes which normally are removed by the kidneys — and which, when the kidneys fail, cause death.

Body of Slain Youth Found in Indiana Woods

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A South Bend policeman was held for questioning today after the body of a youth was found wrapped in a bloodsoaked blanket and covered with rocks in woods about four miles west of the city.

A 19-year-old girl said a man wearing a policeman's uniform took the youth from her car parked in a lover's lane early Sunday morning.

The victim was Roger Risner, 18, who lived just south of South Bend.

Police said David L. Dabros, 26, a policeman here since January 1964, was held for questioning.

The prosecutor's office planned to take the case before a grand jury today.

Shot Twice
Risner had a bullet wound in the head and one in the lower abdomen, a deputy coroner said.

Police said the girl, whom they did not identify, told them she was with Risner in a car parked in the lover's lane area. She said a man wearing a police uniform approached and told Risner he was investigating a burglary.

The girl said the man told Risner to come to his car. Police said the girl said she heard what sounded like three shots and she ran for help.

The girl was held as a material witness.

Police Report
Authorities said Dabros filed a report with police headquarters that he had apprehended a burglary suspect Sunday morning after the suspect had tried to run the officer's car off the road several times. Dabros' report said the suspect escaped later.

Dabros told police he suffered a gunshot wound in the right thigh during a scuffle with the suspect. Police said he was not wounded seriously.

Risner's body was found Sunday night by a youth who lives near the woods.

has 23 dialysis centers in operation or in process of being set up. The PHS has demonstration centers operating in 13 cities; each can care for 20 to 30 patients.

There are acknowledged pressures, inside and outside the government, for great expansion of this unique medical service. But even if unlimited funds were available a plan devised by any one of the agencies involved would not necessarily suit the others.

Reports have been heard in medical circles that the Gottschalk committee will urge a deliberately paced program to set up a chain of treatment centers, developed in many cases from the existing PHS demonstration centers.

Gottschalk said it "most certainly would be premature" to predict the committee's recommendations on that score, or to verify reports that the committee will emphasize reliance on private rather than federal financing of artificial kidney treatments.

"We hope for participation by all groups—federal, local, public and private," he said.

Huge Outlays
But officials agree that any major expansion of dialysis will involve huge additional outlays. The price has averaged $14,000 per machine, and the cost of hospital dialysis is estimated officially at $10,000 to $25,000 per patient per year.

There have been promising recent experiments with home dialysis and with much simpler, cheaper apparatus—some adapted from home washing machines. Home dialysis is not always possible, and the efficiency and reliability of the low-cost units remain to be proved.

The number of medically eligible cases developing each year has been estimated at from 5,000 to 90,000.

One official built an estimate of potential costs this way: Assume that 6,000 new hospital cases are added to the roster of patients annually, after allowing for a 10 per cent annual death rate among the patients. Assume that hospital costs continue to average about $17,500 a patient. Then, in about 10 years there would be some 60,000 patients under treatment, and the cost would touch $1 billion a year. Cheaper machines could reduce the outlays—but the cost trend would be steeply up if the number of medically eligible patients were doubled or tripled.

What Happens
The Budget Bureau is concerned about what happens to patients in the PHS demonstration centers when the time comes for the government to drop its demonstration grants. Only one center, the one in Seattle, Wash., has reached that stage. A $500,000 fund-raising campaign was required. "How many cities can raise that much money?" one official asks.

One concerned official summarized the problem this way: "Maybe we should be looking harder at alternative solutions to the problem of chronic kidney disease — human kidney transplants, or animal kidney transplants. Maybe we should devote more time and medical talent to teaching how to give treatment at home."

"The government cannot look at this in the same way that it might look for instance, at a program to teach people how to treat tuberculosis."

"This is different. It never cures. It just goes on forever."

World 'Too Tall, Too High' For Miniature Three-Year-Old

By RANDY COLLIER
WINSLOW, Ariz. (AP) — For Dianne Proctor, the world around her is giant — too tall to reach and too high to climb.
Dianne is 3, but she weighs more than an ordinary 2-month-old child. There's little hope her 26-inch frame will grow any taller.
Dianne's story would be sad if it weren't for her happiness. Despite her handicap — she's still a lucky little girl. Abandoned by her mother — she's lived most of her life with her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. David F. Proctor.

Little Hope
At birth, she weighed a little over two pounds. In less than a week she dropped to one pound, 13 ounces, and doctors in this small town offered little hope she would live.

Weeks in an incubator turned into months, and when she was a year old, she tipped the scale at 7 pounds, 14 ounces. She now weighs 10 pounds, 4 ounces.
Her first two years involved a little more than going from doctor to doctor, about 24 in all. Her first major ailment was a kidney infection. Then came the flu and a number of colds.

"Every doctor gave a different diagnosis. It wasn't until she was two-years-old that we found out exactly what was wrong with her," Mrs. Proctor said.
"We had taken her to Albuquerque to be examined when we met Dr. Charles Wolf. A short time later he moved to the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit."

for the year will be a continued analysis of Appleton city government with emphasis on budget and financing practices of both city and school systems.
Delegates to the state convention will include Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Harold Severson, Mrs. David Halloran and Mrs. Johnson.
Committee members for the dinner meeting were Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jerold Winzenz, Mrs. John Stephan and Mrs. Mark Hanson.

and asked that we bring Dianne there," she added.
In Detroit, Wolf, by examining Dianne's blood, learned there was an odd-shaped chromosome in her blood cells.
He said that all but one of the chromosomes in her blood cells were straight, or normal. But, he said, one was round-shaped. As with other cases of strange genetic circumstance, there is not much to do.

The fate of Dianne is still a mystery. Wolf said the answer lies solely in Dianne since the deformity is so rare.
When he examined her in Detroit last June he took away the many medicines she was taking, saying, "I think we should enjoy her for the way she is for the time being."

Dianne will be examined again this June. The doctor has told the Proctors he doesn't think the examination will be much of a help to the tiny girl, but he says he wants to see if the round chromosome is still the same.

Active Child
Meanwhile the Proctors are treating Dianne as normally as possible. By doing this, Mrs. Proctor says the child has begun acting more like a normal, active child.
"She didn't walk until she was nearly two. I think that was because we had a tendency to carry her all the time because of her baby size."
"We seemed to keep her more to herself, because of her problem. We were afraid to let her play with other children because of her size."
"Then we were told we should expose her to other children and let her do more or less as she pleased. It wasn't long before she was walking and playing just like any other child her age," her mother said.

Accustomed to Stares
Mrs. Proctor said she has gotten used to the stares her little girl receives anywhere she goes. "At first it bothered me, but then I realized people were interested."

"Other mothers would ask me exactly what was wrong with Dianne, and after we found out — I told them. The people we know in Winslow, are pulling for her, just as much as we are."
She said the only real worry is that other children can't believe Dianne is more than a little baby. "They all want to pick her up, and that can be dangerous, since she bruises very easily."

Wardrobe No Problem
Buying clothes for Dianne isn't as much of a problem as it might seem. She wears a size 1 baby shoe, and her dresses are usually made from a size 26 doll pattern. In a rush, she can wear a cut down size 6-month baby dress.

Mrs. Proctor knew she was asking for a lot of hard work when she adopted Dianne, and her older sister Rebecca. But she said there was no one else to take care of them.
"It's been an expensive but rewarding challenge," she said. "Every step my little girl takes is another reward."

Sheinwold West Coast Weiss Stars On Defense

Larry Weiss is a Boston attorney and a Los Angeles insurance broker. If the statement confuses you, think of what happens when a Larry Weiss wins a bridge tournament or wises up the bridge community with a letter to a bridge magazine. This sort of thing happens often, because both gentlemen are among the best bridge players in the United States. The Westerner showed his skill recently with the fine defensive play described today.

West opened the ace of spades, and the Los Angeles Weiss played the queen of spades from the East hand. This could hardly be a request to continue spades because no particular good could come of leading a spade to dummy's king and also because East could have requested a spade continuation (if he wanted it) with some less flamboyant play, such as the nine or eight of spades.
West recognized the play of the queen of spades for what it was: a suit preference signal. This is a way of telling your partner to switch, but to prefer one suit to the others. The choice is between the two non-trump suits, and the high spade calls for a lead of the higher suit; diamonds rather than clubs.

Obeys Signal
West obediently shifted to a diamond. Weiss won with the ace of diamonds and returned his low diamond to the king. West continued a fine defense by leading a third diamond, and Weiss came through with an "uppercut." That is, Weiss ruffed the third round of diamonds with the king of hearts.

Since declarer had already lost the first three tricks he had to overruff with the ace of hearts. Now he could draw two rounds of trumps with the queen and jack, but had to give up the setting trick to West's ten of hearts.
If left to his own devices at the first trick, West might have led a second spade. Declarer would win in dummy and capture all of the trumps with the aid of a finesse. Then he would run the clubs, taking twelve tricks instead of nine.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one club and the next player bids one spade. You hold: S-A-J-4, H-10-7-2, D-K-J-8-7-5, C-10-3. What do you say?
Answer: Bid one notrump. This shows about 9 or 10 points in high cards (perhaps even a "good" 8 or a "bad" 11 points), balanced distribution and at least one stopper in the opponent's suit. The hand is not good enough for a response of two diamonds but is much too strong for a pass.

Variety of Items Attracts at Good Neighbor Fair

Monday, May 1, 1967 The Post-Crescent A 14

as she eats cotton candy, Sue Pritzl, looks over a decorated bottle display. Below, Mrs. D. A. Judd, Neenah, picks up an item from a miscellaneous booth. Edward Benedict waits on her.

Almost every sort of booth imaginable was set up along the mall Saturday at Valley Fair Shopping Center, as more than 60 church and civic groups from the area participated in the 15th Good Neighbor Fair. The area had a carnival atmosphere as families and individuals shopped for rummage items, decided over appealing displays of home baked cakes, cookies, breads and candies, examined handiwork such as aprons, rugs and decorated bottles, and spent some time looking over the numerous novelties groups offered for sale.

The Good Neighbor Fair is held twice a year, in spring and fall. Groups take advantage of the opportunity to offer to the public items of interest, and, at the same time, add to their own treasures.

Joseph Trudell and Glenn Kvale of the Merchants Association at Valley Fair, were chairmen of the event.

Good Things to Eat were available either for eating right on the premises or for the dinner table at home. Above, Mrs. Trubert Andrews, Stockbridge,

Grace Circle Plans May Rummage Sale

KAUKAUNA — The Grace Circle of The King's Daughters completed plans for a rummage sale when the group met April 24 at the home of Mrs. Walter Wehmuller. Mrs. Eugene Vandenberg and Mrs. Kenneth Pawlak assisted.

The rummage sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 19 at 101 W. Wisconsin Ave. Mrs. David Grunwaldt will be general chairman. Knick-knacks and clothing for infants, children and adults will be available.

Winners of the April 6 bridge marathon were announced. They are Donald Jensen, Lloyd Vercauteren and George E. Greenwood. Proceeds will be used for summer campships to Camp Wawbeek, Wisconsin Dells.

Mrs. Joseph Steger Jr. reported that a high chair was presented to the pediatric ward at Kaukauna Community Hospital. A fund for the needs of special students at Kaukauna schools will be continued.

The group will meet May 2 at the home of Mrs. Irving Curry. Co-hostess will be Mrs. Jerome Kroll.

Firemen's Wives Plan Sale of Used Clothing

A year ago the Appleton Firemen's Auxiliary undertook a project of collecting used clothing and furniture for families who suffered extensive fire losses. Now the collection has reached proportions where the group is finding it difficult to keep orderly, clean and updated.

Because the clothing was given for a specific purpose, the women have decided to sell the items at a Tuesday rummage sale, with all receipts to be deposited in a Fire Assistance Fund, to purchase specific needed articles for fire victims. When clothing is needed the Auxiliary will ask for donations in sizes required by the particular family.

The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Valley Fair Shopping Center.

Your Problems Uncle's Altered Will Contains Request for Unusual Funeral

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: My great uncle is 84 years old. Up until last year he was in very good health. Recently his health has been failing. Last week uncle told us he plans to revise his will. We were shocked at what he wants in it. Uncle insists on having a Viking funeral. I did not know what a Viking funeral was until he explained it. The dead person is put into a boat, the boat is set afire and shoved out to the sea. Uncle explained that this would not be against the law as the piece of property he owns has a lake on it. The lake could be used instead of the sea. According to uncle, the authorities have no say about what happens on private property. I think this is a rather romantic way to go. The rest of the family is appalled. Do you feel we should let uncle have his wish? — Spokesman for the Relatives

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I agree completely with your praise of individuals who are married to wheelchair invalids. Now may I add a word of praise to those who are married to another kind of cripple, the cripple whose incapacitation of ten cannot be seen, for it is emotional instead of physical.

The unsung heroes and heroines in my book are those who are married to life's losers — the severe neurotics, the alcoholics, the hypochondriacs, the born failures, the weak sisters.

What strength and dignity is required to hold up one's head, and make no apologies for a stumbling mate. I have seen such people and my heart goes out to them. One cannot say, "You are noble. You are brave."

I admire you." One can only write a letter to Ann Landers and hope the right people see it. Thank you for allowing me to speak my mind. — No Bargain Myself

DEAR BARGAIN: I agree with every word you say. It's your signature I don't buy. Insight such as yours makes you a very big bargain, indeed. Thanks for writing. I hope, with you, that the right people see your letter and take heart.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Whenever a fellow brings me home from a date and I sit in his car for more than 20 minutes my mom flashes the porch light off and on continuously until I come into the house.

She should be happy we are out in front, instead of parked on some lonely road. She should also be happy that nine-tenths of that time we are only talking.

I feel that a high school senior should not have to be signaled into the house by her mother. It is very embarrassing to be treated like a small child. Help me, please. — Sick O' Blinkin'

DEAR BLINKIN': Since one-tenth of 20 minutes is only two minutes, I suggest that you get that part over with immediately, then bring the fellow into the house.

I am in favor of girls bringing their fellows home for a little visiting after a date. They should be given complete privacy, but a light should be burning, four feet should be on the floor at all times and all hands should be on deck.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1967)

French-American Relations at Lowest Point in 100 Years

Political Disagreements Include Vietnam, NATO, Nuclear Arms

PARIS (AP) — Figures on trade notwithstanding, U.S. officials admit privately that French-American relations are in their worst shape in a century. There are no immediate prospects for improvement.

The list of political disagreements includes Vietnam, the Atlantic alliance, nuclear weapons control, gold purchases, U.S. business investments and international monetary reform.

Though superficially unrelated, these disputes spring from a common cause: a fundamental conflict over the American role in the world and French determination to alter it.

Aggravating the policy disputes, U.S. officials feel, is a systematic propaganda offensive led by President Charles de Gaulle. His most dramatic contributions have been his denunciations of U.S. intervention in Vietnam and his call for unilateral American withdrawal.

On one of these occasions, in Cambodia last Sept. 1, De Gaulle said he could speak out on Vietnam "because of the two centuries-old friendship France bears for America."

Attack on U. S. Yet, one high-ranking French official holds to the view that the general welcomes the opportunity the war gives him — to attack U.S. prestige where it is vulnerable.

Though Vietnam is the greatest irritant, it is by no means the only one, as evidenced by Cultural Minister Andre Malraux's frequent imprecations against the "Americanization" of French life.

Broadcasts help orchestrate the government's campaign. U.S. officials say. Some broadcasts prompted U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen to lodge a formal protest with the Foreign Ministry after several informal complaints to the Ministry of Information, which controls the networks.

Emmanuel D'Astier de la Vigerie, a regular TV commentator, last Aug. 2 recommended that North Vietnam capture U.S. fliers in "sensitive places, such as near factories, villages and dikes" to prevent U.S. bombing of them. Commenting on Hanoi's decision to call off proposed "war crimes trials" for captured pilots, he said Ho Chi Minh had made "a very noble peace gesture."

Bohlen told the Foreign Ministry that the commentator's remarks, when not accompanied by a statement disassociating the French government from Mr. D'Astier's opinions, can be too easily interpreted by listeners as reflecting the view of the French government.

Tourists Stay Away American tourists are spending less time in France, but probably because of high prices and the availability of better bargains elsewhere in Europe.

As for trade, French exports to the United States totaled $651.6 million last year, an increase of 11.4 per cent over 1965, while imports of U.S. goods rose 10.3 per cent to $1.183 billion.

The Foreign Trade Ministry predicted in it March bulletin that this trade would continue to grow if "the climate of Franco-American relations does not deteriorate still further."

"There's no question about it, this 200-year old French reservoir of sentiment and good will for the United States is drying up," lamented one American official.

To be sure, only a minority of the population, grouped around the large, active French Communist party, is sufficiently aroused to write, "U.S. go home" on building walls, and to take part in the kind of egg-throwing, flag-burning demonstration which greeted vice president Hubert Humphrey.

U.S. officials believe anti-American sentiment harbored by much of the rest of the population is more subtle, incorporating stereotypes about America as a racist, corrupt, brutal, badly educated, money-worshipping, self-serving nation.

Though personal contacts between Americans and Frenchmen are generally friendly, attitudes at the government level sometimes have affected even these.

'Anti-American' Andre Francois-Poncet, a former diplomat and a voice of moderation in French thinking about America, says, "One cannot deny that Gen. De Gaulle practices a policy of systematic anti-Americanism."

But Francois-Poncet places some of the responsibility for the success of this policy at U.S. doors: "American propaganda is nil, it just leaves the way open for severe judgments about the United States."

What are the causes of this anti-American sentiment? At the government level — that is, at De Gaulle's level — there seem to be three.

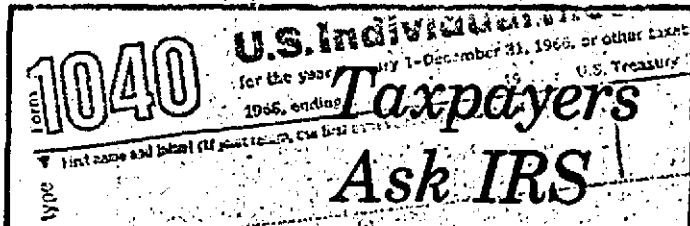

The president's passion for re-establishing French independence, influence and prestige in the world.

De Gaulle's desire to recreate French self-respect, shattered after the German humiliation and those in Indochina and Algeria. He uses chauvinism as cement for a population divided for a generation. He seeks to relieve the French people of a sense of obligation for U.S. intervention in two world wars and for the billions of dollars of Marshall Plan aid.

Least important, De Gaulle's resentment of America for the slights, real or imagined, he suffered at the hands of President Franklin D. Roosevelt when the general was the exiled leader of free France during World War II.

The American government reaction to De Gaulle so far has been one of restraint, but Ambassador Bohlen has on several occasions cautioned French officials about arousing American public opinion.

The best available information is that he is trying to smooth things over, with the feeling that strong anti-French sentiment in the United States could hinder the U.S. government from reconciling with France either if De Gaulle changes his tune or a subsequent government seeks to restore traditional cooperation.

French-American relations have had troubled periods before, but not since Emperor Louis Napoleon tried to set up a French puppet state in Mexico have the two powers seemed at such cross-purposes on so many fundamental issues.

Q — I just realized I forgot to put my W-2 in with my return. What should I do?

A — Please keep it until you are asked by IRS to supply copy B of the W-2 and any other information needed to process your return.

Q — I am being transferred to another city by my firm. What should I do if my refund hasn't arrived by the time we move?

A — File a change of address card with your postmaster when you move.

Also notify the IRS district office serving you at your present and former address of the move. Be sure to include both your new and old address and your Social Security Number to identify your return.

Q — I made a mistake on my return and paid more than I should. When I correct this on an amended return should I send you a check for the right amount and stop payment on the first check?

A — No, do not send a new check or stop payment on the first check. If your amended return is accurate, you will receive a check for the difference between what you paid on the first return and the correct balance due.

Q — My refund arrived but it was lower than I asked for. Why was that?

A — Perhaps you made a mathematical error of some sort. When a refund is different from the amount claimed, the taxpayer receives an explanation either with the check or separately. Please examine any form you received with your check. The information may be there or may be sent a little later. If necessary write your district director. Include your Social Security number and the same name and address used on your tax return.

Q — Finding the records needed to fill out a return was the hardest part of the job this year. What could you suggest to make this easier?

The Post-Crescent A 16

A — The most important thing is to be sure that you keep your questions. This may be good records to start with. If you don't pay by check, always get a paid bill receipt as a record of your payment. Keeping all your tax records in the same place will also be helpful. File folders or envelopes can be used to keep cancelled checks, paid bills, interest and dividend statements, and other tax records. It will also be easier when filing time comes if your records are separated into categories such as medical, contributions, etc.

Q — I just went into business for myself. Where can I get information on the taxes my business may have to pay?

A — The TAX GUIDE FOR SMALL BUSINESS, Publication No. 334, should answer many of your questions. This may be obtained by sending an order with a check or money order for $50 cents to your IRS district director's office or the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

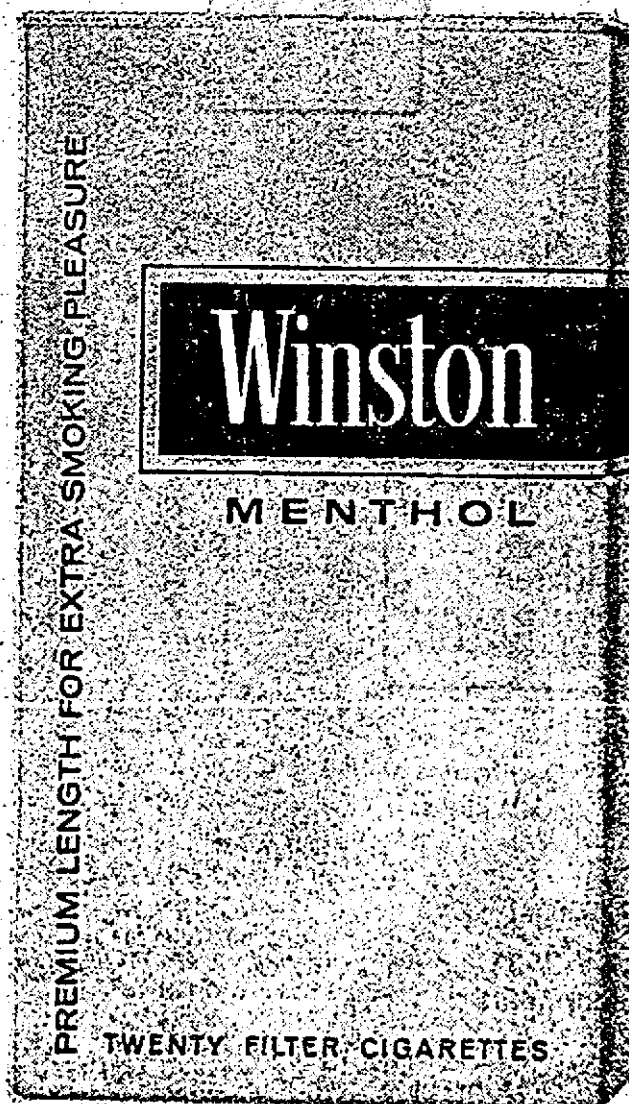

The Small Business Administration also provides information on various subjects and they may be able to help you, too.

Q — I leave the yearly dividends from my G. I. insurance on deposit with the government. Is the interest on them taxable?

A — Yes, interest earned on veterans insurance dividends is taxable. However, the dividends are not taxable.

Price Sought For Ball Park

Miller Electric Firm
Goodland Site Cost

The City of Appleton was asked by a local industry today to put an asking price on the Goodland Field property. Miller Electric Manufacturing Co. recently informed the city it was interested in obtaining the 8-acre site for future industrial expansion. In a letter to the mayor and common council, F. J. Herres, secretary-treasurer of Miller, said: "Having expressed our interest in the property comprising Goodland Field, as per our letter of April 5, we feel that it is now up to the city to extend their offer to us on what we expect to receive for this piece of property." He asked for the matter to be dealt with soon. Should the city decide to sell the field, it would also make arrangements to construct a new sports complex, according to aldermen who have been close to the subject.

Patrolman William Wolff uses the Appleton Police Department's new three-wheel "Westcoaster" for marking tires in the city's timed parking areas. Appleton police officials are replacing motorcycles with four of the small, white cars measuring nine feet long and five feet wide. A 16.5-horsepower, two cylinder gasoline engine drives the machine. The four $2,200 vehicles will be used year round for parking, downtown traffic and "beat" work. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Outagamie Lags Off Pace In New Industry Additions

State Report Shows County
Gained One Firm in Past 5 Years

Outagamie County trailed far behind most of the other counties in the state in getting new industries during the period 1962 through 1966, according to the State Division of Economic Development. Appleton, the largest municipality in the county, has the dubious distinction of not getting a new major industry to locate here in over a quarter of a century. Release Report However, in the county and city, there has been considerable expansion of existing industries, which has added to the countywide tax base. The state report, released in the division's monthly newsletter, lists Outagamie County as getting one new industry during the five-year period. Outagamie is in the same class with Bayfield, Vilas, Florence, Dunn, Menominee, Kewaunee and Buffalo counties, which also claimed one new industry. The Outagamie County record does not follow the regional pattern, however, according to the statistics. Fond du Lac County reported 12 new industries and Winnebago County landed 10. Elsewhere in the region the totals were: Sheboygan County, 5; Calumet, 4; Manitowoc, 2; Brown, 2; Shawano, 2; Waupaca, 6; Oconto, 7; Marinette, 14; Waushara, 5. Southeast Leads The heaviest concentration of new industries was in heavily industrialized Southeastern Wisconsin, including Milwaukee, Waukesha, Ozaukee, Walworth, Dane, Rock, Racine and Kenosha counties. In the business upswing between 1962 and through 1966, Wisconsin counties reported 466 new manufacturing plants. Broken down they were: Newly organized companies, 220; branch plants with out-of-state headquarters, 66; branch plants with in-state headquarters, 68; plants relocated from other states, 20; plants relocated within Wisconsin, 92. Some of the counties that gained few plants during the period had impressive growth of existing factories," the report said. Labor Available "Of special interest is the fact that predominantly rural or forest counties were able to attract new plants. In many cases this was the result of labor availability in a period of tight labor markets in the larger counties. It reflects also the successful efforts of local development organizations to attract new industries," the report concluded. Recently, an Outagamie County Industrial Development Corp. was formed to put more emphasis on attracting new plants and helping existing firms expand. Outagamie County is one of the counties where there is a skilled labor shortage, a factor which has entered into the picture.

Post-Crescent Honored By Heart Association

Given Media Award at Madison Saturday
For Cooperation in Fight Against Disease

MILWAUKEE — The Post-Crescent was honored Saturday by the Wisconsin Heart Association "for outstanding cooperation in the fight against heart disease." It was the second consecutive year that the newspaper had been presented with a media award by the association. Making the presentation at the 19th annual meeting of the Heart Association was Dr. Hugh J. McLane, Fond du Lac, retiring president. In announcing the award, Dr. McLane said The Post-Crescent was being recognized "for an outstanding issue of its Sunday supplement section VIEW Magazine, describing Heart Association research in hypertension and the installation of a homo-graft valve." Accepting the award in behalf of The Post-Crescent was James Auer, Sunday editor. Feature Articles Feature articles for which the newspaper was honored were written by Mrs. Bruce Andrews, 124 E. Frances St., Appleton, a Post-Crescent correspondent, and by Auer. A third heart-related story, written by Doug Koplein, of The Post-Crescent staff, and published in the same issue of VIEW magazine, is reprinted in the May-June, 1967, issue of Badger Heart, published by the Wisconsin Heart Association. It relates the struggle of Kenneth Betz, Fond du Lac county's in-tertainment commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, salutes as the Appleton VFW color guard passes the reviewing stand. For young Dan Burns Jr., parades

Construction Halt Looms in Wake of Operators' Strike

Some Large Equipment Handlers
Already Off Jobs in Appleton; College Avenue Work Continues

A shutdown of some major construction jobs in the Fox Cities region, and elsewhere in the state, loomed today in the wake of a strike by the 3,600-member Operating Engineers' Union. Members of Local 139, which includes all of Wisconsin, struck the Associated General Contractors Association this morning after 1967 contract talks broke off at Madison shortly after 4:30 a.m. Members of the union operate cranes, bulldozers and other heavy equipment on large construction jobs. Walk Off The impact of the dispute — centering around money and work issues — was felt in Appleton shortly after 9 a.m. when equipment operators for Bahr Construction Co. walked off sewer construction jobsites on College Avenue. It was learned that members of a contractor's crew hired by the gas company to do underground work on the avenue also left their jobs. However, Lee Parker, a union representative in this area, said the strike would not affect the Vinton Construction Co. of Manitowoc, the general contractor for the College Avenue reconstruction. Vinton crews were working as usual and making preparations to pour the first stretches of new sidewalk at the west end of the College Avenue project. "There is every possibility the Bahr crews will be back at work by this afternoon," Parker predicted. "We are in the process of working out an agreement."

Parker said he was waiting for a statement from the union's headquarters at Milwaukee but had not received it as of noon. A check of the region disclosed some projects may be halted if the strike should be of any duration. First report was that work on the new Appleton High School-East and Lawrence College buildings would not be affected. However, there was a question as to whether construction of a new $5.2 million addition to Theda Clark Hospital at Neenah would get underway today as scheduled. Among the major Appleton-based contractors affected by the strike were Boldt Construction Co. and Hoffman Construction Co., the union spokesman said.

Affects Valley More than 300 union members in the Fox Cities region will be idled by the strike. At Janesville, Mike Fitzsimons, the local's business agent for the Rock County area, said members in the Madison, Eau Claire and Appleton areas were on a strike which could spread across the state. He said the Milwaukee area was not affected as a settlement had been reached. With respect to those areas hit by the strike, Fitzsimons said they would be picketed on a "selected basis."

Police Place Topsy Girl in Mother's Care

A 14-year-old northside girl, brought to the Appleton Police Department in a drunken state Saturday night, has been referred to juvenile authorities. Police said a deputy brought the girl to the station from a dance about 9 p.m. The deputy told police the girl had fallen down a flight of stairs while entering the school where the dance was being held. The girl, who later was released to her mother, was placed on a stretcher in the police department garage. Police said she became ill after she was brought to the station. Police were unable to question the teen-ager to any extent.

Culminates 'Loyalty Day' Activities

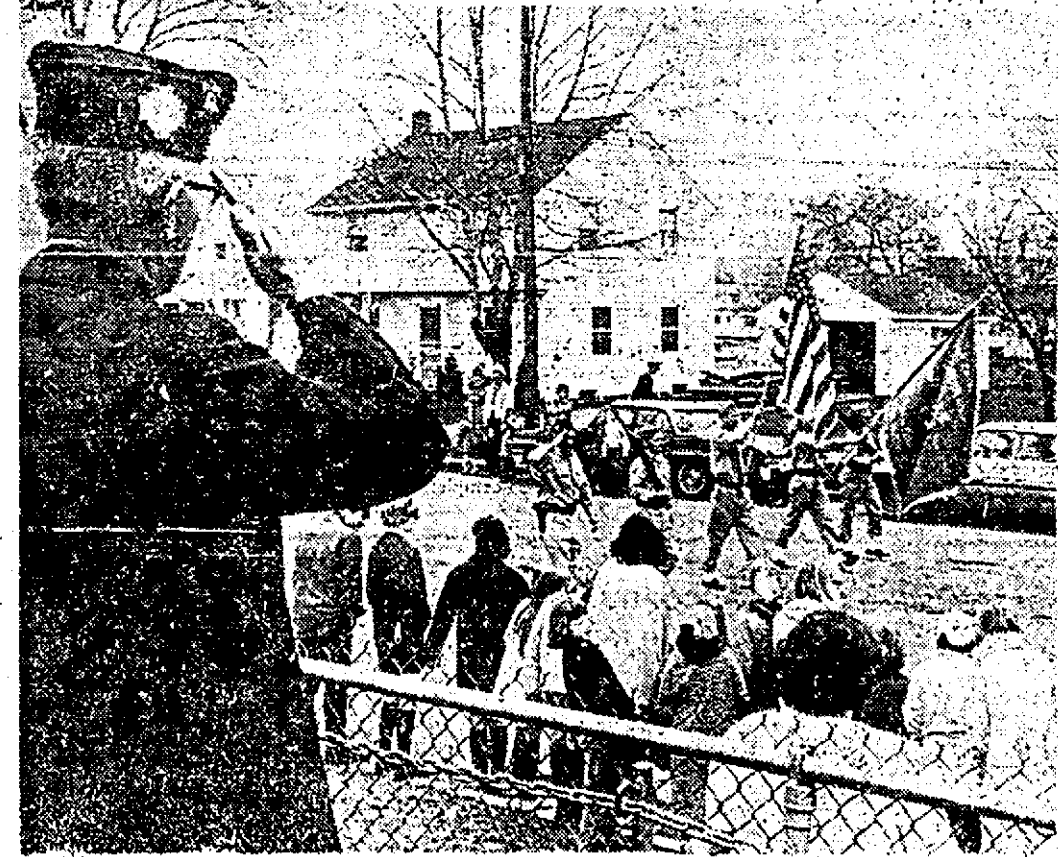

10,000 Watch Parade Despite Foul Weather

A crowd estimated at 10,000 braved the brisk April wind Sunday to watch the drum corps, drill teams, bands, and color guards march in the hour-long Veterans of Foreign Wars Loyalty Day parade. Top places in the drum corps judging went to the Zephyrs, Wisconsin Rapids, sponsored by VFW Post 2534; Americanos, Appleton Post 33, and Sons of the American Legion, Two Rivers, sponsored by VFW Post 1243. AHS—West Ties Premontre ROTC, Green Bay, and the Buccaneers of Sheboygan captured the two top places in the Class A drill team category and the Buckley-Baldwin Auxiliary, Wisconsin Rapids, Post 2534, and the Rockettes of Elcho, led the Class B drill team category. First place for rifle squad demonstrations went to the Mishicot Firing Squad, VFW Post 7753. Howard-Suamico High School and Adam-Friendship High School, were awarded first and second place, respectively, for performing bands while Premontre ROTC and Appleton High School-West tied for third place. Top places in the color guard category went to Buckley-Baldwin; Gold Star Eleven, Post 1248, Two Rivers; and Premontre ROTC. A short ceremony preceded the parade with a prayer and the National Anthem played by the Appleton City Band. Participating were the VFW officers, city officials; Gold Star Mothers, WWI veterans and the sisters of St. Therese, St. Pius and St. Thomas More churches. Paul Volpe, VFW Post 2778, Appleton, was parade chairman. Parade judges included Arthur McCallum, Racine; Victor L. Stolze, Wausau, and Ralph O. Heese, Milwaukee. In keeping with the spirit of Loyalty Day, a call to combat Communism, on what is known as International Communist Day, May 1, was extended Saturday at a Loyalty Day Dinner by Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein, Moses Montefiore Congregation. "Let us show our American way of life; let us show freedom when tyranny is on display and let the world see our United States instead of the splinter groups pulling on all directions to weaken us," the rabbi said. Rabbi Silverstein said that from a practical point of view, Communism has one great flaw—it just does not work. Rapidly Changing "Ask the Soviets" he said. "They are rapidly changing their economy to a capitalistic system. They see that capitalism has given us the highest standard of living in the world and are emulating us." Ideology, he added, is a fine thing, if we realize that it cannot work. And it is unfortunate that some of our young people are swayed by ideology which promises so many things, he said. "To a young idealist the feeling is it should work and he therefore pursues this program by picketing our institutions, going on strikes, even actively joining organizations not in the best interests of our nation. The result at times borders on disaster," Rabbi Silverstein said. They forget that our nation now has a challenge to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, he added. Through our support of and loyalty we can show the world that freedom works and those who defended it with their lives did not die in vain, he concluded.

Skies Were Sullen Sunday and rain splashed down intermittently, but Appleton's Loyalty Day marchers never broke stride. At left, Conrad Orth, Colby, de-

Hospital Job Slated for 1969 Completion

$5 Million Expansion Gets Underway at Theda Clark Hospital

NEENAH — Contracts for the $5.25 million addition to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital have been awarded and work is to begin immediately, according to John R. Kimberly, chairman of the board of trustees of the hospital.

Completion of the project has been moved up one year from previous estimates and the addition is now slated to be ready for use in 1969.

This is the second advancement in schedule in the hospital's master growth plan. Originally this addition had been slated for completion in 1975. Then, last summer, it was announced for completion in 1970.

Work Started Today
Relocation of sewers which run under the existing buildings started today and a formal groundbreaking for the addition will be held next week.

First work will be the razing of the former nurses' home on Second Street. Homes along Third Street also are being acquired and will be razed during the summer. Other preliminary work includes relocation of sewer lines at the rear and southeast area of the existing hospital grounds.

General contractor for the six-story, basement and penthouse wing is Hutter Construction Co. of Fond du Lac. Other contracts awarded were August Winter and Sons, Appleton, heating and ventilating; J. F. Ahern Co., Fond du Lac, plumbing; Superior Electric, Appleton, electrical; Otis Elevator Co., Milwaukee, elevators; Lamson Division of Diebold, Inc., Maywood, Ill., pneumatic tube system; and Maysteel Products Corp., Mayville, hospital and laboratory casework.

Knowles Speaks at Opening of Addition To Winnebago State

WINNEBAGO — Gov. Warren P. Knowles pointed with pride Sunday to the type of care the people of Wisconsin have demanded through the years for its citizens with mental illness.

"The mental health of our citizens is a problem which the entire state has faced as a single community," he told more than 300 persons at the dedication of Sherman Hall, the new $2.5 million treatment building at Winnebago State Hospital.

"Wisconsin is a pioneer today in retaining patients in their home communities, through broadening our range of response to mental illness," he said. "Active, early help is now made accessible to an estimated 80 per cent of our population through local community mental health centers."

"With additional state financing, eight of our county mental hospitals have strengthened their programs to qualify as acute institutions providing local level intensive care to over 40 per cent of the state's population," the governor said.

"Our state institutions are a part of a unified mental hospital system."

"Beyond that," Knowles continued, "They are part of a much larger mental health system, providing for early identification and diagnosis of mental and emotional illness, readily available early counseling for the patient and aftercare program to assure his successful return to normal, productive living."

Open House Planned by CAP Unit

Officers of the Fox Cities Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP) are planning an open house at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Wilson Junior High School.

Awards for achievement will be presented, summer plans disclosed and applications for CAP cadet summer encampment will be completed. A movie and discussion period about the CAP program also are planned.

Applications for the encampment must be completed Tuesday night so parents are encouraged to attend.

Members of the squadron at their last meeting viewed a WLUX-TV telecast, "War in the Sky," which told of the operations section during an actual search for a downed Air Force pilot. August Becker, service manager of the Independent Electronic Service, Menasha, was in charge of the program.

Lawrence Science Lectures On Antarctica, Sharks

Two lectures on science subjects are scheduled Tuesday at Lawrence University.

Menasha Will Consider New Plan Setup

Replacing Fox Valley Group With Elected Officials Suggested

MENASHA — The proposal to transfer the reins of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission to the hands of elected government officials is due for common council discussion tonight, according to Mayor Kenneth Holmes.

Holmes, who represented the city at the FVRPC annual meeting at the Menasha Hotel last week, said this morning he planned to turn the matter over to a council committee or the board of public works.

The measure as recommended by elective officials and private citizens who guide the FVRPC under the present arrangement, would eliminate the citizen representation and form instead a Fox Valley Council of Governments on which the elected mayors, presidents and chairmen of the 12 member communities would sit.

First Council Action
Each of the 12 communities' governing bodies must act on the proposal, and Menasha is among the first to meet since the commission's annual meeting last Friday.

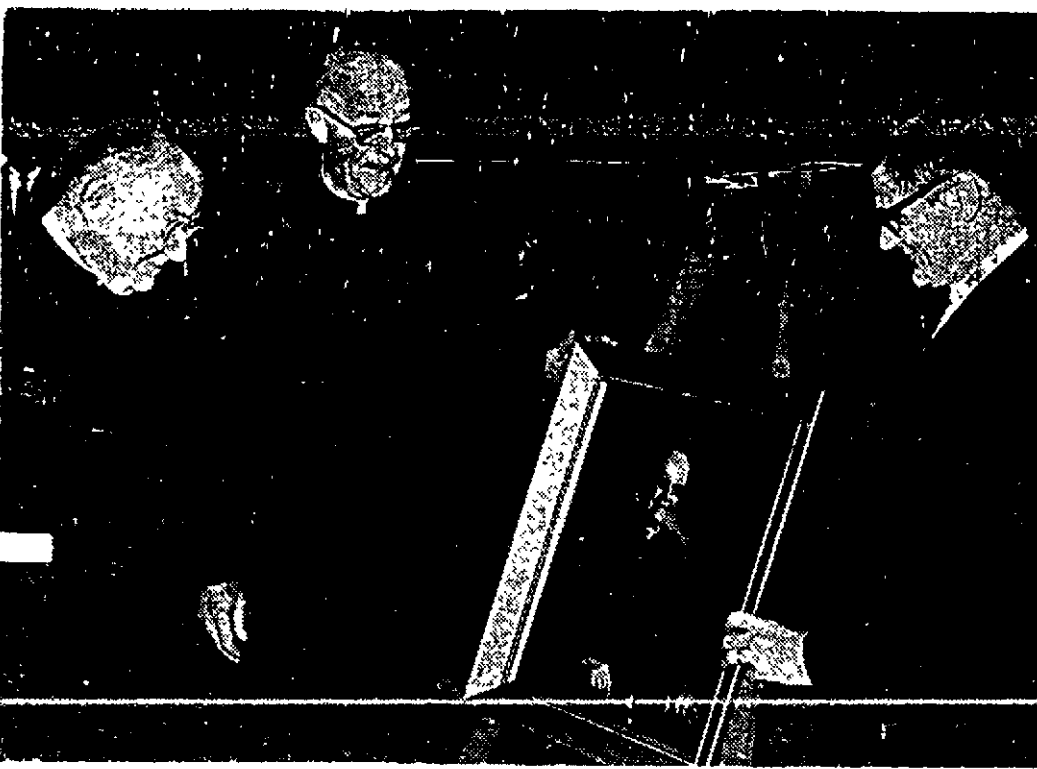

Approval is needed only from a majority of the communities, although officials have expressed the hope they would accept it unanimously. Besides Menasha, communities in the planning region include Neenah, Appleton, Kaukauna, the villages of Combined Locks, Kimberly and Little Chute, and Towns of Buchanan, Grand Chute, Harrison, Menasha and Neenah.

War on the United States?

The Mouse Roars at Winneconne

OSHKOSH — Like "The Mouse that Roared," the Village of Winneconne is considering declaring war on the United States. At least that's what the winning suggestion was in a contest to get Winneconne back on the Wisconsin highway map.

Miss Janice Badtke, formerly of Neenah, and Miss Kay H. Klipstein, formerly of Fond du Lac, now both living in Washington, D.C., suggested that "Winneconne secede from and declare war on the United States" to get state officials to put the village back on the map.

For their suggestion, the two girls will receive an expense paid weekend in Winneconne as guests of the chamber of commerce.

About 1,000 ideas were submitted in a nation-wide contest sponsored by the chamber of commerce after Winneconne was left off the 1967 Wisconsin State Highway maps.

After entries were narrowed down to about 10, Gov. Warren Knowles, whose picture appears on the official state map, selected the winning suggestion Sunday in Oshkosh.

Among the other suggestions offered in the contest was topless go-go girls for the a car driven by her husband, which was eastbound on Commercial when, police said, it struck the northbound Curtis village, who would measure about 46 inches.

Another urged the election — California-style — of a movie star as village president. The village president, James Coughlin, was reported less than enthusiastic about the idea.

Public burning of the state highway maps for 1967 was also offered. But the idea for an independent Winneconne won out.

Fish Find Way
Vera Kitchen, president of the Winneconne Chamber of Commerce, reported that while fishermen might have a harder time finding the famous angler's resort, the "fish have been able to find their way to Winneconne without a map."

The question that immediately arose, and is still unsettled is whether fisherman who do not find their way to the fish in the Republic of Winneconne will need a passport in addition to a fishing license.

Will they even need a State of Wisconsin fishing license?

To Act on Area Problems

Discussion Asked on Valley Chamber Unit

NEENAH — A meeting has been called to discuss a tri-county Chamber of Commerce "coordinating committee" to act on problems facing the Fox Valley region.

Representatives from Chambers and businessmen's groups from 16 communities have been invited to a noon meeting on May 10 at Nino's Restaurant.

The communities involved are Appleton, Brillion, Chilton, Hortonville, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute, New London, Omro, Oshkosh, Seymour, Sherwood, Shiocton, Stockbridge and Winneconne, in addition to the sponsoring Neenah-Menasha chamber.

John Konrad, executive secretary of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, said there are many problems facing the area which could be met better by coordinated efforts rather than the individual groups working alone.

This is also true, he said, of state legislative matters affecting this area where a united front would have more effect than the individual Chambers.

The executive head, president and another officer from each group have been asked to attend the meeting.

Bergstrom Named to Bank Board

NEENAH — J. Russell Ward, Chairman of the Board of the Neenah West National Bank, announced today the election of D. W. Bergstrom to the board of directors of Neenah's new bank.

Bergstrom is executive vice president of the Bergstrom Paper Company and has been a director since 1950. Other business activities include being a director of the Twin-City Savings and Loan Association since 1951 and the executive vice president since 1965.

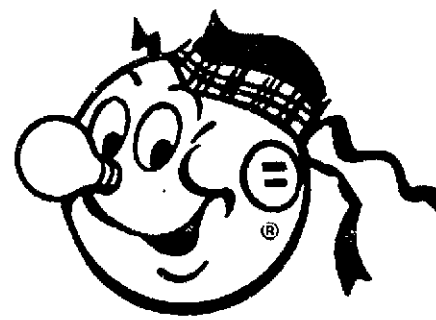

D. W. Bergstrom is an executive reserve member of the U.S.A. Business and Defense Service Administration. Bergstrom served in World War II from 1942 until 1945, being discharged with rank of Major.

Bergstrom's community activities include: director of the Boy's Brigade Association, vice president of the executive board of the Valley Council Boy Scouts of America, and corporate division chairman of the Community Chest Campaign of Neenah-Menasha.

Drive Chairman Picked

NEENAH - MENASHA — Ambrose Owen was today named general chairman of the 1967 Winnebago County Association for Mental Health, Inc. (WCAMH) campaign for funds.

The drive opens today and will continue through the month of May. The goal set is $28,000, an increase of $3,000 over the 1966 drive for funds. Most of the additional money will be spent this year in the implementation of the camping program on Picnic Point, the joint project with Winnebago State Hospital, a spokesman for the executive board said today.

Planners Postpone Mielke Land Action

Vote 'Hand's Off' Policy Pending Report by Acquisition Committee

The Appleton Plan Commission today took a temporary "hands off" position on the school board's pressing demand that the city purchase the Mielke property for a southside school site.

Commissioners, after hearing from board of education representatives, voted to take no further action until negotiations are complete between the board of public works land acquisition committee and the property owner.

Mayor George Buckley said the acquisition committee was getting an appraisal on the Mielke property on which the school board has an option for $3,600 per acre.

City officials have said the price was too high. Other parcels in the area are for sale at lower prices.

The council recently purchased the Roeland property, near the Mielke property, for $2,500 an acre for school, park and expressway purposes. But the school board said it was not contacted in advance and does not feel the Roeland site will be satisfactory.

Officials Appear
Charles Buchanan, school board president; John Schneider, chairman of the board's school site committee; and William Spears, superintendent of schools, attended the commission meeting today.

Buchanan, who distributed maps, said the board always had cooperated with the council in obtaining school sites. He said the board still feels the Mielke property lends itself best to a new school, and claimed population growth patterns warrant the location.

Later in the meeting City Planner Walter Rasmussen said the board's projected population and city growth figures could be challenged, adding that projections in the city's comprehensive plan disagreed with them.

Buchanan said the school board intends to construct a large grade school on the Mielke property, which would attract from the population center and eliminate additional bus transportation costs.

He cautioned if another site was picked, it would cost the school board more money to transport students to school. Buchanan said the savings in transportation costs justified the Mielke property purchase.

Buchanan indicated that if the city had to pay $500 more per acre for the Mielke property as compared to the Roeland site —

(the extra expense would be justified.)

Buchanan said the school board could be put in the position of building a small school on a different site and another small school at a later date to serve the southside, emphasizing the alternative was the one large structure on the Mielke property.

At one point Rasmussen pointed out to Buchanan and the commission that the difference in cost between the Mielke site and Roeland property actually represented $13,000, declaring, "This savings seems more than enough to offset the price of the summer school program the board has been talking about."

Rasmussen said he did not dispute the theory that if a school is located away from a population center, it would require additional busing.

It was indicated by Buckley and others that a final consideration of the Mielke property would be made the latter part of May.

"We have to find out what the property is worth before we try to negotiate for it," Buckley commented. The arrangement was satisfactory to the school board representatives.

Contrary to a report Saturday, there will be no meeting of the city council tonight. A school board member said the summer school program would be discussed with the council. The finance committee is scheduled to meet at city hall at 7 p.m. today.

Winneconne Businessman Dies Sunday

He was born May 24, 1899, at Waupaca and moved to Winneconne with his parents. He was a graduate of Winneconne High School and what was then Oshkosh State Teachers College.

He returned to Winneconne from Delavan in 1924 and was associated with his father in the implement business until his retirement five years ago.

Tests Show Inactive Power Plant Ready if It Is Needed

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has begun routine testing of boilers and generators at its power plant in the industrial flats.

"Since 1956 the plant has been operated on a standby basis in case emergencies should ever occur," J. K. Babbitt, assistant vice president, said. "The tests show that the plant will be ready to operate, if it's ever needed."

Along with the tests, the utility is doing routine maintenance work in the plant, Babbitt explained. He said that most tests will be scheduled as the work progresses. When the boilers and generators are being tested, pollution control devices in the smokestack will be "washed" the smoke and remove fly ash. Tests similar to those now underway were conducted in 1959 and 1963.

"When the Appleton power plant was built in 1916, it was considered one of the most efficient generating plants in the country," Babbitt stated. "But, over the years improvements in the technology of generating power have made new plants more efficient. In recent years, we have found it more economical to transmit to

Sixth District Grabs Top State YGOP Posts

Holds Chairmanship, Vice Chairmanship;
Convention Ends With Collegian Walkout

SHEBOYGAN — The Sixth District emerged a strong voice in the Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans as the annual convention wound up here Sunday after a noisy walkout by four groups of collegians.

The convention routinely elected John C. Gower, Mequon, as chairman for the coming two years while Douglas F. Maurer, Oshkosh, won a berth as first vice chairman. Both are Sixth District residents, and Maurer was district YGOP chairman the past term.

Al Seefeldt, West Bend, another Sixth District resident, was chosen treasurer. He is a brother of the Rev. Fred Seefeldt, Neenah, who also is active in the organization.

The student walkout came Sunday morning in reaction to the convention's refusal in a tedious session of parliamentary maneuvering the afternoon and evening before to correct what was an arbitrary limit on their voting powers.

Collegians from Stout, River Falls, Eau Claire and Superior state universities left the floor after Barry Snyder, Eau Claire, attempted to read a statement announcing formation of a new, independent federation for collegians in the 10-county north-west district of the federation.

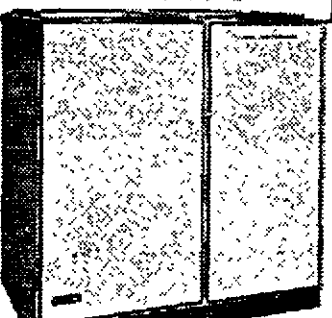

Federation officials turned off his microphone and delegates began handclapping to stifle the sound of Snyder's voice.

The collegians had complained that their voting power was restricted to about 38 per cent of the votes at the convention.

The Fox Valley power generated in newer and larger plants in the Milwaukee area.

In addition to the six coal-fired boilers and four generators now being tested, the plant includes two natural gas boilers and three hydroelectric generators which have been kept in continuous operation.

Oshkosh Police Think Robbers Had Long Wait to Trap Victims

Two Intruders Take Furs, Jewelry,
Money Valued at About $16,000

OSHKOSH — Police Chief Harold Guenther said this morning that two men who robbed Mr. and Mrs. Alenor Gibson at their home at 1049 Washington Ave. Friday night might have been waiting for the couple to return home.

Guenther said "peculiar circumstances" indicate that the intruders might not have been motivated by robbery alone.

The Gibsons were entered by two men about 10:30 p.m. Friday and were forced to lie on the floor with their hands and feet taped as they were robbed of $16,000 in furs, jewelry and cash. Gibson was injured in two scuffles with them.

Guenther pointed out today the robbers had already packed up the Gibsons' furs when the couple arrived home. The couple had left home at about 5:30 p.m.

House Dark
The chief also said that the fiberglass tape the robbers used was not taken from the Gibson home. He said they must have brought it with the intention of taping someone up.

Police have no strong clues, the chief said. The Gibsons were unable to give precise descriptions of the two men because the house was dark throughout the incident.

The Gibsons described one man as, about 35 years old, 6-foot 1-inch or 6-foot 2 inches tall and wearing a dark raincoat. They said the other man was about 6 feet tall and wearing a light colored, short jacket.

Police took fingerprints in the house, but none were too clear. Chief Guenther said FBI officials will be called into the case, but FBI officers said they are not now actively working on it. It must be proved that the loot was taken across a state line, they said.

Gibson, president and secretary of Gibson Co., which operates auto sales agencies in Oshkosh, Appleton and Menasha, told police he found the door in his attached garage ajar when he and his wife were about to enter their home. He said he was grabbed by one of the robbers as he was examining the door. Both he and the robber fell to the floor in the midst of a scuffle.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Gibson was grabbed by the second robber, who may have been hiding in the garage, police were told.

Hands, Feet Taped
Both were then forced into the home. Gibson said he was hit on the forehead with what may have been a gun as he tried to turn on a light switch as they passed through the foyer. He fell to the floor and was held there when he tried to get up, he said. He said he was forced to lie on his stomach while his hands and feet were taped.

Mrs. Gibson said she was led to a living room couch where she was forced to lie on her stomach while her hands and feet were taped.

Gibson said the men removed money and jewelry from her and his wife after they had been taped up.

Guenther said the case is unlike any recent case in the area.

Congress Expected Again To Avert National Rail Strike

House, Senate Leaders Seek Quick Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is expected to pass with time to spare legislation aimed at preventing a nationwide railroad strike Wednesday.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield asked Senate passage today of President Johnson's request for another 47-day "cooling off" period in the dispute between the major railroads and six shopcraft unions. House leaders planned similarly speedy committee and floor action in the emergency White House proposal.

This should send the brief bill to the President for signature well ahead of the 12:01 a.m. Wednesday deadline.

That is when a prior no strike — no lockout emergency law pushed through Congress early last month will expire.

No Agreement
That 20-day cooling off period was expected to produce a settlement in the lengthy rail dispute but Congress was told by the President, the secretary of labor and all parties that no agreement had been reached.

The earlier measure was approved 81 to 1 in the Senate and 396 to 8 in the House April 11.

Republicans get another chance to chide the President about not keeping his campaign pledges to propose legislation for settlement of major strikes. They also are urging Congress to step up with its own proposals.

New Ban
In requesting the new ban, Johnson promised to send up legislation "within a few days." Proposals by a special presidential mediation panel for settlement of the rail dispute were rejected.

The Senate Labor Committee said the new extension should give the President time to submit his recommendations, permit Congress to consider these and "allow Congress to take such action as it deems advisable to protect the public interest."

Wages of the 137,000 men involved now average about $2.90 an hour. The presidential board has recommended a 6 per cent wage hike in an 18-month agreement plus additional raises for higher-skilled workers. Both sides have rejected that plan.

Congressman's Charge

Steel Producer Denies Buying Foreign Metal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman's charge that American steel companies probably imported much of the foreign steel from which they want trade protection is denied by one major producer.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., raised the charge Sunday in a report to the House on the 70-nation trade talks at Geneva. Joseph L. Block, board chairman of Inland Steel Corp., said in Chicago his firm "has purchased no imported steel and has no intention of doing so."

Roger Blough, head of U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel manufacturer, scheduled a news conference for this afternoon.

Curtis said the U.S. steel industry "has more than held its own against competing materials," and added that "the very industries whose representatives are opposing imports in Washington may be in fact large purchasers of foreign steel."

Block said Curtis "has given credence to certain shopworn, discredited and false comments made by individuals not truly familiar with the industry."

Block said foreign steel is entering U.S. markets below domestic prices because of overseas government subsidies and cheaper labor costs.

He said "special temporary legislation should be enacted by the Congress to partially close this gap."

Temporary Levy
The steel industry launched a drive Feb. 8 for enactment of a temporary levy on steel imports in order to, it said, protect an essential defense industry and maintain living standards of American workers.

Curtis said, "Though the portion of the U.S. market taken by imports is larger, the total steel pie has increased so much that there has been no damage."

He said U.S. steel companies probably bought steel abroad rather than admit to old customers that they could not supply steel and perhaps lose them.

Curtis said, "Conditions in the steel industries of Europe and Britain make the United States steel industry look like a very healthy hypochondriac." But he also discounted any threat to European industry from what his report called widening American leadership in productivity.

Bykowski called the area "a place where a part of the assault could have taken place."

Miss Cheryl Ann Packard, 22, of rural Pewaukee and Miss Sharon Malone, 25, of rural Hartland, were found bound, gagged and stabbed a total of 31 times in a New Berlin farm field. They had been missing for more than a week before their bodies were found.

Bykowski would not comment when asked if the murder weapon, which is believed to be a dagger or bayonet-type knife, had been found.

Police Saturday found, questioned and released a 34-year-old Wauwatosa man who had been the object of an extensive search.

Bykowski said the man provided some information, but he would not elaborate. He said the man had been "tentatively cleared."

Elvis Presley, Priscilla Get Wedding License

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer-actor Elvis Presley and his longtime sweetheart, Priscilla Beaulieu, received a marriage license today, a Clark County official reported.

Presley, 32, and Miss Beaulieu, 21, avoided newsmen and gave no indication of where or when they would be married.

Presley met Miss Beaulieu while he was stationed with the Army in Germany in 1959. She is from Memphis, Tenn., Presley's home town.

Priscilla Beaulieu, received a marriage license today, a Clark County official reported.

Senator Making Enemies

Long's Defense of Dodd Appears To be Politically Dangerous Stand

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consensus around the Senate is that in opposing the censure of Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Sen. Russell B. Long is following a lonely road with dangerous political crossings ahead.

No other senator, Democrat or Republican, has stepped up yet to say that Dodd, D-Conn., should not be censured for misconduct as recommended unanimously by a special ethics committee of six.

In his Spartan stand for his beleaguered colleague, Long, D-La., has slashed out with a broad sword at members whose support he is likely to need in the future in his varied and often complicated enterprises as they would be subject to "the same kind of calumny and smear" to which he said columnists had subjected the Connecticut senator.

Members of the committee, headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., are regarded around the Senate as men of more than ordinary patience and forbearance. They include also Sens. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah; Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.; A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla.; John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and James B. Pearson, R-Kan.

Long's thundering charge that the practice of which Dodd is accused—appropriating testimonial dinner and campaign funds to personal use—is "all too prevalent" in the Senate touched a highly sensitive political nerve.

He left unidentified the half he was indicting and the half he was absolving, thus clouding every individual member except possibly himself. He explained that his daddy, the late Huey Long, had left him enough money so he didn't have to worry about outside financial monkeyshines.

He could afford, he said, to take the Senate in stride as "my favorite charity."

Long said the six special committee members were afraid that if they didn't bring out a censure resolution against Dodd

Armed Services Chairman

Another 50,000 Men Needed for Vietnam Victory, Rivers Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — He spoke on NBC's "Meet the Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee says more than 50,000 additional troops are needed to win a military victory in Vietnam — and that Congress would meet that cost, however great.

Rivers, an advocate of increased military pressure on North Vietnam, cited varying opinion that from 50,000 to 100,000 additional troops are required.

"I don't know," he said Sunday "but it will be more than what we have now. It will be over 50,000 — additional."

Total U.S. forces in Vietnam now are about 430,000 to 440,000. About 470,000 are expected by year-end.

More Forces
Gen. William C. Westmoreland, stopping in Honolulu Sunday en route back to Vietnam from speeches in the United States, said he anticipates getting more forces this year but would not cite any target figure but the previously published 470,000.

Rivers would not estimate the cost of additional troops, but said Congress would meet it. "You'll remember we had a supplemental appropriation for the war recently, and I suspect we're going to have another one before the year is out."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.: It would be well if Republicans "could offer the people a substantial alternative to the President, who has gotten himself in a bad box in this situation on Vietnam."

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.: Vietnam should be discussed in an open and unlimited format before the United Nations Security Council.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., speaking in Los Angeles Saturday night, said President Johnson should urge Japan, the Philippines and Malaysia to send troops to Vietnam.

Rural Development
He said Japan could alternatively provide manpower to serve as pacification forces for rural development.

Percy said he wondered why Westmoreland in his speech to Congress "didn't mention the bitterness of the fighting in the months ahead and that he will need more men."

Other senators had these comments on Vietnam Sunday: —Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa.: It is cheap politics to criticize President Johnson's handling of the war without offering alternatives to end the fighting.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.: He can't conceive of Johnson and the Republican nominee "getting up there eyeball to eyeball and debating Vietnam, that we ought to get out, that we ought to do this or that, because I think they will be too close together, in their objectives, at least."

Character in Sports Stressed By Dobberstein

Former FVL Star
Makes Appearance
At School Banquet

BY TIM PETERMANN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"Character makes the sport. There is an much to this saying as there is to the saying, sports makes the character," guest speaker Verlyn Dobberstein told some 200 athletes and their parents at the Fox Valley Lutheran High School spring athletic banquet Sunday.

Dobberstein stressed the importance of building good character by displaying good sportsmanship before, during and after any contest.

The 1963 graduate of FVL was an outstanding football and basketball player in high school. He was basketball scoring leader and MVP his junior year, team captain his senior year and all-Badger Lutheran Conference guard both years. He was also the grid captain in his senior year.

In this, his senior year at Northwestern College, Watertown, Dobberstein was the football captain and played on the basketball squad.

Makes Comparisons
Having competed on both the high school and college level of athletics Dobberstein made a few comparisons of the two.

He noted that in both a good athlete must have a strong love and desire for the sport he competes in. He must have enthusiasm, school spirit and a desire to excel not with selfish interests but for the team.

In college, he said the competition is greater, the action is faster and a good athlete learns to play against opponents bigger and of greater ability.

He stated that there was no greater thrill than to tackle an opponent who outweighs you by 40 pounds or beat a team that is bigger or has greater experience.

Urging all the athletes to participate in some kind of varsity athletics in college, Dobberstein closed by telling the athletes to remember the statement, "It's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game."

Football coach Dave Umnus introduced the three grid squads and then ran through the highlights of the season. He stated that in the opening game win over Southern Door the coaches discovered there were going to be some surprises during the year.

He tabbed the Sevastopol game as the best defensive game, the Onalaska Luther win as "Kluesy day" and the Racine Lutheran victory as the best all-around game. He added that the Wisconsin Lutheran and Northwestern Prep triumphs ranked No. 1 and 2 as the most satisfying.

The three cage units were introduced by head coach Gerhard Kaniess. In introducing the JVs, Kaniess referred to Beck

Giants Defeat Dodgers, 5-1, To Complete Sweep of Series

Reds Split Twin Bill With Mets;
Cub Rookie Hurls 4-Hit Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new look in Los Angeles is working out nicely — for the San Francisco Giants.

"They're not Dodgers any more. At least, not the Dodgers I've known," Jim Davenport said Sunday after helping the Giants beat Don Drysdale 5-1 to complete their first three-game sweep at Los Angeles in 10 years.

"It's strange to look around and not see Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills, Tommy Davis, Lou Johnson and Willie Davis," added Davenport, whose two-run pinch single capped San Francisco's decisive seventh inning rally. "They aren't the same team without them."

Koufax' retirement, the loss of Wills and Tommy Davis in trades and injuries to Johnson and Willie Davis all have contributed to the National League champions' early-season troubles. The Dodgers have dropped 10 of their 16 starts and are mired in eighth place, seven games behind league-leading Cincinnati.

The Giants didn't miss the absent Dodgers in taking the first two games of the series 5-4 and 5-0, and they were happy to see holdover Drysdale in Sunday's windup game.

The loss was Drysdale's seventh straight to San Francisco, although the veteran right hander still holds a 29-25 career edge over the Giants.

While Bob Bolin and reliever Frank Linzy combined for a three-inning that lifted the slow-starting Giants past Los Angeles into seventh place, Cincinnati divided a doubleheader with the New York Mets and moved 3½ games up on second-place St. Louis.

Many Homers, Singles
The Reds, beaten 2-0 by Don Cardwell's three-hitter in the opener, took the second game 3-2 behind rookie Gary Nolan. The Cardinals bowed to Pittsburgh 2-0 as Juan Pizarro fired a four-hitter and his catcher, Jerry May, drove in both runs with a homer and single.

Philadelphia split a twin bill with Atlanta, winning 6-4 before falling 6-3 in the nightcap, and rookie Rich Nye's four-hitter led the Chicago Cubs past Houston 4-1 in other NL games.

The Giants caught up with Drysdale in the seventh after he had yielded one run and two hits — while striking out nine — through the first six innings.

Successive singles by Jim Hart, Tom Haller and Ollie Brown sent the Giants ahead 2-

Option Runs Out; Taylor A Free Agent

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) —

Hard-running fullback Jimmy Taylor, a veteran ground gainer for the professional football champion Green Bay Packers, became a free agent today.

Taylor, contacted late Sunday night at his home here, said he had not sent in his 1967 Packer contract and didn't plan to do anything before his free agent status was achieved. Taylor's option ran out at midnight.

Taylor, a 31-year-old nine-season veteran, was the Packers' second draft choice in 1958. He established an NFL record of five consecutive seasons gaining more than 1,000 yards. He is third in all-time NFL yardage gained.

Packer sources in Green Bay declined comment. Taylor was quoted last week as saying he wasn't particular about where he played in 1967.

Barber, Miller Hold Detroit Hitless, but Orioles Lose

Steve, Stu First Ever to Lose
9-Inning No-Hitter; Wild Pitch
And Error Cost 2-1 Decision

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Barber should forget about no-hitters. He'd be better off pitching a no-walker.

Barber, the Baltimore Oriole who was supposed to have trouble with his left arm, displayed trouble only with his control Sunday as he and Stu Miller became the first pitching pair in baseball history to hurl a no-hitter and lose in nine innings.

Barber did the bulk of the work, holding Detroit hitless for 2-3 innings. But he walked 10 Tigers, and after the last one, there was no holding Manager Hank Bauer any longer.

He called in Miller, who preserved the no-hitter but not the victory as the Tigers scored on Mark Belanger's error and won the first game of the doubleheader 2-1.

On Wild Pitch
The Tigers' first run, also scored in the ninth inning, came on a wild pitch — minutes after Barber issued his eighth and ninth walks and just before he recorded No. 10. As Mickey Stanley trotted to first with that walk, Bauer walked out of the dugout.

"I tried to get it for you," Bauer told Barber when he reached the mound.

"If you can't get the ball over, you don't deserve to win," replied the 28-year-old southpaw, who also hit two batters and made an error.

Barber came almost as close to a no-hitter in his first start of the season, exactly two weeks before. In that game, he Oriole veteran held California hitless until Jim Fregosi doubled with one out in the ninth.

He walked just three Angels, but his control trouble picked up considerably in his second start on the second Sunday of the season. Pitching against Kansas City, he walked nine batters in 5

2-3 innings. He topped that by one in his latest Sunday start.

"All his pitches were really moving," Detroit's Norm Cash said. "He was hard to hit. Nothing was down the middle."

Nothing much was over the plate anywhere else either.

In other American League games Detroit won the second game 6-4, Washington swept Minnesota 7-3 and 3-0, Kansas City edged Boston 1-0, Cleveland nipped Chicago 2-1 before losing 4-2 and New York defeated California 4-1 in 10 innings, then lost 4-2.

In only one previous instance had more than one pitcher combined for a no-hitter. That was in 1956 when Cincinnati's John Klippstein, Hershel Freeman and Joe Black held Milwaukee hitless for nine innings. However, the Braves got a hit off Black in the 10th and then won 2-1 in the 11th.

Horton Fouls Out
Barber started himself on the way out by walking Cash and Ray Oyler with none out in the ninth. Earl Wilson sacrificed the runners to second and third, and Willie Horton fouled out. Then came the wild pitch and in came the tying run and Miller.

Don Wert hit a grounder up the middle, shortstop Luis Aparicio made a fine stop and flipped to second for the force on Stanley. But Belanger dropped the ball, and pinch runner Jake Wood was in with the winning run.

The Tigers finally got a hit in the second inning of the second

Rivera, Cooper Will Pitch

Victims of the weather three times in the first five days of the 1967 Midwest League season, the Appleton Foxes will try again tonight to open the home campaign.

The Foxes and Burlington are scheduled for a doubleheader at Goodland Field. The first of two 7-inning games is slated for 6 p.m.

Sunday night's scheduled home opening was postponed because of rain. The traditional season-opening ceremonies, which were to have preceded Sunday's contest, will be held between games tonight.

Foxes manager Alex Cosmidis has indicated that right-handers Durant Cooper and Pedro Rivera will start tonight's games. Cooper appeared in 11 games for Sarasota and Winter Haven last season, compiling a combined 3-4 record. Rivera appeared in 41 games for Winter Haven and posted an 8-7 mark, with a 3.12 earned run average.

The ML was able to play only two games during the rain-harassed weekend — both on Sunday. Cedar Rapids edged Quincy, 5-4, in 10 innings, and Decatur stopped Waterloo, 5-2.

The line scores:

Donates $5,000 to Tornado Victims

Rodriguez Captures $20,000 Texas Open Prize by One Stroke

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —

Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, down on his luck for three years, won the $20,000 first-place purse in the Texas Open Golf Tournament Sunday and promptly donated $5,000 to some others down on their luck.

The small Puerto Rican, who's a favorite with the gallery because of his clowning antics, was deadly serious as he fired five-under-par 66 to surge from second place to the championship in the 72-hole tournament. He had a 277.

New Zealander Bob Charles, who shared second place with Rodriguez following the second round, fired a hot four-under-par front nine in the final 18, added a birdie on the back side, then canceled it with a bogey to finish one-stroke behind the red-hot Rodriguez.

Shares Second
Bob Goalby, who shared the lead two days, fired a fine three-under-par 68. The Palm Springs, Calif. pro finished at 278 to tie for second place with Charles.

The two other third-round leaders, Miller Barber and Billy Casper, faltered and fell to one-over 72s. They finished at 282 behind Charles and Goalby.

Rodriguez deadlocked for the total of $26,214 for 1967.

lead in the first round by firing a 68, but his putter turned to ice on the second and third rounds and he fell behind.

He stayed on the lighted practice green putting for hours after the round both nights and said Sunday it was his putter that won it for him.

Best in Years
"This is the best putting I've done in two years," he said.

The 31-year-old, 125-pounder said he was going for the Pecan Valley Country Club course record of 65 so he could win a standing offer of $6,500.

"I was thinking about the course record all the way," he said. "I'm giving $5,000 to the people hurt in the Chicago tornado."

Even though he didn't beat the record, he said, the tornado victims will get a check anyway.

"I had a feeling all week that I was going to win," he added. Tom Weiskopf, R. H. Sikes, Rex Baxter and Harold Henning tied for sixth at one-under-par 283.

Rodriguez hadn't won since he took two tournaments in 1964 and he was rated 56th in the over 72s. They finished at 282 behind Charles and Goalby.

Of course, that's a long way to go on a gallon of gas. But the real beauty of the Renault 10 is that it's an economical car with many of the comforts of a big car. For example, the Renault 10 has 4 doors (not 2); and seats that recline in more than 60 different positions; and enough leg and headroom to seat a 6½ footer comfortably. So why not come in and try one on for size.

Six Kentucky Derby Hopefuls Ride Into Derby Trial Tuesday

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The big week in American thoroughbred racing opened today with just one prep—and that of questionable status—remaining before Saturday's 93rd running of the Kentucky Derby.

The prep is Tuesday's one-mile $15,000-added Derby Trial with six Derby eligibles probable starters, and barring an upset, only three of these—Cool Reception, Barb's Delight and Lightning Orphan—are likely to be in the 1 1/4 miles of the Derby.

Cool Reception, owned by Mrs. W. J. Seitz and Mrs. Vincent Reid of Toronto, is expected to draw the most support from bettors Tuesday.

The son of Nearctic, who also sired 1964 Derby winner, Northern Dancer, has won twice in five starts as a 3-year-old, including the Fort Lauderdale Handicap at 1 1/16 miles April 8 at Gulfstream Park.

Second Place Finisher Lightning Orphan, owned by Freeman Keyes of Chicago, has finished second in all three starts this year.

Barb's Delight, product of Kentucky's hard boot company, chalked up five victories in six starts last year for his three owners—Gene Spalding, Guy Huguelet and trainer Hal Steele Jr., but was a badly beaten seventh in the rich Garden State Stakes. This year, however, he has been something less than sensational.

Sleepy Pat, Glengary, Monitor and Betemeng are the other likely Trial starters.

Trainer Clyde Turk summed up the California-bred colt's performance in two words, "real good."

Dr. Isby Returns

Dr. Isby, another Californian, finished 2 1/2 lengths behind Ruken, and 79-year-old trainer Frank Childs, winner in 1959 with Tommy Lee, said he would be back Saturday. However, trainer Henry Forest, who saddled 1966 Derby winner Kauai King, said Balout, third in the Stepping Stone, probably would not go in the Derby.

Ruken, owned by Louis Rowan, now has won three straight and is rated the second Derby favorite at 3-1.

Favored Damascus, 7-5, spent a lazy day Sunday, staying out of the rain. The Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft-owned winner of Aqueduct's Bay Shore and Wood Memorial is scheduled to work out Tuesday.

Cool Reception, Louisiana Derby winner, Ask The Fare and Wheatley Stable's Successor, 1965 2-year-old champion, all galloped in the rain at Churchill Downs Sunday.

Reason To Hail, the California Derby winner, became the last probable Derby starter to arrive at the Downs, coming in by plane from New York Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Minnesota Gophers, seeking a sixth Big Ten baseball title in 11 years, might be slipping a bit.

Minnesota ran its record to 7-0 and finally had to use a relief pitcher in the second game of a doubleheader sweep Saturday against Purdue.

Jerry Seville went the route in a 6-1 first game victory over Purdue and then came on in relief in the last half of the final inning to preserve a 3-2 Gopher victory. Seville threw only one pitch to end the game.

Not only that, but Minnesota pitchers have given up 11 runs in seven games while Minnesota hitters have pushed across 45 runs in the same span.

The Gophers won Big Ten titles in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1964 and NCAA championships in 1956, 1960 and 1964.

In the Offing

Where they are headed this year is anyone's guess, but another title seems to be in the offing.

While Minnesota took a pair from Purdue, Indiana climbed into second place with a 5-0 victory over Defending champion Ohio State.

Michigan halved a twin bill with Wisconsin as each team recorded 4-2 victories with Wisconsin winning the first game.

Michigan State evened its Big Ten record as 4-4 as the Spartans took a doubleheader from Northwestern 11-0 and 8-4.

Illinois and Iowa split a twin bill, with Illinois scoring a 3-2 opening triumph and then falling before Iowa 7-0.

Minnesota will play single games at Iowa Friday and Saturday but everyone else will be engaged in doubleheaders.

Friday's other games find Indiana at Northwestern, Michigan at Illinois, Michigan State at Purdue and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

On Saturday, Indiana will be at Wisconsin, Michigan at Purdue, Michigan State at Illinois and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

—Jim Northrup's one-out double—and sealed the victory with six runs in the fifth inning.

Washington's Barry Moore came close to a no-hitter, allowing only a two-out single in the sixth inning by Minnesota's Cesar Tovar in the second game.

Moore retired the first 17 batters.

In the opener the Senators erupted for five runs in the fifth, two on Bob Saverine's single and two more on a double by Frank Howard.

Jim Nash pitched a five-hitter for Kansas City, and Danny Carter hit a homer for the only run off Boston's Darrell Brandon.

The Indians topped Chicago in the opener on Leon Wagner's ninth-inning homer as Gary Bell scattered seven hits. The White Sox, however, roared back on walks and stolen bases for the second-game triumph. Tommie Agee drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a bloop single.

Mickey Mantle's three-run homer into the upper deck of the right field stands in the 10th inning gave the Yankees a victory in the opener. But rookie Rickey Clark and Bill Beck stopped them on five hits in the nightcap as Don Mincher drove in two runs with a single and a homer.

AHS, FVL and Xavier Track Meets Slated

Terrors to Make Home Debut Against Oshkosh Tuesday

Appleton's three high schools are all scheduled for track meets Tuesday afternoon.

Appleton High School opens its home season by entertaining Oshkosh at 4 p.m.

Fox Valley Lutheran journeys to Beaver Dam for a triangular meet, which will involve Wayland Academy and Lakeside Lutheran.

Xavier will also take part in a 3-way meet—against Fond du Lac, Spring and Lourdes in Oshkosh.

The Terrors, with a 1-2 outdoor record, will seek to reach the .500 mark Tuesday against Oshkosh, which has a 2-2 record.

In their latest starts, the Terrors lost to undefeated Manitowoc, 87-40, while Oshkosh beat Green Bay East, 83-39.

Xavier, which placed second in the Fox Valley Catholic Conference relay's Saturday, won their only other meets of the season—dual affairs against Menasha St. Mary and Fox Valley Lutheran.

FVL, which lost to Milwaukee University School here Saturday, has a season record of 2-2.

Not a Work of Art, Orioles' Pitcher Claims

Didn't Deserve No-Hitter, Barber Says; Credits Bauer for Switching

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Barber, a sometimes fiery competitor on the field, is always imperturbable in the locker room.

The Baltimore pitcher passed the supreme test Sunday, discussing with amazing detachment his inability to finish a no-hitter with one out remaining and Detroit's hitless 2-1 victory over the Orioles in the opener of a doubleheader.

Barber's wild pitch to Mickey Stanley on a 1-2 count allowed the tying run to score, and the 28-year-old left-hander was replaced by Stu Miller after Stanley became the 10th Detroit batter to walk.

Oriole shortstop Luis Aparicio then made his third outstanding stop of the game and backhanded the ball to second baseman Mark Belanger for an attempted force. But the Baltimore rookie muffed the toss and the winning run scored.

Another Bid Ruined "In all honesty, I didn't deserve a no-hitter," said Barber, who on April 16 had another bid ruined with Jim Fregosi of California doubled with one out in the ninth.

"I have no great pride in my performance," said Barber, who threw 144 pitches and struck two batters in addition to the 10 walks. "It was not a work of art. They probably didn't get a hit because I didn't throw anything close enough to the plate."

On the 1-1 pitch to Stanley, the bat slipped out of the Detroit outfielder's hands and a somewhat untidy no-hitter seemed within Barber's reach.

But the Oriole hurler shock off catcher Larry Haney's signal for a slider and elected to throw a change-up which bounced into the dirt and past the rookie receiver, allowing pinch runner Dick Tracewski to score.

Walks to Norm Cash and Ray Oyler, and a sacrifice by winning pitcher Earl Wilson—who hurled a strong two-hitter—gave Detroit its final scoring opportunity.

Pinch hitter Willie Horton hit a foul pop to Haney for the second out, and Stanley looked futile until the change-up misfired.

Baltimore had scored in the eighth without a hit on three walks, one intentional, and a sacrifice fly by Aparicio.

"Only one more pitch," Barber mused. "But such is life. I can't get upset. It's too late to cry."

"The only time I thought much about a no-hitter," he said, "was when Detroit got struck two batters on second and third in the ninth. Then I thought, 'I've got to pitch one now, or that's it.'"

Barber had no complaint when Manager Hank Bauer called Miller from the bullpen with the no-hitter still in effect. The home crowd of 26,884 didn't seem to object either, but Barber was given a standing ovation as he departed.

"If I hadn't been pitching a no-hitter, I would have been out long before that," Barber said. "I put Hank in a bad position," Barber said. "I have to give him credit for sticking with me as long as he did."

Bauer conceded he would have made a pitching change earlier if Detroit already had made a hit, but under the circumstances wanted to "give him a shot" at a no-hit victory.

"I'm more concerned about losing the game," Barber said. "No-hitters are not worth anything in the books unless you win. If we were a perennial also-ran team, I could afford to think more about the glory aspect of a no-hitter."

1 before Hal Lanier sacrificed and Davenport, batting for Bolin, delivered the two-run crusher.

Linzy then blanked Los Angeles over the final three innings, protecting Bolin's second victory in four decisions.

Deron Johnson's run-scoring single off Mets rookie Tom Seaver broke a 2-2 tie in the second game at Cincinnati, enabling 18-year-old Nolan to boost his pitching record to 2-1.

Ron Swoboda's second inning homer, one of two New York hits in the opener, was all Cardwell needed in outpitching the Reds' Billy McCool.

May stroked a run-scoring single off loser Larry Jaster in the second inning at St. Louis and slammed his second major league homer off reliever Nelson Briles in the fifth as the Pirates ran their winning string to four.

Consecutive doubles by pinch hitters Don Lock and Gary Sutherland produced three runs in the ninth, pushing Philadelphia past the Braves. Felipe Alou, Joe Torre and Rico Carty all homered for Atlanta in the sixth.

The Braves bounced back in the second game, scoring three runs in the fifth and adding a pair in the sixth on back-to-back homers by Alou and Hank Aaron. Alou had four hits, including a single that triggered the fifth inning rally.

Pizarro in Nostalgic Return to St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"I won my first major league game here in 1957," Juan Pizarro said. "I beat the Cardinals 11-5 and I hit my first major league home run in that game."

Pizarro, who went to the Pittsburgh Pirates in a winter deal with the Chicago White Sox, says he likes St. Louis even more now—and not just because he pitched a strong 2-0 victory against the Cardinals Sunday.

"I really like to pitch here now. This park is much bigger than the old Busch Stadium," the 30-year-old left-hander said.

"The big thing in this game was my control was real good. I think I was even throwing better in the last five innings than the first four."

Cardinals Manager Red Schoendienst, who played for Milwaukee in 1957, remembered when Pizarro came to the major leagues with the Braves.

"He used to be much faster, but very wild then. He has much better control now. The big difference was in the old days if you stayed close to him you could beat him. Now he can protect a one or two-run lead."

May Leads Way

The Cardinals couldn't stay with Pizarro. Catcher Jerry May drove in both Pirate runs with a homer and a single.

May hit the second home run of his major league career in the fifth inning Sunday. He knocked in the Pirates' first run with a single in the second inning.

Pizarro, 2-1, limited the Redbirds to only four hits as they suffered their third straight loss. He struck out eight and ended Lou Brock's hitting streak at 12 games and handcuffed Orlando Cepeda, who had hit safely in nine straight games.

The one streak Pizarro couldn't stop was center fielder Curt Flood's errorless string. Flood played his 200th straight game without a miscue.

The National League record—held by Tony Gonzales of Philadelphia—is 205 games. Don Demeter of Detroit holds the major league record of 266.

Strampe Loses In First Round

Defending Champion Ousted by Patterson; Dick Weber Wins

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Pat Patterson of St. Louis defeated defending champion Bob Strampe of Detroit 915 to 886 in four games Sunday in the first round of the finals at the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament.

In other important first-round matches, Dick Weber of St. Louis defeated Bill Dettmar of Philadelphia 909 to 801, Harry Smith of Redwood City, Calif., downed Fred Lening of Fairless Hills, Pa., 915 to 819, Wayne Zahn of Atlanta stopped Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., 911 to 892 and Bill Welu of St. Louis defeated Ted Bakatselos of Detroit 781 to 763.

Pete Tountas of Tucson, Ariz., fired the best series in the opening round of the finals, 188-234-256-278 — 956. His victim was Tony Politi of Buffalo, N.Y., who compiled 833.

Allie Carke of Cleveland, who won the qualifying trophy earlier in the day with a 1786 total for eight games, kept his hot hand and whipped David Davis of Sebastian, Fla., 941 to 835.

The Masters finals operates on a double elimination format. Those defeated Sunday dropped into the losers bracket where they will compete against bowlers of the same ilk.

The championship will be decided Wednesday night when the champion of the winners bracket bowls the sole survivor of the losers bracket for a $4,000 first prize.

Second Round Draft Choice of Rams Signs Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Halfback Willie Ellison of Texas Southern University, a second-round draft choice, has signed with the Los Angeles Rams, the National Football League club announced today.

Ellison, a 6-foot-1, 207-pounder, and a 9.7 sprinter on the Texas Southern track team, was part of a trade with Minnesota which also brought halfback Tommy Mason and tight end Hal Bedsole to the Rams.

In exchange for Mason, Bedsole and the Vikings' second draft choice, Los Angeles sent Martin McKeever and its first round pick to Minnesota. The Vikings picked Notre Dame defensive end Alan Page.

Chisox' Causey Makes Bid for Regular Job

Wilhelm Records 100th Relief Win; Cubs' Nye Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — Wayne Causey is making a strong bid for the second base job with the Chicago White Sox.

Causey was instrumental in getting the White Sox a split of their doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians Sunday as the Tribe took the opener 2-1 and the Sox walked and ran their way to a 4-2 victory in the nightcap.

Causey, whose pinch single in the ninth inning Friday night triggered a two-run, game-winning rally, came through with a pinch single in the eighth inning of the first game Sunday but the Sox couldn't score what would have been the tying run.

Causey started in the second game and came through with two more hits to boost his average to .600 but his fielding proved to be the tonic the Sox needed for victory.

He made a fine play to short-circuit a Cleveland rally in the second inning and in the third inning prevented two runs from scoring with a diving catch of a looping liner.

Sparks Rally

Causey's play in the third inning gave the Sox new life although they trailed 2-0. Leadoff in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings — coupled with three stolen bases — blossomed into runs.

The Sox added another run in the seventh on Walt Williams' pinch double and Hoyt Wilhelm came through with the 100th relief victory of his career.

The White Sox are idle today but take on the league-leading Detroit Tigers Tuesday night.

A three-run homer by Ron Santo in the first inning and the four-hit pitching of Rich Nye paved the way to a 4-1 victory for the Chicago Cubs over the Houston Astros.

It was a switch for Nye who came up late last season and in 22 1-3 innings he had worked in the majors the Cubs never had scored a run for him.

The Cubs are idle today and open a three-game series in Atlanta Tuesday night.

U. S. in 5-0 Sweep Of West Indies in Davis Cup Play

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — Charles Pasarell and Cliff Richey scored easy victories Sunday and sewed up a 5-0 U.S. sweep of the British West Indies in the first round of the American Zone Davis Cup play.

Pasarell, from Puerto Rico, whipped Richard Russell of Jamaica 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, while Richey, from San Angelo, Tex., took Lance Lumsden, of Jamaica 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2.

The life and activities of the cheerleader were portrayed by advisor Mrs. Alfred Zellner and varsity captain Debi Boese introduced the varsity, jayvee and freshman squads.

Bill Kiss spoke as a special guest, and John Steudel was master of ceremonies for the event.

The film of the entire FVL-Northwestern Prep football game was shown in color.

Goldbeck, at 6-7 the tallest player in FVL history, as FVL's answer to Alcindor. He noted that one peculiarity of the varsity team this year was that they never had their fill of practicing. He then ran through a thumbnail sketch of all the varsity players.

Judo instructor Gerald Mallmann spoke of the team's achievements during the past year and plans for the coming year. He also introduced the entire team.

Willard Lueders, head track coach, introduced his squad and made comparisons between the best times and distances of last spring and the best ones thus far this year. He noted that in seven events they were better this year and another was equal.

Chandler 12th On Active Player Scoring List

NEW YORK (AP) — Kicking specialist Don Chandler of the Green Bay Packers is only 66 points short of joining the National Football League's list of 500-point career scorers.

Chandler in 11 seasons has kicked 75 field goals and 209 extra points.

He ranks 12th on the NFL's active player scoring list headed by Cleveland's Lou Groza.

Groza had 1,273 points in 16 seasons for a long lead over former Packer Paul Hornung of the New Orleans Saints. Hornung had 760 points in nine seasons.

The only Packer ahead of Chandler on the list is Jim Taylor with 546 points in nine campaigns.

California Frog Wins With Leap of 12-10

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — From over California, they came by car, truck and bus—even in ambulances and helicopters—with jumping frogs for the 14th annual Del Mar Frog Jump.

While an estimated 10,000 people watched, 583 hoppers competed Sunday in the eight-hour event.

The winner, Crofton Springer, won with one leap of 12 feet, 10 inches.

Miss Wright Wins Crown In Shreveport boosted scores, Miss Wright staved off a rally by Sandra Hayne Sunday to win the $10,000 Shreveport Kiwanis Club LPGA Invitational.

Her 54-hole score over the 6,235-yard Palmetto Country Club course, which plays to a par 36—72, was 75-70-74—219.

Miss Haynie reached the 18th green and needed to can a 15-foot putt to send the tournament into a sudden death playoff. But the ball slipped past the cup.

It was the first tournament victory of 1967 for Miss Wright and her slice of the pot was a $1,500 check.

Miss Haynie's 73 gave her a 220 for second place. Carol Mann and Clifford Ann Creed tied for third with 224s.

How Building Revival Effects Our Economy

BY SYLVIA PORTER
Those of us who believe our economy will be in an upswing in the final months of 1967 are counting heavily on a substantial revival in the building of houses — to say, a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,500,000 or so, a full 500,000 above the annual rate at the start of the year.

What would an additional 500,000 houses mean? Why is this one statistic so important in our prediction of a general upturn? Assuming it's valid to claim that the good health of the homebuilding industry is crucial to the good health of the entire economy, what makes the claim valid?

The first paragraph in this column is deliberately written in the bafflegab commonplace in economics reporting. It cries out for translation — and here I go.

The Translation
Homebuilding is at the top of America's major industries. It ranks second only to food and food processing in dollar totals. This one industry provides close to 3,000,000 jobs a year, with each new house creating about two man years of employment, half off-site, half on-site.

The structure itself is just the shell. Into each new house go more than 3,000 different items. A new house, therefore, spurs activity in hundreds of thousands of factories the nation over, creates work for hundreds of thousands of suppliers from coast to coast, employs the services of bankers, insurance companies, real estate agencies, public utilities.

Each new house generates spending for new appliances, drapes and curtains, garden plants and equipment, furniture — and perhaps a new car too. The National Association of Home Builders estimates this spending at $3,000 per unit.

Service Costs
Each new house, upon completion and purchase, also generates spending for directly related service industries. This total, the NAHB calculates, comes to about $1,000 per unit.

This, too, is just the beginning. When new houses are built, other significant construction always follows for new or bigger schools, for more churches, for new community facilities, for expanded public utilities, for better highways — and on it goes. Few industries have as enormous a "multiplier effect" as homebuilding. As construction activity spreads throughout the economy, every $1 of direct expenditure becomes $2.

Now even more specifically, what would an addition of 500,000 houses to the early 1967 building rate mean to other industries, and therefore, to employers and employees all over our country? Here are the National Association of Home Builders' estimates:

What They Require
This number of houses would require 425 million square feet of sheathing or insulation; 425 million square feet of veneers or siding; 100 million square feet of wood; 35 million square feet of asbestos; 5 million square feet of stucco and blocks; 2.5 million square feet of particle board; 32.5 million square feet of aluminum; 2 million square feet of plastic and 150 million square feet of glass and mirrors.

This total would necessitate 12.5 million gallons of paint; 3.7 billion bricks; 3 billion board feet of structural lumber; 5 million door units.

The 500,000 houses would involve 500,000 ranges; 500,000

Oily Hair Won't Prevent True Dandruff Problem

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain how a person can have oily hair and still have dandruff. Please describe methods of keeping the scalp free from white scale and itching. — Mrs. B.G.

Oiliness has nothing to do with preventing dermatitis — that is, skin disease.

And that is the nub of the dandruff problem. People assume that dandruff is something that ought to "wash off," instead of regarding it as what is: skin disease.

An occasional white speck doesn't mean dandruff. We are constantly shedding our skins, very slowly of course, but as the outer surface becomes dry, tiny bits will flake off. Friction and washing remove it from most of the body but the scalp, protected by the hair, often accumulates a few bits big enough to notice.

Real dandruff is another matter. Seborrheic dermatitis is at work. If it were on a part of the body that we could see, we would realize that something was wrong and required medical attention.

A mild case of dandruff, like a mild skin irritation elsewhere, may clear up of its own accord, or with the help of a germicidal shampoo. Rubbing the scalp with a cotton pad soaked in rubbing alcohol may control the mild case of dandruff.

But when it is severe and continues, trying to treat it yourself is as futile as trying to treat a severe skin disease elsewhere. The smart thing then is to go to a dermatologist (skin specialist). The usual result is clearing up the trouble promptly instead of wasting a lot of time with hit-or-miss remedies, meantime brushing the white stuff off your shoulders.

Or, if it is psoriasis, for which no dependable cure is known, you can at least get some effective relief for itching and then hope that the psoriasis will clear up spontaneously, as it sometimes does.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the cause of yeast cells found in a urinalysis: Is it serious? Is some disease the cause? — Mrs. J.A.

The Post-Crescent B 12

This is usually a matter of contamination from a yeast infection of the vaginal tract; that is, a form of vaginitis.

This is extremely common, and while not dangerous, can be annoying as well as difficult to subdue.

We usually think of "infection" in the sense of bacteria which cause disease, but there are other microscopic organisms which can infect the body. Fungi causing athlete's foot are an example.

There are other organisms which, if they invade the vagina, can flourish and be irritating. Some of these are yeasts. Diabetes should always be considered as a factor in infections of this sort.

Dear Dr. Molner: I injured my back last year and the doctor told me to get a steel back brace. I try to wear it but it gets on my nerves so badly. The doctor said I have a ruptured disc and another disc chipped and if I don't wear the brace it could collapse. He says surgery is the only thing that can help a ruptured disc.

What is your idea on that? — Mrs. O.M.

My advice, based on specialists in that problem, is to be sure surgery is necessary, but if it is, have it done. The doctor who has examined you is far the best qualified to know your condition. You can't stand the brace, and are in danger without it. I think that leaves one obvious answer: Surgery.

Shingles can be a painful disease! To receive a copy of my booklet, "The Facts About Shingles," write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Twisters Kill 12 in Midwest

8 Minnesota Communities Hit Hardest

WASECA, Minn. (AP) — Searchers probed through splintered rubble of homes smashed by tornadoes at Waseca and Albert Lea today grimly looking for more bodies in the aftermath of a night of storm terror which left a dozen dead, over 100 injured and property damage in the millions at eight communities and numerous farms.

A band of possibly a half-dozen tornadoes smashed across a 50-mile wide area of southern Minnesota around the dinner hour Sunday night.

"It was horrible!" exclaimed Mrs. Archie Draheim of Waseca. "We were sitting at the dinner table eating when the picture window hit me and my husband right in the face. There was no warning. There was this terrible rain falling and all of a sudden I was diving along the floor with glass all around me."

She and her husband were treated for cuts at a hospital and released.

Taken by Surprise

Countless others were similarly taken by surprise, even though a tornado watch had been issued by the Weather Bureau for the area.

The tornadoes roared upon them in the midst of heavy rains and nearing dusk, which apparently prevented them from watching the skies closely. Witnesses said the Waseca warning siren began blaring a couple of minutes after the tornado had passed.

One of the first on the scene at Waseca was Arthur Kost, whose ambulance service in Mankato took two ambulances to the stricken town of 6,100 some 25 miles to the east.

"I picked up two dead people, one of whom was almost decapitated," said Kost. "I saw several cars that had been knocked around like balls. At first, the hospital was a mass of confusion. People were sitting on chairs and lying on stretchers."

Five were killed in Waseca and two were critically hurt and taken to a Rochester hospital.

Police searched the wrecked area today but reported no additional dead or injured.

More than 60 persons were treated for injuries and 14 were hospitalized in Waseca. Police said eight Waseca homes were destroyed and about 30 others were damaged, some severely, on the south side of Clear Lake, where the twister hit. Many cars were damaged.

National Guard units were on duty guarding the twister-damaged area today but reported no additional dead or injured.

Police said the gold belonged to the London banking firm of N. M. Rothschild and Sons.

Although full details were still not available, the crime appeared to have all the hallmarks of the smoothly run great train robbery.

Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marine Pfc. Larry J. Geiger, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Geiger of Milwaukee, was killed by enemy mortar fire Wednesday in Vietnam.

Mercury to Dip

It's Warm Today, But Not for Long

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin, which escaped the severe storms and deadly tornadoes that lashed Minnesota Sunday, welcomed May with generally sunny weather today.

But a severe blizzard will have its effect on Wisconsin Tuesday when temperatures drop far below normal. Some light snow mixed with rain is expected in the north.

The central and southern parts of Wisconsin were under severe weather and tornado watch Sunday and Sunday night but the only severe weather was in the Superior and La Crosse areas. La Crosse had hail and a funnel cloud was sighted just east of La Crosse but no damage was reported.

Freezing Rain

The Superior region had rain, freezing rain, freezing drizzle, and sleet and thunderstorms at various times.

Forecasts for the Fox Valley, meanwhile, were for temperatures for the next five days to dip 12 to 16 degrees below normal, or into the 20s at night and not much higher than 40 during the day. Showers and possible sleet can be expected toward the latter part of the week, with precipitation totaling about one-third of an inch.

The blizzard in the Plains whipped snow along at up to 77 miles per hour from Wyoming to northwestern Minnesota. A surge of arctic air in the wake of the blizzard dropped temperatures as far south as the Texas Panhandle into the low 20s.

Britain Puts Conditions on Market Entry

Wilson's Cabinet Agrees to Apply To Customs Union

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Cabinet agreed Sunday that Britain should try again to join the European Common Market, but it set conditions apparently to assure protection of its trading interests.

The conditions were kept secret. They were part of a compromise agreement reached at an eight-hour meeting at Chequers, the prime minister's official country home.

Wilson sought a free hand to negotiate Britain's entry into the six-nation customs union.

But seven or eight of the 21 Cabinet ministers are known to oppose British entry. They stressed the economic risks and tried to attach conditions that might cripple British negotiators at Common Market headquarters in Brussels.

Resignations Delayed

Officials said the compromise foreshadowed, at least for now, any resignations by these ministers. Britain tried to join the Common Market in 1963, but its application was vetoed by French President Charles de Gaulle. British candidates have urged Wilson to join as quickly as possible then negotiate the best possible deal from the inside.

Explosion Kills 8 Arab Children

ADEN (AP) — Aden's two rival national groups joined today in a general strike protesting the explosion of a British-made antitank mine which demolished a school bus, killing eight Arab children and their driver.

British troops killed an Arab sniper this morning in the suburban Sheikh Othman district where the mine exploded Sunday. Three other persons, including a British major, were injured in scattered violence.

Alludes to Wallace

Romney Forecasts Third Party's Doom

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan said today a third party move in the 1968 presidential election would be both tragic and futile. He predicted voters of the South will reject the move.

"I don't think the states of the South should hook themselves to the principle. But he said legislation had created false hopes.

Romney said efforts in this area should be concentrated on state, local and private levels rather than trying to solve the problem by one approach such as federal law.

Romney was asked his reaction to the cordial meeting of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia recently.

"It's interesting to see what strange bedfellows develop in politics and I think —" he paused. "Well, that's all."

Later Romney said he shares the concern of others that the civil rights movement is in trouble, but he said the movement still can go forward if mobile officials demonstrate their willingness to implement rights guarantees.

a fallen star," Romney, a Republican, said at a news conference, opening a whirlwind campaign-like speaking tour in Atlanta.

Romney said a third party campaign, which former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama has indicated he will head, would have less effect if the people of the South understand what is involved.

"Self-Defeating

"Once they see that this effort is futile and self-defeating, they will not support it," said Romney, who did not mention Wallace by name.

"I think it will hurt the Democrats more than it will hurt the Republicans," he said.

Romney said federal legislation was not the primary need in civil rights. In response to repeated questions, Romney refused to say if he supports the open housing bill now in Congress or whether he supports

Dogfights Over North

Three More MIGs Downed

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. pilots shot down three more Communist MIGs over North Vietnam today while just south of the demilitarized zone U. S. Marines suffered and inflicted heavy casualties battling North Vietnamese soldiers for a strategic hill.

A Marine spokesman said 49 Marines were killed and 156 wounded as they fought for a foot Sunday up the slopes of twin-peaked Hill 881. The Marines have had 86 men killed and 240 wounded in the past week in the area.

The spokesman said the Marines killed 180 Communists. Elements of two Marine battalions clung to their positions overnight and moved forward today in a new attempt to take the summit for use as an outpost for checking North Vietnamese movements. There are reported to be 35,000 North Vietnamese regulars in and around the demilitarized zone, possibly poised for a major assault.

Tons of Bombs

As the Marines halted their advance late Sunday, tactical bombers and B52s dumped tons of explosives on the North Vietnamese positions.

The air war flared to a new intensity with 133 missions over North Vietnam and a record 577 strikes over the south.

Two U. S. Army helicopters collided over the Bien Hoa Airbase, 15 miles northwest of Saigon, late today and all eight crewmen in the two craft were killed, a U. S. military spokesman said.

The MIG kills brought to 48 the total number reported shot down in the war, including four in the last two days. The U. S. command has announced the loss of 13 U. S. planes to MIGs.

There was no announcement whether any U. S. planes were lost in the latest dogfights, but in a delayed report the U. S. command said an F4C Phantom was downed by ground fire April 29. The two crewmen were listed as missing. It was the 522nd American plane reported lost over the north.

U. S. Navy pilots from 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin were credited with bagging two of the MIGs today.

Whether they were the late-model 21s or the earlier, less maneuverable 17s was not known. The specific area where they were shot down was not announced.

In the third kill, a U.S. Air Force Phantom drove a MIG17 into the ground during a dogfight between eight F4C Phantoms out of Da Nang airbase and eight MIGs about 20 miles southwest of Hanoi.

Air Force pilots founded Communist rail lines and yards in the Hanoi area during 65 missions over the north Sunday. The Air Force missions were the largest since last Oct. 12, when 66 were flown.

The 577 air strikes in South Vietnam—214 in support of ground operations—topped the previous high of 575 over the south March 12.

Red China spurned a Soviet call for united action to help North Vietnam, terming Soviet leaders "accomplices to U.S. gangsters."

A long article in the Peking People's Daily, the Chinese party paper, said acceptance of U.S. offers to end the war could lead to the loss of North Vietnam. The comment was probably aimed at discouraging North Vietnam from entertaining peace notions.

Orderly rallies were held in 800 Japanese cities and towns by an estimated six million Japanese. Socialist party Chairman Kozo Sasaki set the tone for a Tokyo rally by declaring that "American imperialism in Vietnam poses a dire threat to world peace."

Mao Makes Appearance

Communists Give Annual May Day Exhibits of Power

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the new Soviet defense minister, opened May Day ceremonies in Red Square today with standard Soviet attacks on the United States, West Germany and Red China.

No new weapons were among the 330 that rumbled through the square in the annual parade. Observers believe the armed forces are saving up surprise weapons for a splash display on

Nov. 7, the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Mao Tse-tung made his first May Day appearance in five years as he and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao, rode in an open car through hundreds of thousands of Chinese at a rally in Peking.

Liu Missing

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said it was Mao's first public appearance since last November and the first time during China's current power struggle that Mao's chief adversary, President Liu Shao-Chi, did not attend a mass gathering with other Chinese leaders.

The Moscow parade displayed antiaircraft rockets of the kind used in North Vietnam against American planes, interballistic missiles and 110-foot intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Among those on the reviewing stand were Communist Party Secretary General Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Grechko made a milder speech than usually came from his predecessor, the late Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

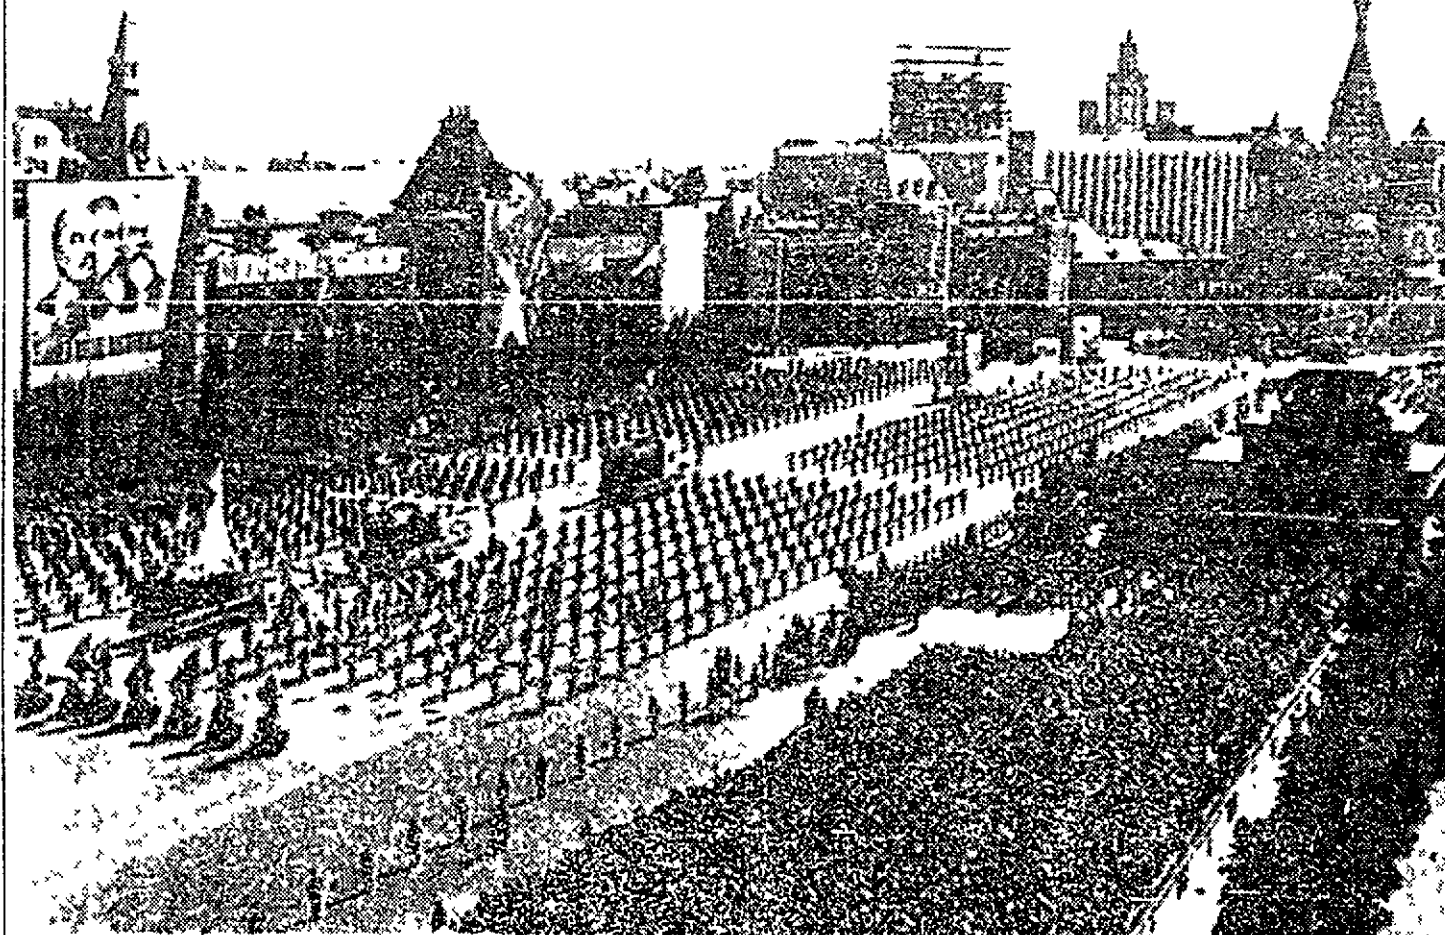

In his six-minute speech, he charged that the "monopolistic bourgeoisie" in the United States are responsible for the Vietnamese war.

Political Factions Vie For Dr. King's Support

Report Administration Seeks Meeting
Of Negro Leader and President Johnson

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Quiet efforts by politicians close to President Johnson are now underway to arrange a meeting between him and Dr. Martin Luther King, whose sharp attacks on the war in Vietnam have broken the already battered civil rights front.

The move to bring the President and the head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference together is simply one manifestation of the severe battle for the soul of Dr. King.

Broadly speaking, the two opposing sides are the traditional liberal movement and the New Left. The increasingly strident New Left lost an important round this week in Atlanta when King said he had no intention of running for president on a third-party "peace" ticket.

But that statement happened such liberals as Allard Lowenstein, a member of the board of Americans for Democratic Action, and other traditional liberals. They would have preferred an outright repudiation of all third-party prospects by Dr. King.

Pushing hard on the other side are such leaders of the New Left as Dr. Benjamin Spock, who is ambitious to run for vice president on a King anti-war ticket, and Robert Scheer, defeated New Left Con-

The battle between these forces for the soul of Dr. King is full of propaganda plays and jockeying for momentary advantage. For example, King a year ago said privately he would never again share a platform with Stokely Carmichael, "black power" devotee and head of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee.

But King found himself sharing a platform with Carmichael at the United Nations Plaza during the April 16 peace march, although he left before Carmichael attacked Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara as a "racist."

Furthermore, the struggle to keep Dr. King from all-out identification with the New Left and the peace-now movement is shaking the high command of his own SCLC. Personal aide Andrew Young is counselling go-slow while firebrand James Bevel pushes extreme militancy.

Dr. King, in short, is being fought over for his name, his prestige, and his influence on 20 million American Negroes. Caught up in the tug-of-war, he seems uncertain today about his own inner convictions and where they should lead him — a point forcibly made to Whitney Young, head of the old-line Urban League, in a one-hour midnight phone call from Dr. King last week.

BEHIND SENATE FIGHT

The deeper reason for Republican opposition to Senator Russell Long's campaign-fund law, now under attack in the senate, came out sharply in an unpublished meeting on March 20 in the office of Elmer Staats, who is now U. S. Comptroller General.

Staats is charged in the Long Act with overseeing the expenditure of the potential $60 million of presidential campaign funds to be raised by one dollar apiece deductions from income tax returns of U. S. taxpayers who choose to give.

At the meeting were four members of the advisory committee, set up in the Long Act, to work with Staats, and give him technical help. Republicans present were national committee counsel Fred Scribner of Maine and national committee-man Don Ross of Nebraska.

Representing the Democrats were Arthur Krim, president of United Artists and President Johnson's chief political fundraiser, and James A. Farley, New Deal chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

No decisions were taken at this session, but it was clear that the Republicans are most concerned that the new law not be used to hamper collection of campaign funds from private donors. In other words, the Republicans are fearful that the law might end their great advantage in private fund-raising ($17 million for them to $11 million for the Democrats in the 1964 Presidential race).

The Republicans have voted solidly for the senate amendment, sponsored by Democrat Albert Gore of Tennessee, to repeal the Long Act. The reason usually given is that the act is too full of imponderables and needs some serious rethinking. Their real reason is the obvious but unstated one — it might tend to equalize the size of campaign funds.

Pat, Luci Move Into New Home

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Pat and Luci Nugent, son-in-law and daughter of President Johnson, apparently moved Saturday into their new French-style home in West Austin.

Neighbors said a large truck moved in the couple's household goods Saturday morning.

Later in the day, three Secret Service men, an electrician and a locksmith joined Pat and Luci at their new home, purchased for a reported $70,000.

Austin lawyer Phil Sanders had an ad in Saturday's Austin American-Statesman with the couple's honeymoon apartment for rent. The ad said:

"Pat and Lucys' (sic) 2br, 2bth. Call Phil Sanders." The ad gives two telephone numbers.

Pat and Luci moved into the duplex in September when they returned from their honeymoon. They were married Aug. 6. Rent on the apartment reportedly was $175 a month.

A special room with a one-way glass window was built in the carport for Secret Service agents and closed-circuit television cameras were placed at strategic corners of the duplex to warn of possible intruders.

Paper Replaces Old GI Mess Kits

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) —

Paper plates have taken the place of mess kits in Vietnam, the annual meeting of the Keyes Fibre Co. was told recently.

"It's a bit of a drag on our ability to serve our regular customers," said Robert G. Fair-burn, board chairman of Keyes, which manufactures the molded paper products.

"But we're doing it both out of patriotism and because it's good business in the long run," he added.

"Those servicemen will return to private life and then will be our customers," Fairburn explained.

County Nurse Arranges Tuberculin Skin Tests At 5 Calumet Schools

Parents Must Record Cards for Testing of First, Ninth Graders

CHILTON — First and ninth grade pupils in Calumet County schools will be offered tuberculin skin tests beginning May 3 at five locations.

Letters have gone to parents from Mrs. Elizabeth Behnke, public health nurse, announcing the program in cooperation with the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association and with the approval of the Calumet County Medical Society.

Read Test
Mrs. Behnke reports that the harmless skin test indicates whether or not tuberculosis germs have ever entered the body. A small amount of fluid, called tuberculin, is placed between the layers of skin on the forearm. The test is read 48 to 72 hours later.

If a positive reaction results, a chest x-ray will be recommended, and examination of close associates of the child will be requested, to help locate the source of infection.

Request cards, which also have been mailed to parents, must be returned before tests are given.

List Schedule
The schedule is as follows: St. Charles, Charlesburg; St. Martin, Charlestown; Holy Trinity, Jericho; St. Augustine, Chilton; St. Mary, Chilton, and Chilton Public Schools will report to the Chilton Public School small gym May 9, at 8:30 a.m. and return for reading May 11, at 8:30 a.m.

St. Anne, St. Anne; Holy Rosary, New Holstein and New Holstein Public School will report at the New Holstein Public Grade School home economics room May 9 at 1 p.m. and return May 11, at 1 p.m.

An outbreak of vandalism involving broken aerials was reported in Appleton and the surrounding area Friday night. Raymond Salter, 214 E. Atlantic St., told sheriff's department authorities that about 10 aerials were broken from cars parked around the Left Guard Charcoal House in the Town of Grand Chute.

City police investigated the report of an aerial being broken from a car owned by John Church, 517 N. Bateman St., while it was parked in the 800 block of E. Lindberg St. about 12:15 a.m. Another was investigated at 1 p.m. when the aerial was ripped from a 1967 car at 2 West Court.

Authorities are investigating all the incidents.

Valley Planners Elect '67 Regional Officers

MENASHA — Officers whose terms might be cut as short as 30 days if the Fox Valley Council of Governments is ratified, were elected recently at the annual meeting of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

The officers re-elected include Ralph Risley, Menasha, chairman; Don Colburn, Neenah, vice chairman, and Arthur Vanderheiden, Kimberly, secretary-treasurer. The officers were nominated by a committee headed by Laurel Heaney, chairman of the Town of Neenah, and elected on unanimous ballots.

Cut Terms
Their terms of office, however, will be cut to about 30 days if the proposed council of governments is approved by the Stockbridge High School students and one faculty member, marched in Chilton Saturday to urge a 'no' vote in Tuesday's school-district referendum. The group, pepped up by a three-piece band, sang a parody-protest song to the tune of, "Hey, Look Me Over." The protestors were trailed by Chilton students. (Connor's Photo)

Human Rights Council

Towns Without Negroes Are Prey To Generalizations, Speaker Says

The director of the Federal Housing Administration for the State of Wisconsin told the Fox Valley Human Rights Council that many Wisconsin communities, now troubled with segregated ghettos, had no groups of concerned people determined to prevent it.

Lawrence S. Katz, spoke to the council in the Red-Room of the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. Thursday, and pointed out that a town like Appleton, which has no Negro families, is prey to fears based on generalizations.

He said there are many middle-class Negroes owning and maintaining homes surrounded with flowers, out of which comes the girl on her way to business college and the boy aspiring to a higher education.

The mishap occurred on W. Clover Road. The driver said there were deer in the road and he lost control of the car when he swerved to miss them. Damage to the 1963 model car was estimated at more than $1,500. The accident was investigated by Waupaca County police.

Street Decorations Set in New London

New Ornamental Floral Baskets Okayed by Beautification Group

NEW LONDON — New ornamental flower baskets have been approved by the New London Women's Club beautification committee to replace the street ornaments purchased seven years ago.

The decorations are expected to be up in time for Memorial Day after approval was given Friday at a meeting of the committee with several civic leaders.

Roy Bickle, representative of the firm from which the new decorations were purchased, explained the various styles of hangers to the committee and a final decision was made.

The new baskets will be circular with a grass-like covering and contain red flowers. The hangers will have a scroll effect and made of wrought iron.

Cost of Baskets
Total cost of the 78 baskets is $2,655. The money was raised by the Women's Club by sponsoring various fund-raising projects and through donations from businesses, service clubs and the city.

Baskets will be placed on utility poles throughout the business area. Committee members said 58

Horse Injured In Trailer Mishap West of Waupaca

WAUPACA — A four-year-old horse received cuts on its front legs about 8 a.m. Sunday when the trailer in which it was being hauled broke away from the back of a car, ran into a ditch and tipped over, six miles northwest of here on U.S. 10.

The horse was owned by Leo J. Kileen, 1504 Algoma St., New London, who was also driver of the car, which was pulling the trailer. To Act on Area Problems

Discussion Asked on Valley Chamber Unit

NEENAH — A meeting has been called to discuss a tri-county Chamber of Commerce "coordinating committee" to act on problems facing the Fox Valley region.

Representatives from Chambers and businessmen's groups from 16 communities have been invited to a noon meeting on May 10 at Nino's Restaurant.

County Gets One Firm in Five Years

Outagamie County trailed far behind most of the other counties in the state in getting new industries during the period 1962 through 1966, according to the State Division of Economic Development.

Appleton, the largest municipality in the county, has the dubious distinction of not getting a new major industry to locate here in over a quarter of a century.

However, in the county and city, there has been considerable expansion of existing industries, which has added to the countywide tax base.

Release Report

The state report, released in the division's monthly newsletter, lists Outagamie County as getting one new industry during the five-year period.

Outagamie is in the same class with Bayfield, Vilas, Florence, Dunn, Menominee, Kewaunee and Buffalo counties, which also claimed one new industry.

The Outagamie County record does not follow the regional pattern, however, according to the statistics.

Fond du Lac County reported 12 new industries and Winnebago County landed 10.

Elsewhere in the region the totals were: Sheboygan County, 5; Calumet, 4; Manitowoc, 2; Brown, 9; Shawano, 2; Waupaca, 6; Oconto, 7; Marinette, 14; Waushara, 5.

Southeast Leads

The heaviest concentration of new industries was in heavily industrialized Southeastern Wisconsin, including Milwaukee, Waukegan, Ozaque, Walworth, Dane, Rock, Racine and Kenosha counties.

In the business upswing between 1962 and through 1966, Wisconsin counties reported 466 new manufacturing plants. Broken down they were: Newly organized companies, 220; branch plants with out-of-state headquarters, 66; branch plants with in-state headquarters, 68; parsonage, or bring them to the parsonage garage. Catalogs and magazines are not acceptable.

"... Some of the counties that gained few plants during the period had impressive growth of existing factories," the report said.

Labor Available

"Of special interest is the fact that predominantly rural or forest counties were able to attract new plants. In many cases this was the result of labor availability in a period of tight labor markets in the larger counties. It reflects also the successful efforts of local development organizations to attract new industries," the report concluded.

Recently, an Outagamie County Industrial Development Corp. was formed to put more emphasis on attracting new plants and helping existing firms expand.

Outagamie County is one of the counties where there is a skilled labor shortage, a factor which has entered into the picture.

Road Safety And Insurance Rates Related

If Highway Bills
Fail, Costs to Rise, Commissioner Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The highway safety bills heading for a showdown in the Legislature are directly related to the price of automobile insurance for thousands of Wisconsin motorists in the future, Insurance Commissioner Robert D. Haase said today.

If those bills fail, and the highway accident and loss rate remains high, the cost will be borne in "auto" insurance rate schedules for many years ahead, the chief of the state insurance agency said, in a message published in the organ of the Wisconsin Association of Insurance Agents.

Haase said bluntly that insurance coverage prices can be reduced only if:

—The state removes poor drivers from the roads through the proposal for periodic re-examination of motorists.

—The state "removes" the traffic-traps from the roads through comprehensive and annual motor vehicle inspection requirements.

—The law requires all new drivers to submit to road tests, as well as classroom instruction, to prepare themselves for driving responsibilities.

—The state eliminates drunk drivers through a requirement for chemical testing of drivers arrested for intoxication.

—The state prevents teen-age drivers from driving from town to town at night in search of beer bars, through a uniform age for the legal consumption of beer.

—The state provides a better assurance that irresponsible drivers on major highways are apprehended, through the establishment of a more adequate corps of state traffic patrolmen. "This is everybody's problem," the official warned. "For automobile insurance rates are high and they will tend to get higher until we take positive steps which will actually reduce the number of accidents."

Fremont PTA to View Display of Pupils' Art

FREMONT — A display of art work of the pupils of the Fremont Grade School will be featured at the Parent Teacher Organization at 8 p.m. Thursday. This final meeting of the school year will complete business preparations for the PTA meetings beginning next fall.

Mrs. Jack Abraham will be chairman of the hostess committee for the meeting in the gym.

Fox Valley Communities Back Hike in Bridge Funds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Fox Valley Communities rallied to a common cause recently and backed a state Senate bill which would allocate over $10.1 million a biennium for increased bridge construction.

Appearing before the combined highway committees of the state Assembly and Senate were representatives of cities, towns and counties from throughout the valley, backing a bill which would supply needed funds for bridge construction, including those crossing the Fox River.

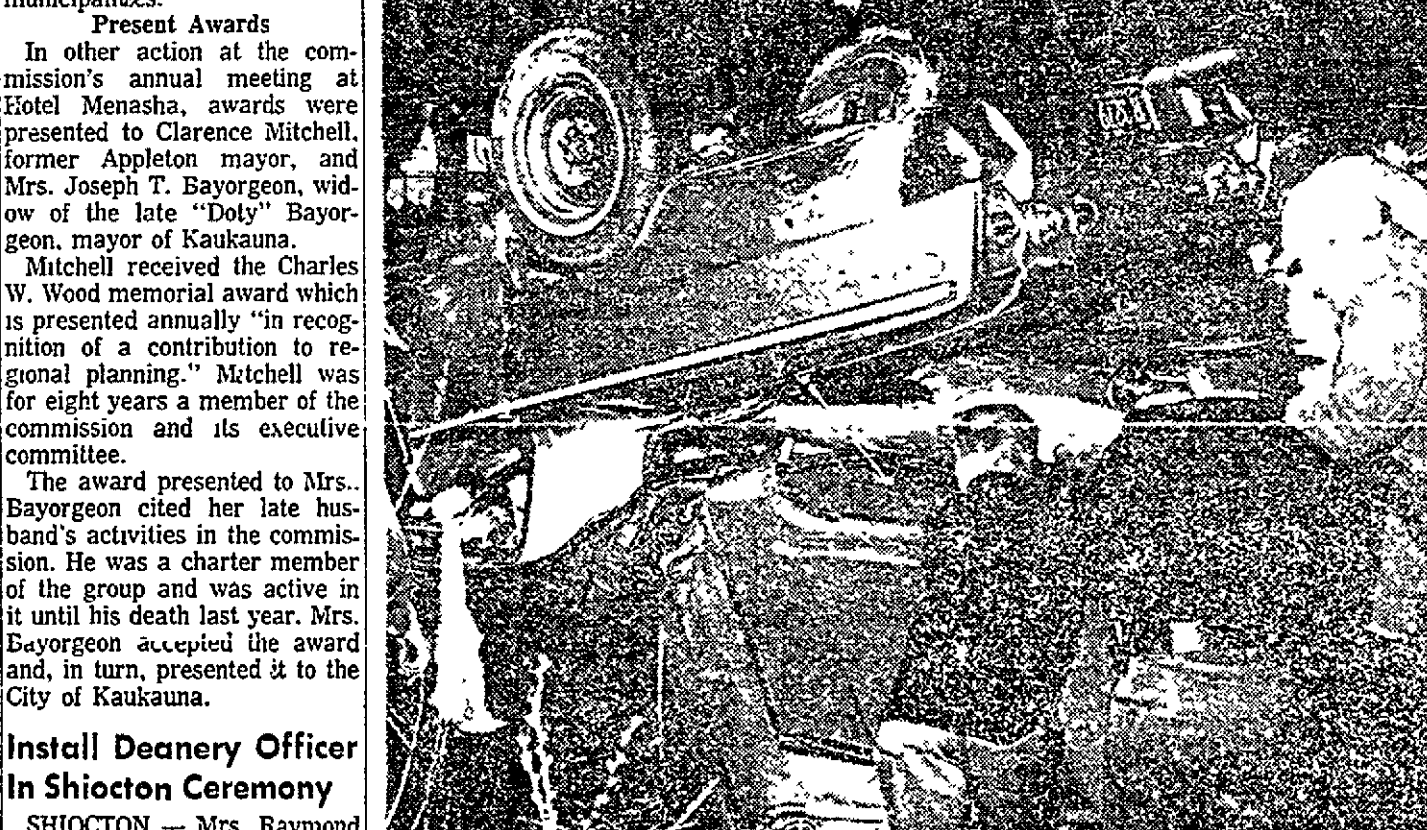

The bill, sponsored by Northeastern Wisconsin legislators would appropriate sales tax receipts from highway maintenance vehicles exclusively to bridge construction. A law written in 1911 now supplies $200,000 a year for such purposes and was unanimously condemned as "unrealistic" by witnesses appearing before the committees.

The proposal is expected to supply $4.9 million in 1967-68 and $5.2 million in 1968-69 for bridge construction throughout Wisconsin.

Bridge Needs
Co-author Sen. Rueben LaFave, R-Oconto, chairman of the Senate committee, pointed out at the start of the hearing that according to State Highway Commission estimates there is more than $131 million in unmet state bridge needs today.

"Our roads are only as good as our bridges... the state of Wisconsin has to meet its responsibilities as soon as possible so our citizens can safely cross our rivers," said LaFave. Green Bay Republican Sen. Turn to Page 3, Col. 2

Valley Backs Bill to Hike Bridge Funds

Robert Warren termed the supposed sharing of bridge costs on an equal basis between city, county and state a "true partnership" which never has been realistically funded.

"I feel this is a measure that is vital and crucial to a large, generalized portion of the economy of Wisconsin. The economy in many areas is effectively throttled" by a lack of bridges, Warren contended.

In the Fox Valley area alone, he said, there must be in the next four to five years about $40 million of bridge construction.

Mayor Donald Tilleman pointed out that all three Green Bay bridges had been completely funded by local taxpayers and the state had never been able to pay its share in such projects.

"We are not unique in the problems of bridges," he said, pointing to other areas of the state. Green Bay and Brown County can carry their share of bridge costs, Tilleman said. The state should also do so, he contended.

Ralph Risley of Menasha, chairman of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, pointed to a needed bridge off U.S. 41 over Little Lake Butte des Moris as the greatest need in the Southern Fox Valley area. The cost of the project will be $7 million, he estimated, and he said the burden of the project would be too great for the Town of Menasha alone.

Replacement Needed

E. Francis Brunette, Brown County highway commissioner, reminded the committees that the Fox Valley is not the only area which would gain from the proposal, indicating that bridges over the Mississippi River are in need of repair and replacement as well.

"The communities saddled with this problem are not unrealistic in asking the legislature to help. The $10 million biennial program is only the start on a big job," he said.

Other Fox Valley witnesses included Eugene Franchette of Appleton, executive director of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, who told the committees that within the next 10 years localities will construct six new bridges between the Winnebago County line and Kaukauna.

The estimated cost of the bridges is $32 million, he said. "This is $1.6 million a year over the next 20 years."

He asked the committees to allow credit for work done in acquiring property for right-of-ways in expressway systems, including bridges, as an inducement for such advanced planning and preparations for future needs.

Other witnesses included A. J. Kornder, chairman of the Winnebago County Highway Commission; Sen. Alex Meunier of Sturgeon Bay; Assemblymen Lawrence Kafka, R-Green Bay, and Cletus Vanderperren, D-Green Bay. Also appearing in favor of the proposition were Richard Helf, Kaukauna; F. J. Euclide, Green Bay; Roland Kampe, Town of Menasha chairman, and Robert Mortenson, of the Wisconsin County Boards Association.

State Tax Commissioner James Morgan opposed the proposal.

Tests Show Inactive Power Plant Ready if It Is Needed

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has begun routine testing of boilers and generators at its power plant in the industrial flats.

"Since 1956 the plant has been operated on a standby basis in case emergencies should ever occur," J. K. Babbitt, assistant vice president, said. "The tests show that the plant will be ready to operate, if it's ever needed."

Along with the tests, the utility is doing routine maintenance work in the plant, Babbitt explained. He said that most tests will be scheduled as the work progresses. When the boilers and generators are being tested, pollution control devices in the smokestack will "wash" the smoke and remove fly ash. Tests similar to those now underway were conducted in 1959 and 1963.

"When the Appleton power plant was built in 1916, it was considered one of the most efficient generating plants in the country," Babbitt stated. "But, over the years improvements in the technology of generating power have made new plants more efficient. In recent years, we have found it more economical to transmit to the Fox Valley power generated in newer and larger plants in the Milwaukee area."

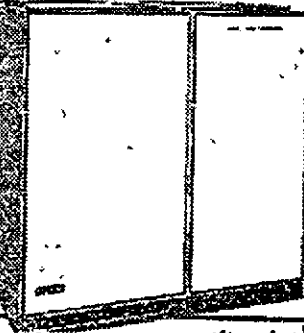

In addition to the six coal-fired boilers and four generators now being tested, the plant

City Officials Urged to Fight Towns' Measure

Appleton Mayor Says Delegation Will Attend Hearing in Madison

Appleton city officials will join others from Wisconsin Tuesday in a Madison appearance to oppose a proposed bill enabling towns to become third or fourth class cities.

The legislation was introduced recently by the Suburban Towns Association which has some members in the Fox Cities region.

Ed Johnson, Madison, executive director of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, sent letters to mayors of all cities and villages recently urging their attendance at a hearing on Bill 582A in the state capitol at 9:30 a.m.

"Serious Effect"

At the same time Johnson said in a letter to Mayor George Buckley and other governmental heads in the Fox Cities, Neenah, Menasha, Kaukauna, Oshkosh and other state cities, that the proposed legislation . . . "could have a serious effect on the normal growth of your city."

The bill would amend 60.81 of the statutes and make it impossible for cities even to attempt to annex so-called "tax islands" at their borders.

Cities, on the other hand, have requested the legislature to update old annexation laws to give them more authority in starting annexations.

Referendum

Bill 582A being supported by the towns and fought by the cities would mean, if enacted, that any town with population of 5,000 or more and an equalized

The New Look for College Avenue

The proposed basic design concept for the "new" College Avenue business district was unveiled this week by professionals with years of experience and know-how in municipal and private landscaping and streetscaping.

It is an outstanding piece of work in terms of creativity, practicality and economics.

The proposed design is deserving of the all-out support of College Avenue merchants, city officials and the citizens of Appleton who will benefit from the proposed facelifting of the central business district in many ways.

Because time is now of extreme importance, and the fact that special committees have been discussing the design for months, it is imperative that the Common Council, at its next meeting, give the formal stamp of approval and authorize preparation of final working drawings so the actual streetscaping can start by the end of May. The community is indebted to the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce which put up the funds to cover the cost of the preliminary street design planning.

The proposed design was prepared jointly by Nelson and Associates, Inc. and R. C. Greaves and Associates, both Milwaukee firms with outstanding reputations for work in various parts of the country as planners, architects and streetscapers.

Confronted with a difficult situation in Appleton — the fact that the nine block reconstruction area on the Avenue is straight and wide — the professionals had to come up with a design that provided for free flow of pedestrian traffic while at the same time giving the street new vitality and a pleasant atmosphere attractive to shoppers as well as those working or just downtown. In no way will the plan interfere with vehicular traffic.

The price is right, and as Mayor George Buckley would say, "Right within the budget," so aldermen, merchants and property owners should make it a point to exercise objectivity and encourage implementation of the new design. The time for Appleton to transform its downtown area into one of the finest in the Midwest is now when the entire street is being overhauled and rebuilt.

And Now There Are Four

The Soviet Union has tasted that bitter pill known as a defeat in the race for the moon. While its space leaders claim that the mission which killed Cosmonaut Komarov was a success in all its aspects but its conclusion, few will doubt that — as far as the Russians themselves are concerned — whatever was learned from the flight of Soyuz I suddenly seems very, very small.

The United States and leaders of other world governments were quick to respond to the Soviet Union with statements of sympathy for the fallen cosmonaut. The United States, while not chastising the Soviets for exercising too much haste, as they did for us when we lost three astronauts in January, poignantly reiterated the plea for some sort of cooperation in man's efforts to stretch his conquests farther into space.

Without attempting to be chastisers ourselves, we look at the space race and wonder whether it really is that urgent that we get there first. Because the moon is there, we must go to it, but in this age of thermonuclear weapons and overkill it is hard to see how one nation could win such a great amount of supposed military advantage by being the first to leave this planet permanently.

At a time when so many aspects of the U.S.—U.S.S.R. relationship are mired in a cold war, the idealistic nation — which we consider ourselves to be — might find that a common sorrow could at least be the grounds for a cease-fire on one of the war's fronts. If Cosmonaut Komarov's last mission could begin to get the two great powers together on something in which they have hitherto been a continent apart, we will readily admit that the cosmonaut was a hero of the Soviet Union, and award him a medal or two of our own.

Exploiting Foreign Aid

In the immense bureaucracy of foreign aid there is probably no way to avoid entirely the errors which make some programs appear ridiculous. In essence Rutherford Poats, President Johnson's new appointee as deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development, said this to a congressional committee investigating Poats' appointment.

But the latest flub was certainly a master one and publicity about it surrounds the questioning of Mr. Poats.

It seems that a man named Thomas Higgins, who calls himself an inventor, worked out an arrangement with a South Vietnamese, Dinh Xuan Thao, to send what was supposed to be a battery additive to Vietnam and for Thao to act as the sales representative for it.

Then Higgins put together his additive "in a little garage out behind the house." The stuff was a grey-green powder consisting mostly of epsom salts and ammonium sulfate. Each three ounce packet cost Higgins about 4½ cents. Each was put on the Vietnamese market at $1.60.

There were some 240,000 shipped and paid for through letters of credit but all but 150 of them were stored in a warehouse and eventually dumped into the river. It was just as well because the United States Bureau of Standards said the stuff was "without merit" and the aid agency later cut off shipments.

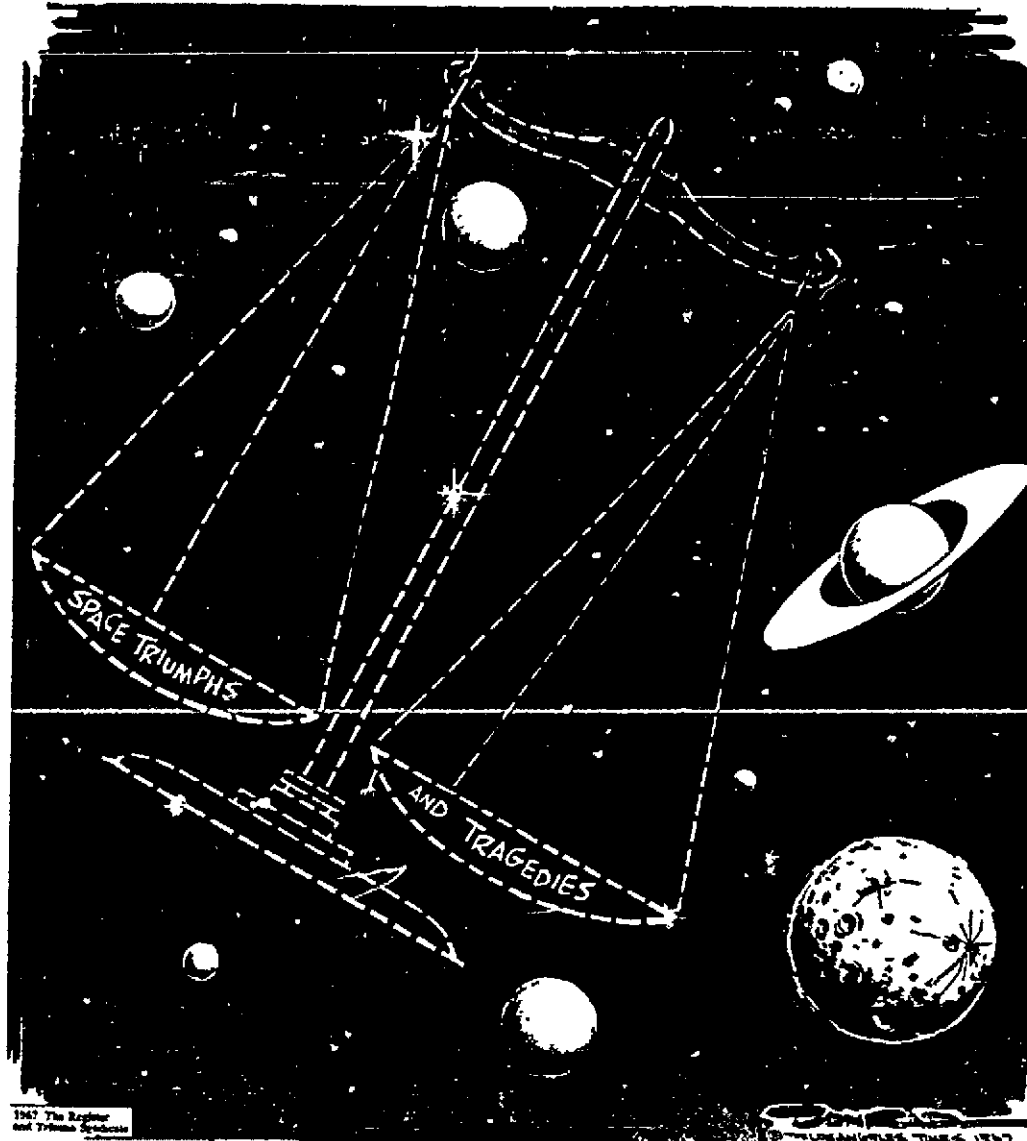

Higgins then had the import license amended so that he could ship a "rust inhibitor" and he collected $110,000 from that deal. With his letters of credit amounting to some $260,000 from the battery additive, he bought a $29,000 home, a $7,300 automobile, a $9,000 yacht and sent off $125,000 to his partner, Mr. Thao. The Government of Vietnam had been conned into issuing no less than 27 import licenses for the additive so that none would exceed $10,000 and have to be advertised and put up for competitive bids.

According to Poats, such incidents are "deplorable but unavoidable" because the aid agency program has been considerably increased as a counter-inflationary measure in Vietnam and there simply are not enough people on the payroll to make adequate checks. Spot checks are made and eventually someone on the staff gets around to each import license but there is "no possible way to audit the intentions of an importer." The aid agency guarantees payment to the United States supplier when the Saigon government grants an import license. There is no adequate way for the Vietnamese government either to be sure all transactions are honest.

Poats also conceded that the Viet Cong are able to pick up some American aid products since this is "a war with no fronts and with extensive infiltration."

There will always be exploiters, particularly during a war in which the demand for supervision has far outrun the supply of trained personnel. It is discouraging, however, to hear a proposed high official in the government concede that there really isn't very much that can be done.

Escalation in Bombing Is Serving Cause of Mao Faction in Red China

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

HONG KONG — Dean Rusk likes to say that he doesn't know what is going on in China, but isn't worried because Mao Tse-tung doesn't know either. And that proud ignorance provides a nice measure of the wisdom underlying the recent escalation in the bombing of North Vietnam.

For if the secretary was as much in the dark about China as he claims, then to escalate was to dice with destiny. And in that sense the warning implicit in Peking's claim to have shot down two American planes is salutary.

In fact, however, even Mr. Rusk is not as silly as he sounds. There are plenty of American officials, especially here in Hong Kong, with a pretty clear idea of what is going on in China.

By their measure the truly dangerous thing about escalation does not lie in the remote contingency of Chinese military intervention in the monumentally unimportant country that is Vietnam. It lies in the adverse impact that an atmosphere of tension has on the unmistakably vital matter of what is now going on in China.

MAO'S COUNTERATTACK

Basically what has been going on there is a struggle between those who would allow the Chinese revolution to wind down from its high pitch of Maoist fervor and the Maoists who want to breathe into it a new burst of fire.

Among those prepared to let it fade away, there are the Communist Party hierarchy headed by President Liu Shao-chi and First Secretary Teng

Kraft

Hsiao-ping, and the government structure headed by Premier Chou En-lai.

Indeed, these two groups formed an alliance after the failure of Mao's Great Leap Forward back in 1959. They pushed Mao into the background, and developed a policy that emphasized incentives and expertise as a means of developing the country as against the Maoist formula of mobilizing the masses by the pure milk of dogma.

The Cultural Revolution represents Mao's counterattack. And in his bid to come back, he has had one matchless asset — an heroic reputation of historic proportions. Thus, wherever possible, people who were not with him, even Liu and Chou, tried to drag their feet rather than break openly.

But otherwise, Mao has had tough going in trying to mobilize allies. He has had to rely heavily on a personal entourage including his wife, Chiang Ching, and his former secretary, Chen Po-ta. He has had to devise makeshift expedients such as the Red Communes and the Provincial Revolutionary Committees. For he has not been able to get hold of the regular instruments of control — the party and the army.

With the struggle thus tightly drawn, the atmosphere of events takes on a special importance. To survive, those who would resist Mao need a climate of relaxation favorable to the healing of wounds, the dimming of past conflicts, the blurring of ideological lines.

Maoism, by the same token, thrives in a climate of tension. For tension underlines the need for doctrinal purity, for rooting out doubters and traitors, for rallying round the trusted leader, and for repairing to the basic guerrilla experience out of which the Maoist vision was born. And that is particularly the case when the needs, as now, is to rally the armed forces.

ESCALATION IS BLESSING

Indeed, the Maoists seem currently to be fomenting an atmosphere of tension. They go out of their way to pick fights with the Soviet Union and with Indonesia. They go through the motions of working up a blood purge of Liu Shao-chi. And in that context the challenge laid down by the American escalation in Vietnam is a positive blessing.

To be sure, there are those who believe the prolongation of Maoism is in the American interest. They think Mao's supremacy assures hostility between Moscow and Peking and disruption in China. They may even feel that more of Mao vindicates their claim that Communist China is the same as Nazi Germany.

For my own part, I find that doctrine very hard to swallow. A China in tension seems to me to mean a world in peril. The long-term American interest, I think, lies in a strong and pragmatic Chinese regime, able to govern its territory and feed its people. And it is a mark of how much Vietnam has distorted the American sense of proportion, that for a short term gain in that minuscule country, the United States can promote in the heartland of Asia a course of events dangerous to the whole world.

Wisconsin Report

More Education Is Needed on Role of County Government

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — If the legislative commission soon to be set up for the review of local financing and government organization arrangements accepts its charge in perspective, it will probably spend some time examining the prospects for county government in Wisconsin.

The counties themselves, organized into the Wisconsin County Boards Association, are recognizing that the rules that governed them in earlier decades are probably inadequate for the requirements of today — and more particularly, the changing problems of a changing state in the future.

Thus the association is now asking the legislature to repeal the uniformity clause of the State Constitution, which derives from an era when all counties were rural, all were small, and all had relatively limited duties and responsibilities.

Today there are big counties and small counties. There are, more particularly, counties with economic and cultural characteristics, scarcely distinguishable from those of pioneer times. There are others, and there will be more, that are increasingly confronted with the numerous and demanding problems of urbanized communities.

CHANGE HAS OCCURRED

For many years the counties of Wisconsin had less prestige and popular recognition than other local governments. In part this was because of the constitutional limitations imposed upon them, in part because they joined for legislative and political representation in comparatively recent times. More particularly they were thought by so many of their constituents to be undemocratic in their organization and attuned in outlook to the simplistic views of another time.

In that regard, perhaps the most important advance for counties was the reapportionment legislation of two years ago. Today for the first time in the memory of most Wisconsin voters, in most localities, the county board is organized under the rules of equal representation. As a result the impression in the average urban resident's mind that the county is something that concerns only his rural cousins and that it is typically run by red-necks — in the phrase of an Outagamie County supervisor the other day — will disappear. Counties will again become politically respectable among serious citizens and small "d" democrats.

Such more responsible and responsive organization of the counties comes at a time of obviously expanding problems of the counties as governmental units in those sections of the state which are industrialized, urbanized, and growing in population with the result that the thousands of citizens have spilled across city corporate boundaries. The trend is shown currently in conservation, water quality control and zoning developments in the legislature.

OTHER ROLES SUGGESTED

There is serious talk about installing the counties in other new and important roles, such as the current proposals for improvement of property tax administration by the establishment of county assessment services. Counties will be involved in libraries, perhaps in additional educational and health services, and others, in the view of careful students of local affairs.

This is the ultimate meaning of the seemingly innocuous plan for the repeal of the "uniformity" requirement of the State Constitution. Yet it may take more educational effort than has yet been provided. Already some of the municipality spokesmen are showing reservations and their fears about what the counties may ultimately design, and especially the comfortable and content satellite municipalities surrounding some of the larger cities of Wisconsin.

They are trotting out the spectre of "metropolitan government," overlooking the fact that the decision in the end will be made by the legislature. The immediate issue is whether the legislature will be permitted to consider it.

Strictly Personal

Use of Prepositions Is Purely Arbitrary

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A reader in Miami writes to express his annoyance at (annoyance with? annoyance over?) the use of the preposition "on" in the phrase "we're staying on Miami Beach for a week."

But there is no point in

being annoyed at the use of prepositions in the English language. They are utterly capricious, peculiar and arbitrary. "We're staying in Miami Beach" is really no more "correct" than "on" or "at."

For instance, do we live "in" a street or "on" a street. Some authorities prefer one, and some the other. And when we are punctual for an appointment, Americans say we are "on time"; the British say "up to time."

Prepositional usage changes from class to class and from age to age. In reciting the Lord's Prayer today, everyone would say "Thy will be done on earth, as it is in Heaven." If you look closely at the King James Bible, however, you will find that it is written: "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in Heaven."

Again, in England, people get "in" or "out" in a train; in America, we get "on" or "off" it. And when we are "on" a ship, the British are "in" it.

Why do we say that we are "in" Boston, but "at" Cambridge, or "in" Rome, but "at" Vatican City? Generally speaking, as Logan Pearsall Smith has pointed out, we use "in" for large cities and capitals, and "at" for smaller places — but Shakespeare himself used "at London."

And who knows why we tamper "with," but tinker "at"; why we find a fault "in" a person, but find fault "with" him; why we act "on" the spur of the moment, but "at" a moment's notice; why we say "for" long, but "at" a moment's length; why we describe a pond as full "of" water, not full "with" water, as a garden is "fair with flowers."

In America, we say "different from" but in England it is "different to," or "different than." We "cater to" someone, while they "cater for" someone. And how is it that a man in a stockade is "surrounded by enemies," but a man in a library is "surrounded with books." One change taking place today is "oblivious of," which is found in most good writing, and "oblivious to," which is becoming popular usage, and no doubt will soon bury its earlier preposition.

The French have neatly solved this problem with the omnibus use of their little preposition "à," which can mean "at," "to," "by," "for," "problem for the foreigner is figuring out which one is meant in any given sentence. Language was invented before logic for sure.

Law Speeds Up Ballot Count

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 4, 1876.

A new law in relation to the election returns and canvass of votes was passed at the recent session of the Legislature, intending to obviate the too frequent neglect in forwarding returns of elections, and to provide a remedy for informal returns.

It provides that the county canvass shall take place as soon as the returns are all in, and if they are not in by Saturday succeeding the (Tuesday) election, this clerk shall dispense a messenger for those behind, and if, when the canvass takes place, any of the returns are found to be so irregular that they cannot be canvassed, the returns are to be taken back by a messenger, commanding the inspectors to complete their returns.

The design of the bill is to get the returns sooner than is the case under the present law and have them canvassed, which can be done the day after the election, if those entrusted with the returns will start for the county seat the next day.

When the canvass is made the statement and determination of the canvassers must be published.

'Shocking' Costs Were Nothing New

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Regarding the recent Post-Crescent editorial "A 'shocker' for Appleton" — what a revelation! So the finance committee chairman was realistic in terming the finance director's very sobering message a "shocker". Good grief! I'd like to know whether the Post-Crescent, the Chamber of Commerce, and all the other groups who are pushing the city to go on a money-spending binge were shocked also.

Supervisor John Schreiter has been declaring this "shocking" message to you people all along and all he got from the "Special" groups was ridicule. It looks as if the shoe is on the other foot, don't you agree? Ann Landers has advice for those groups and that is "wake up and smell the coffee".

Claim State Victim of IRS Discrimination In Tax Ruling Appeal

Wisconsin Will Carry Fight to Congress on Industrial Financing

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Wisconsin's congressional delegation was called upon Friday to declare the federal Internal Revenue Service "discriminatory" in its handling of a state appeal for consideration of proposed Wisconsin industrial development practices.

The Governor's Board on Economic Development voted to press its fight to win for the state comparable treatment as that afforded other states by the federal agency by taking its charges to the floor of Congress, if necessary.

First step in the process is an open letter to all 10 state representatives and its two senators, alleging that the IRS has refused to act for more than a year on a request by the state for consideration of a proposed amendment to state statutes to comply with federal taxation regulations and to allow the state to compete with 34 other states which now use municipal industrial development corporations as a source of industrial growth.

Based on 1965 Law

Heart of the problem is a law passed by the 1965 session of the Legislature, which would allow counties to create industrial development corporations which would sell bonds to raise funds to be used to promote growth.

One of the powers of the corporations is to issue the bonds to finance the purchase of industrial sites and the construction of industrial facilities.

In 1965 a Milwaukee County Industrial Development Corporation was formed along lines used by such concerns in other states, and asked for a ruling from the IRS that interest paid on its bonds was tax exempt, as had been done by the federal agency in dealings with the other states on many occasions.

Minor Objections

The IRS has refused to issue that ruling, citing two "relatively minor" objections with the state law, according to the board.

The first is the stipulation that while counties appoint a majority of the members to the governing boards of the corporations, they do not appoint all of those representatives. This is not sufficient indication of local control, the IRS maintains.

The other complaint holds that properties owned by the municipal corporations cannot be subjected to local property taxes, despite Wisconsin practices.

Development authorities have offered to win enactment of specific amendments to the state law to correct both points if the IRS will give an indication that such passage would finally result in a favorable ruling, the board wrote the congressmen.

"The members of the Governor's Board on Economic Development feel very strongly

Health, Recreation Committee Drafts Recommendation to Kaukauna Council

KAUKAUNA — The health and recreation committee has voted to recommend to the common council that overnight camping, not to exceed three days, be permitted at the Grignon Home Park.

A $1 per day fee would be set, with permits available at the police department. The recreation director would prepare rules and regulations governing camping in the area.

Members voted to advertise for bids on blacktopping the swimming pool entrance driveway and bicycle parking area and to secure estimates on the cost of a 1-inch blacktop mat for the tennis courts near the library. The committee will undertake a study of possible playground areas north of Council Trunk OO and will ask the mayor to consider appointing a citizens' committee to investigate a tree planting program for the city.

that this position of the Internal Revenue Service seriously discriminates against the State of Wisconsin to its substantial detriment in the area of industrial growth," the board stated.

Corporations Necessary

The development corporations are necessary in the state because the Wisconsin Constitution does not allow state borrowing for works of internal improvement.

Pointing out that while some congressmen may have personal doubts about the propriety of such tax exemptions for interest payments on such bonds, "there can be no question that it is a device in common use in at least 34 states. The failure of Wisconsin to have this industrial development device available to it places our state at a serious competitive disadvantage . . .

"If through congressional action, industrial revenue bond financing is totally eliminated throughout the country, Wisconsin could and would have no objection since its competitive situation would again be equal." But at present the situation is not equal and it cannot be until the ruling is made by the IRS, the board pointedly told the delegation.

Call of 'Fore' More Important Than Many Golfers Realize

Most golfers are only too familiar with sand and water hazards. However, the game involves some legal hazards as well. These won't add strokes to your score, but can be far more costly.

The courts have held that a golfer has a legal obligation to exercise ordinary care to prevent injury to others. Before hitting, it is a player's duty to give a "timely warning" to persons he knows are in line, or close to the line, of intended flight of the ball. Therefore, a healthy yell of "fore" is of far more importance than most golfers realize.

The courts have recognized that the average golfer cannot control the direction or destination of his ball. They have, therefore, held that a golfer assumes the risk that he might be hit by a ball which is sliced or hooked into the fairway on which he is playing. A golfer injured by such a hit could not recover for his injuries.

Courts have also held that it is impossible to anticipate that a fellow golfer might be injured by a shot, there is no liability. A situation such as this might arise when a ball is hit at right angles to the intended line of flight as would happen if the ball were hit off either the toe or shank of the club. A person standing at right angles to the person hitting is in a position of relative safety, and it is not possible for the hitter to anticipate his ball will take such a line of flight.

Generally, to avoid the legal hazards of golf for injury to others, study the rules and customs of the United States Golfers Association. Above all be courteous on the course. Give the players in front of you a fighting chance to get out of the range of the ball. Wait until other players are completely out of line or have left the green which is your objective, before you hit. If there is anyone in line of your shot, always yell "fore" before you hit.

Insurance is available from many companies at a relatively low cost to protect you from liability and provide anyone you might injure with the necessary funds to secure proper medical treatment.

Legal hazards are the costly

Romney Group Likely to be Led by Renk

Michigan Governor Would be on Ballot In State's Primary

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Wilbur Renk of Dane County, the last Wisconsin Republican nominee for U. S. senator and one of the party's leading Wisconsin exponents of political moderation, will probably head a voluntary committee to organize support for Michigan Gov. George Romney as a candidate for the 1968 Republican nomination for president.

Reliable sources here claim that Renk has consulted with Michigan party leaders about the Romney drive for Wisconsin convention delegates next year, and that their plans will be made public here soon.

Romney visited Madison last month and presumably consulted with Renk at that time, although the purpose of his visit was billed as a discussion with Knowles about common regional problems of the Great Lakes area.

Nixon, Too

Wisconsin has one of the earliest presidential primary elections in the country, and it is generally expected that former Vice President Richard Nixon also will file here. Nixon carried Wisconsin as the presidential candidate of the Republicans against the late John F. Kennedy in 1960.

Under Wisconsin law, presidential candidates are permitted to file here, or to avoid Wisconsin testing of their popularity, at their option.

A proposed change in the law, now being considered by the Legislature as a bipartisan proposal, would change the rules and require all de facto candidates, in both parties, to be listed on the Wisconsin primary ballot, unless they file an express disclaimer of candidacy.

Laird an Ally

Romney and Nixon, according to repeated soundings, are regarded as the chief contenders for the 1968 nomination by Wisconsin Republicans. Romney also has gained a strategically important ally in Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield, who has repeatedly declared his belief that he would be the strongest national ticket leader the party could choose.

That belief is shared by ranking members of the political circle of Gov. Warren P. Knowles, although Knowles has made it clear that he does not intend to involve himself in the primary campaign next April.

Rate Hike for International Mail in Effect

An increase in international surface and air mail rates will go into effect today. Postmaster Francis H. Sumnicht has announced. The new international rates will not apply to mailings for members of the armed forces overseas.

The increases for both surface and airmail, averaging 13 per cent, were first proposed Jan. 14 and publicly confirmed March 1. The department explained they were needed to help offset a deficit of about $16 million in international mail operations.

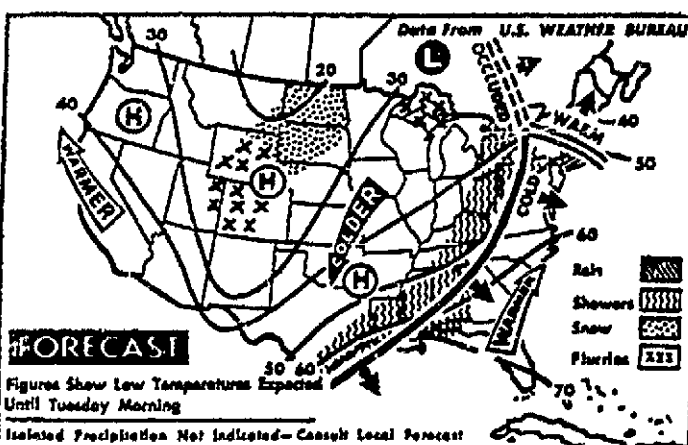

Rates Available

Specific information on the new international rates can be obtained from the service window at the post office, Sumnicht said.

C of C Wants Teaching of Free Enterprise

Idea Made Mandatory

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Under bi-partisan sponsorship, the legislature has been asked to make into law the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce proposal to require all high schools and vocational schools in the state to "provide instruction in basic the free enterprise system."

The measure bears the names of 34 assemblymen representing both political parties, including Speaker Harold Froehlich of Appleton, a Republican, and David Obey of Wausau, assistant minority leader for the Democrats.

"The bill specifies that 'the course shall provide adequate instruction in the principles of the free enterprise economy and the functions of free competition

Sherwood's Second Incorporation Plan Wins State Approval

Proposal in 'Public Interest' Referendum After Mid-June

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The new incorporation proposal for the planned village of Sherwood in the Town of Harrison, Calumet County, is in the public interest and should be granted the State Director of Local and Regional Planning has decided.

Al J. Karetzki of the state since has told planners for the proposed village that their altered plan meets legal requirements for the creation of the new community and that an incorporation referendum should be held.

The action comes three months after an original petition for incorporation had been denied by the state planning office because backers of the new community had included too large and diverse an area in their plan.

Filed With Court
The Karetzki report was filed with the Circuit Court of Calumet County.

According to state statutes, a date and place for a referendum will be set by the Circuit Court and the referendum will be supervised by three officials appointed by the court. The statute also provides the referendum cannot be less than six weeks after the date of the court order.

This would mean the earliest the Sherwood referendum could be held would be mid-June.

Karetzki said that "it is the opinion of the director that the proposed incorporation will result in an increase in the level of governmental services in the area proposed for incorporation at a reasonable local tax rate."

Meet Requirements
The state statutes set out a list of requirements which new communities must meet to win incorporation.

The state planning office determined that in each case the altered Sherwood plan either met the requirements or that the stipulations did not apply to the Calumet County community near Chicago and North West-Lane Railway tracks near Terry Lane about 7 05 p.m. Monday.

acres or slightly under one square mile. That plan is considerably less than the January proposal, Karetzki noted. Cut from the petition were rural regions totalling about 270 acres. The original plan would have created a village which was approximately 80 per cent rural in nature, he said.

The new proposal is compact and homogeneous, Karetzki agreed.

Sufficient Tax Base
He went on to say that there are sufficient tax and revenue bases for the creation of the village.

The only major fiscal problem confronting the proposed village according to the state office will be the need to finance sewer and water facilities expected to cost about $550,000. An engineering plan prepared by professional consultants indicated that through state aids, federal grants, operating revenues and local assessments, the costs can be met, says the state agency.

The Town of Harrison will not be overly affected by the loss caused by the creation of the new community according to the analysis. The new village if incorporated would take away about one-ninth of the town's total share of state aids and taxes. The village would account for approximately one-twelfth of the town's assessed value.

The proposed village would have a population of about 365 out of the 2,873 population of the town.

It is therefore concluded that the incorporation of Sherwood would not have unfavorable impact on the revenues or the services of the Town of Harrison," Karetzki wrote.

Salary Cost Up
The new contract makes top pay for a teacher with a bachelor's degree $9,760 at the end of 15 years, while a teacher with a master's degree can reach $11,088 after 17 years.

at $5.50 per hour but driver education instruction pay was increased from $3.50 to $4 per hour. Librarians will receive $5.50 per hour for summer work, junior high guidance personnel will receive regular salary and curriculum study work will be $4.50 per hour plus professional growth credit as evaluated by the district administrator.

Sick Leave
Sick leave for the first two years of service was increased from 10 to 15 days per year with the total permitted to accumulate to 90 rather than 75 days.

Negotiations on a teacher contract have been going on for several months with the teachers refusing to return contracts until settlement was reached. All negotiations were carried out by a teacher's committee and the board of education. The new contract with the exception of summer school clauses, takes in effect with the start of the new school year while summer benefits will begin June 1.

Migrant Workers Seek To Block Enforcement Of State Wage Rules

MADISON (AP) — Migrant farm laborers went to court Tuesday seeking an order preventing enforcement of wage rules adopted last year by the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations.

A hearing on the complaint was scheduled May 10 by Circuit Judge Norris Maloney. Jesus Salas, director of the migrant labor organization Obreros Unidos contends the department rules fail to guarantee migrants a minimum wage and do not force employers to keep records of hours worked by women and children.

The rules are to go into effect July 1.

CCHE Plans Strong Role in Budget-Cutting

Rothwell Intends To Leave Little for State Politicians

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Coordinating Council for Higher Education will take a stronger role in cutting Wisconsin's higher educational budgets in the coming year, its executive director indicated Tuesday.

The Coordinating Council, which oversees the state's systems of higher education, aims to "prepare a budget which we think will not offer itself for cuts for political purposes," said Angus Rothwell, its finance subcommittee of the CCHE.

The budgets submitted to the newly-elected governor this fall and forwarded to the Legislature in the spring will be ones that can be defended from A to Z," he stated.

Usefulness
If the Coordinating Council cannot perform that task, he warned the subcommittee which will be in charge of examining the budgets for the parent body, "I would assume the Coordinating Council would have no further usefulness to the state."

But I am sure that we can do the job," he stated.

The Coordinating Council, which is comprised of a majority of citizen members and a minority of representatives of the governing boards of the state's public higher educational systems, collects the budget requests from the educational agencies, trims them and passes them on to the governor.

In the past some institutional representatives on the board have struggled fiercely against the CCHE cuts maintaining fiscal year for the CCHE staff.

Drivers Plead Guilty Following Accidents

LITTLE CHUTE — Two drivers, pleaded guilty to traffic violations resulting in accidents when arraigned Monday before Municipal Justice Raymond Sanders.

Charles Atkinson, 24 route 2 Kaukauna, was fined $25 for failure to stop for an arterial resulting in an April 22 mishap and James Wegand, 17 130 Willow St., had his driver's license suspended for 30 days after pleading guilty to driving at speeds not reasonable or prudent. His vehicle left the road April 28.

that the group should second the requests of the educational systems and present a united front to the political participants in the budget process.

"Wisconsin has in the past shown its generosity to higher education," Rothwell said to the subcommittee.

"After preparing a budget as soundly and as well as we can if it is not accepted as such something will have to be cut something will have to be cut," he said.

Resource Limits

"We are a state of four million people," he reminded the subcommittee members as he pointed out that some backers of the systems' requests in the past have argued that the CCHE's concepts of the limits of state resources should not enter into their view of the budget proposals.

The Coordinating Council must "bear in mind what the resources of the treasury are on which we will have to draw," he stated.

We are going over the state universities' budgets and Irving the fat out of them before they have to be fired again," replied state university regent Norman L. Christianson of Roberts St. Croix County, in assuring Rothwell of agreement in purposes.

In other actions, the finance subunit endorsed a $302,000 operating budget for the coming fiscal year for the CCHE staff.

Appleton Beats Decatur, Takes Sole ML Lead

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Despite some persistence from the weatherman, the Appleton Foxes extended their Midwest League winning streak to three straight by handing the Decatur Commodores a 6-1 setback at Goodland Field Tuesday night. It gave the Foxes the undisputed league lead.

Veteran hurler Steve Kokor went the distance for the Foxes, stopping Decatur on a lone tally in the second frame which gave

Cardinals Get by Dodgers, 2-1 Astros' Dierker Blanks Reds

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

With nowhere to go but up, Larry Dierker and the Houston Astros went for double or nothing... and made a twin killing.

The Astros, rebounding from a chaotic 17-2 loss to Cincinnati that deposited them in the National League cellar, backed Dierker's two-hit pitching with five double plays Tuesday night and blanked the Reds 3-0.

It was only the second victory for the Astros in their last 11 games and the first triumph for Dierker after three straight setbacks during which he was given a total of three runs' support.

In other NL night games St. Louis held off Los Angeles 2-1 and Pittsburgh overtook the Chicago Cubs 4-3. The New York Mets edged Philadelphia 1-0 and San Francisco trimmed Atlanta 7-0 in afternoon action.

Pair of Singles

Dierker, a 21-year-old fireballer whose fortunes had sagged after an opening day victory over Pittsburgh, limited the hard-hitting Reds to a pair of singles. He struck out seven and issued three walks, but the Houston infield turned over double plays in the second, third, fourth, sixth and seventh innings for a single game club record.

The Astros broke up a scoreless duel between Dierker and Cincinnati southpaw Gerry Arrigo in the eighth, tallying all their runs on Ron Davis' double and singles by John Bateman, Denis Menke, Jim Wynn and Doug Rader.

Ray Washburn stopped the Dodgers with ninth inning relief help from Joe Hoerner and ran his pitching mark to 3-0 as the Cardinals won for the seventh time in their last eight starts.

3-Base Error

St. Louis scored its first run on a three-base error by left fielder Jim Fahey in the third inning and added what proved to be the winner in the sixth on Curt Flood's infield hit, a wild pitch by loser Bill Singer and Mike Shannon's bad-hoop single past second baseman Paul Popovich.

The Dodgers ruined Washburn's shutout bid in the eighth, when Fahey tripled and scored on an infield single by Popovich.

Pittsburgh spotted the Cubs two ninth inning runs, then rallied for three in the bottom of the ninth. Manny Mota driving OSHKOSH — The Indians, of Oshkosh High School grabbed nine first places and seven seconds in posting a track victory over Appleton East and West in a triangular here Tuesday.

Oshkosh recorded 91 points with East finishing second with 50 markers, and the Terrors of West had 18.

In addition to the nine individual firsts, the Indians also won both relay races.

Bill King paced the East trackmen as he won the high and low hurdles. The only other first place winner for East was Terry Calder in the shot put, with a toss of 51 feet 1 inch.

West had one first place winner as Steve Lamers took the long jump, with 20 feet 9 inches. In the event, Lamers defeated defending Fox River Valley Conference champion Dennis Lewellyn of Oshkosh by three inches.

Gunnar Naslund, of the Indians, set a new school record for the 2-mile with a clocking of 10 minutes 11.7 seconds to better the mark he set last Friday by 24 seconds.

Ruth Zittlow was worried. After firing 170 scratch in her first line (211 with handicap), she had only 97 pins through the eighth frame of her second game, and her hopes for a high finish in the Class B division of the Bowl-O-Rama Tournament suddenly seemed remote.

But Miss Zittlow, a Kaukauna native who works as an IBM programmer at the Aid Association for Lutherans in Appleton, then reeled off three straight strikes and finished up with a respectable 155 scratch total — or 196 with handicap.

Booming 223 Game

She went on to post a booming 223 scratch game in her third effort and wound up with 154 in her final line for a total of 702. With 41 pins handicap for each line, Ruth closed with an 866 final count and the distinction of being the new leader in the Women's Class B class. Her count was two pins better than the previous high of 864 registered by Waupaca's Ruth O'Connor Sunday.

"Those three strikes were more important than the 223 game," she pronounced afterwards with a smile. "I just can't believe it," the bespectacled miss added.

This was the second time Miss Zittlow had entered the Bowl-O-Rama meet. She had been a squad prize winner last year for a high individual game and repeated the trick Tuesday night on the strength of the 223 (264 with handicap). Ruth carried a 147-pin average into the '68 tourney from play in the Hit and Miss League at 41 Bowl.

No other divisions saw changes at the very top of the listings, but two keggers muscled their way into second place in the Men's Class A and B divisions, and several others moved into the Top 10. Only the Women's Class A division remained completely unchanged.

Kimberly's Cliff Sanderfoot powered an 892 4-game set to climb into second place in the Men's Class A division. He rattled an 808 scratch set, including one game of 227, and enjoyed an 84-pin handicap giving him his final count. Appleton's Earl Schabo is still on top with 945.

Melvin Uhlenbrauck, Appleton, also clambered into the second spot of the Men's Class B competition. A 206 high line helped Uhlenbrauck to a 777 scratch total, and 144 pins handicap boosted his final score to 921 — 38 pins fewer than leader Walter Simons of Greenville.

Also moving into the higher listings among the men were Larry Meissner, Appleton, who

Total for 1967 Reported at $8,527,000 Packers Have Big Economic Impact

GREEN BAY — How much do the Packers mean to Wisconsin economically?

General Manager Vince Lombardi provided a multi-million-dollar answer to this question at the stockholders' meeting of the Green Bay Packers, Inc., Monday night.

"We have had a Washington research firm conduct a survey for us," Lombardi said, "and, according to its preliminary report, the Packers' total economic impact on the state in 1967 was $8,527,000."

"The report shows the Packers are responsible for $7,000,000 of measurable income to Green Bay and Milwaukee

"According to their survey, a total of $4.2 million entered the economies of Green Bay and Milwaukee as the direct result of the Packers. This figure, which is based on spending by fans, the Packer corporation, visiting teams and news media, includes $3 million for Green Bay and $1.2 million for Milwaukee," said Vince.

Of this, Lombardi said, "fans in Green Bay spend $1,300.00 and those in Milwaukee $928.00. The Packer corporation spent $1,577,000 in Green Bay and $218,000 in Milwaukee. Visiting teams spent $84,000 in Green Bay and $75,000 in Milwaukee."

"The visiting teams spent an average of $3,000 per game and the visiting news personnel an average of $9,000 per game."

"Based on what are called multipliers, which reflect how that money changes hands and is re-spent," Lombardi summed up, "the total economic impact was set at slightly over $8½ million. Broken down, the overall value to Green Bay is set at $6.5 million and the value to Milwaukee at $2,007 million."

On an individual basis, "the average fan from Brown County spent $2.08 per game in Brown County (in addition, of course, to the cost of tickets) and the average fan from out-of-county attracted 54,000 persons to the $4.63. In Milwaukee County, 48 county residents spent an average of $2.16. Out-of-county fans state an average of $5.42."

"Fans attending Green Bay training camp also bring many visitors to Green Bay who otherwise would not be coming to the city."

"And the report also points out," Lombardi said, "that the enthusiasm generated by the football team is reflected by priceless community pride which results in a get-things-done spirit."

Touching upon the matter of national exposure, also covered in the report, Lombardi revealed, "Seventy million persons viewed the AFL-NFL playoff game (Super Bowl) between the Packers and Oakland... Sixty million viewed the NFL title game against Dallas in Green Bay, and the Ram-Packer Western Conference playoff in Milwaukee was viewed by 55 million."

Foxes Defeat Decatur, 6-1, Lead League

The visitors a short-lived lead. Steady showers started to fall in the third inning and at times it poured. The game was delayed briefly in the seventh when the skies opened with a down-pour, but play was resumed in less than five minutes.

The Foxes and Decatur will wind up the opening home stand for Appleton with a single contest tonight at 7:45 p.m.

Kokor was not without his anxious moments in the contest as he was touched for nine hits. However, the safeties were scattered over seven innings, and three double plays by his mates bailed the right-hander out of trouble in sixth, eighth and ninth. Kokor walked three batters and fanned five in recording his initial win of the campaign.

Raining Harder

After trailing by the one-run margin, and with the rain coming down harder, the Foxes went to work on Decatur starter Dave Hernandez in the fourth inning.

Left-fielder Curt Fontenot kept his hot hitting streak going with a sharp single, stole second and scored when Danny Haynes singled. After Gary Kirtlan walked, catcher Al Kusnyer rapped a line double to left to score Haynes. Kirtlan was cut down at the plate as he tried to score on the play.

The Foxes added three more to wrap up the contest in the fifth and all the action happened after two were out. Fontenot socked a double that bounded off the left field wall, just a few feet short of going out of the park. Haynes came through with a double to left center chasing Fontenot across the plate with the fourth run for the winners.

Hit First Pitch

That was all for Hernandez and Bob Mikels was brought in. The left-hander was greeted in royal fashion by Kirtlan who promptly cracked his first pitch over the right-centerfield wall, just to the left of the scoreboard for a 2-run homer.

Mikels and another reliever, Steve Sibley, then settled down and held the Foxes scoreless and hitless the rest of the way.

The Commodores had a pair of base runners in the sixth, eighth and ninth innings, but failed to dent the plate. In the ninth, Chico Cendeno and Bob Frazier led off with singles. Manager Gary Johnson came to the mound and gave Kokor a few words of advice and Steve served up a double play ball to Santiago and then struck out Keith Wade to end the game.

500,000th Fan

A milestone was reached for the Foxes as the 500,000th fan to attend games since baseball returned to Appleton came through the gates Tuesday night. Ralph Hurley of Appleton, the 378th of the 530 people who came to the park Tuesday night was the 500,000th fan. He was awarded a season pass to all remaining games for 1968 and also received an autographed baseball.

When given the award, Hurley excitedly explained that he is a real Foxes' fan and missed only

Take 3-2 Lead in Playoff Series

Celtics Nip Lakers, 120-117

BOSTON (AP) — Reserve Don Nelson's "greatest game" and a typically spectacular performance by John Havlicek have boosted the Boston Celtics to within one victory of the National Basketball Association championship. But Coach Bill Russell says it was a "very bad play" on his own part which clinched matters.

Havlicek's field goal Tuesday night with 38 seconds left in an overtime period had given the Celtics a 119-117 lead over Los Angeles. The Lakers' Elgin Baylor then drove in for what could have been the tying basket.

Suddenly Russell came out of nowhere to block the shot and that was it, with Nelson sinking a clinching free throw in the 120-117 victory.

The decision left the Celtics with a 3-2 lead in the best-of-7 series as they strive to regain the championship they lost to Philadelphia a year ago. The sixth game will be played in Los Angeles Thursday, with the seventh if necessary, scheduled in Boston Sunday.

"I was guarding (Mel) Counts and I came off him to block that shot," Russell said. "Actually, it was a very bad thing to do, but I thought I'd be sneaky, and it worked this time anyway."

Havlicek led Boston's scoring with 31 points, and also added 10 rebounds and eight assists. He went the entire 53 minutes.

New Orleans can wrap up the ABA title tonight at home against Pittsburgh. The Buccaneers lead the Pipers 3-2 in their best-of-7 series.

The Chisox owner lauded "newly-appointed" Goodland Field and called the Foxes' operation "one of the most successful" in the White Sox' farm system.

Allyn praised the reception his team had gotten in Milwaukee, saying the city "has turnout and accepted us with open arms. "We intend to win all nine games there."

In answer to a later question, Allyn said he doesn't believe Milwaukee will be awarded one of the two National League expansion franchises. "I'd like to see it," said Allyn. He feels that some individuals in the National League will find it difficult to approve a Milwaukee franchise — based on the unpleasantness of the Braves' situation — and a unanimous vote is needed, Allyn pointed out. "It's pure conjecture, however," he added.

In his prepared talk, Allyn noted that he wanted to clear up fallacies that have appeared in some news items concerning the conditions at White Sox Park, Chicago. He said some writers have said that the park is located in the midst of incipient riot areas. "Nothing could be farther from the truth," stressed Allyn.

"Far Less" Allyn indicated that a small area where there has been a little trouble starts four or five blocks from the ball park. "The incidence of trouble there has been far less than any other

Propson Hurls 1-Hitter for Stockbridge

The Stockbridge High School baseball team scored a 7-3 win over Ozaukee Monday, boosting its Kettle Moraine Conference record to 2-0.

Left-hander Dick Propson, hurled a 1-hitter for the Indians, striking out 16 and walking four. Ron Volesky was the loser. He gave up six hits.

Ozaukee's only hit was a 2-run by J. Thill in the third inning. Dan Hemauer socked a 2-run triple in the third as Stockbridge increased its 1-run edge to 4-0.

Andy Hemauer, a freshman, hit a 2-run single in the fourth and also accounted for another single.

Chicago area," he said. Debunking a rumor about the lighting around the ball park, Allyn said "the lighting in the area is exquisite."

"We're proud of the neighborhood and all the people in it," Allyn declared.

Allyn invited his listeners to Chicago and noted, "If you can find a problem (of the type discussed) at Comiskey Park, I'll give you a box seat ticket for the next five years."

Allyn said he was amazed at the response for this year's sessions at the White Sox Boys Camp, at Brothertown. The second of three sessions is already full, and only 15 vacancies remain in the third session, he said. Less than 100 openings remain for the first session, the speaker indicated.

Used Boat Show To Open Thursday

The practical and economical aspect of a "used" house or used cars suggests the same sensible involvement in the sale — and purchase — of used boats. This, in turn, suggests success for The Post-Crescent Used Boat Show which opens Thursday at the Valley Fair Shopping Center.

The first such event staged by The Post-Crescent, the show will remain open through Sunday. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday through Saturday, and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Prospective buyers — or persons just interested in seeing a lot of different kinds of boats all in one place — will find over 30 boats on display ranging from a complete outboard racing rig to 23 foot cabin cruisers. Used runabouts and fishing boats will also be marked for sale. Where size permits, the boats will be exhibited inside the Valley Fair mall. Others will be placed at the entrances to the center.

Examples of what will be offered at the Boat Show include the listing of a 17-foot Milo Craft with twin 25 horsepower engines, electric starter, built-in gas tanks, convertible top, curtains, screens and air horns and trailer to match. In contrast, is a 23-foot Oconto Cabin Cruiser with twin 70 horsepower engines and a tandem trailer.

A complete listing of all the big variety of boats with description of boats and accessories appears in the classified section of this evening's Post-Crescent and will be published in the section every evening and on Sunday morning.

Every boat on display is owned by a private individual and details of how to contact the seller — in case he is not at the Show at the time — will accompany descriptions of the boat.

Report Says Lions, Rams Close to Deal for Munson

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions have all but agreed to trade three players and the team's top National Football League draft choice next year for quarterback Bill Munson of the Los Angeles Rams.

"There is no such deal, nothing is in the works in that area," said Joe Schmidt, head coach of the Lions. But a high Lions' source said: "What did we give up? Nothing. Trade flankerback Pat Studstill, halfback Tommy Watkins and deal camp this year with the same situation we had last year." The situation was quarterbacking, Detroit's major problem for several years. Last season, with veteran Milt Plum and Karl Sweetan alternating at quarterback, the Lions managed only 1,631 yards passing compared with 2,752 in 1966. Detroit won four games, lost seven and tied two.

The source said Detroit will trade flankerback Pat Studstill, halfback Tommy Watkins and deal

Jerry Buettner Fires 583 in Couples Loop

Jerry Buettner rapped a 232 game en route to 583 for the best marks in the Beer Couples League at Twin City Bowl recently.

Dave Christensen was next in line with a 229-579 combination, and Jack Kosloske followed with 569. Len Tessen slammed 567, while Margaret Kosloske had the only ladies' high count, a 523 series.

The Auto Couples loop at Sabre Lanes saw Stan Beschta take top honors with a 581 threesome. Other high men's counts were recorded by Bud DeLeest, 568; Bruce Henning, 566; and Dave Van Zimmeren, 555.

Betty Cutler's 192-580 combination set the pace for the ladies. Betty and Jim Cutler and Dick and Gerrie La Bore won the league championship.

Melvin Vander Linden powered a 572 trio to lead the Tri-City Merchants circuit at Sabre Lanes. Warren Deitz rolled a 554. The First National team reigns as league champion.

Ray and Deanna Elmer dominated the top scores to come out of the Trinity Couples League at Sabre Lanes. Ray fired a 566 series to pace the men, while Deanna crashed a 533, including a 230 game.

The Elmers along with Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Patterson are league champs.

Plum, plus the team's top draft choice for Munson, whose option with the Rams ran out at midnight Tuesday.

"Nothing has been consummated yet," Coach George Allen of the Rams told The Associated Press in Los Angeles. "But I might be interested in such a deal."

District Baseball Tourney Moved Back to June 22

MENASHA — Because most area leagues are starting their seasons a week later than usual, the opening of the Fox River Valley District Baseball tournament has been moved back to June 22, according to Jerry Heiss, district commissioner.

The meet will conclude the following weekend.

A new champion is assured since Little Chute-Kimberly, as the defending state titlist, automatically gains a berth in the state tournament.

A best-of-3 game playoff between LC-K and the district champion is contemplated but regardless of the result both teams would qualify for the state meet, which starts at Madison July 19.

Mustangs Gain 7-3 Victory Over I-S '9'

Skowen, of the Thunderbirds, Raps Total of 3 Hits

MARION — Iola-Scandinavia shortstop Wayne Skowen rapped the first pitch of the game for a home run, but the Marion Mustangs bounced back to pound out a 7-3 win over the Thunderbirds in a Central Wisconsin Conference game Tuesday afternoon.

Marion tallied three times in the bottom of the first inning and was never headed thereafter. The Mustangs, now 2-2 in league play, scored another run in the second, two more in the third, and added their final marker in the fourth. I-S collected its last two runs in the sixth.

Gary Grunwald picked up the win for Marion, with relief help from Mike Daley. Thunderbird starter Chuck Koehler absorbed the loss.

After Skowen's homer gave I-S a 1-0 lead, Bruce West initiated the Marion rally in the bottom of the inning with a double, and Dale Klitz walked. Both runners moved up a base on a double-steal and then rode home on Steve Kristof's double. The third marker of the inning counted when Dan Brandenburg singled in Kristof.

Klitz drove in West with a single in the third on Grunwald's single and a sacrifice fly by Randy Peterson. Brandenburg's sacrifice fly accounted for the final Mustang tally in the fourth.

Proper Proof Triumphs in Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It was four for the money and three for show. But the goal for all seven was peak form for Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, Bwamazon Farm's T.V. Commercial and Saddle Rock Farm's Francie's Hat each worked a mile Tuesday at Churchill Downs to show their present condition to their trainers.

Proper Proof, Jig Time, Verbatim and Te Vega raced in the one-mile, $16,350 Derby Trial over the same track on which the Derby will be run.

Although racing for money is the name of the game, Jerry Meyer, who trains Elmendorf's Verbatim, pinpointed the main reason for the race as far as the first four finishers were concerned.

"Today's race was not the ultimate with us Saturday is the Derby. We were using today's race as a conditioner."

Mrs. Montgomery Fisher's Proper Proof won the Trial in 1:36, finishing a half length in front of Charles W. Englehard's Jig Time, with Verbatim another neck back.

Skowen slammed three hits in four at-bats, including the homer and a double.

Jays' Wilms Stars Kaukauna Trackmen Win Over Menasha

KAUKAUNA — Menasha High School's Mike Wilms captured three individual firsts and helped the Bluejays' 880 relay team to victory, but Kaukauna displayed more team balance and scored a 66½ to 51½ triumph in a dual track meet Tuesday.

The Ghosts won eight of the 14 events, including a slam in the discus and the mile relay. Mark Tatro was a double-winner for Kaukauna, taking both hurdles events.

Wilms raced across the finish line first in the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash in addition to winning the long jump. He then combined with Dave Hoks, Tom Bednarowski and Dave Zimmerman for the triumph in the 880 relay.

Other Menasha winners were Russell Rae in the mile and Tom Scovronski in the 440-yard run. Scovronski, only a sophomore, had an impressive 53.6-second clocking in his event for one of the best efforts of the day.

Kaukauna event winners also included Sean Rohan in the half-mile, Marty Van Zeeland in the shot put, Jim Pomeroy in the discus, Chris Driessen in the pole vault and Pat Cleveland in the high jump.

The Ghost quartet of Bernie Van Zeeland, Jim Haen, Dan Egan and Dave Zimmerman ran a 3:44.7 in winning the mile relay.

Kimberly Trackmen Beat New London

NEW LONDON — Gary Slosarek matched the Mid-Eastern conference record for the 100-yard dash Tuesday, but his effort wasn't enough to bring New London a victory as the Bulldogs fell before the Kimberly High School track team, 71-47.

Slosarek ran the 100 in 10.1 seconds but it must be done in the conference meet to gain official recognition. Earlier this season he was clocked at :09.9.

John Vander Velden and Tom Hammen each captured a pair of firsts for Kimberly. Hammen took the high hurdles in :16.2 and the low hurdles in :21.6. Vander Velden won the discus, with a toss of 134-1¼, and the shot put with a toss of 47-9¼.

State Costs Rise for Transporting Pupils

Transfers, Parochial Service Regarded as Major Factors

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The increasing number of transfers of parochial pupils to public school systems and the operation of the new parochial school transportation program are being cited by the State Department of Public Instruction in explanation of the booming rise in the state's total public school costs.

The department reported it will pay about $135,000,000 this year in state aids for the operation of the local public elementary and high schools.

But the existing appropriations for this year aggregate is only $129,000,000 meaning that the 1967 legislature will face a deficit of at least $5,000,000 when it convenes in January. It will be required to authorize a deficiency appropriation in that amount. The authorized aid level is about $17,500,000 more than the assistance paid to local districts last year.

Local Costs

Local school costs rose 14.32 per cent for the 1967-68 fiscal school year over the previous year. This was due largely pupil transportation is cited. It because school enrollment rose by about 32,000 pupils, 13,000 of whom represented transfers from private and parochial schools. The figure compared more than 6 per cent of all with a transfer of about 9,000 public school expenditures.

Next year there will be a rise in cost of about $5,000,000, and the basis of reported plans to about $3,600,000 of this amount close schools or some of the will be reflected in transportation service of non-public school pupils.

Last year the number of schools will continue. There also children transported to school at will be an increase in "shared public cost rose to a record high time" agreements between pa-eligible non-public school pupils, according to Theodore Sorensen, state supervisor of the transportation system.

Sorensen estimates that the number of pupils transported to private schools will increase about 23 per cent next year. The total cost of serving these pupils will increase about 44 per cent.

The difference in cost results from the extension of transportation services to private school pupils up to 5 miles beyond the boundaries of the operating public school district. Basically bus transportation will remain a group service, Sorensen said. In many situations the requirements of service to non-public schools will necessitate comparatively more costly programs including "arrangements approaching individual taxi service," the report commented.

Fat Teacher Winning Battle, Doctor Claims

LARSKPUR, Calif. (AP) — A fat woman gym teacher criticized by her high school principal as "a living hypocrisy of what she's teaching" is fighting the battle of the bulge and should be back to her normal weight by mid-November, a doctor says.

Dismissal of Elizabeth Bldgett, 41, had been recommended by Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps. Miss Bldgett, who once weighed nearly 250 pounds, requested a special school board hearing, where Dr. Wendell Howard Butler testified that she has lost 34 pounds in the 16 weeks he has been treating her.

She should reach a weight normal for her 5-foot-7-inch height by mid-November, he said.

Murder Charge Filed in Death of Green Bay Man

Ronald Huff, 19,
In Outagamie Jail
On $25,000 Bond

A first degree murder charge was brought Tuesday afternoon against a 19-year-old Green Bay resident accused of stabbing Ronald V. Burnham, whose body was found Monday in a milkhouse on a deserted Seymour area farm where the youth used to live.

Ronald Vernon Huff, 729 S. Adams St., is in the Outagamie County jail under $25,000 bond set Tuesday by Judge Nick F. Schaefer, who found Huff indigent and continued arraignment to 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Two 17-year-old Green Bay youths alleged to be involved in the April 22 stabbing death might be brought into Outa-Outagamie County Juvenile Court this afternoon. Sheriff Norbert Marx said Tuesday that a conference is scheduled with Judge Raymond P. Dohr and welfare caseworkers to determine "a course of action" to be taken with the youths.

Indications were Tuesday that an attempt might be made to have the youths waived into criminal court, under adult status.

Appleton attorney Stanley Chmiel was named by Schaefer to represent Huff at county expense. Huff, during the indigent hearings, told Dist. Atty. George Griesch he has no assets or debts. The six feet, two inch, 170-pound Huff told the court he is unemployed.

Huff, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huff, faces a mandatory life imprisonment sentence if convicted of first degree murder.

Apprehended at Homes

Huff and one 17-year-old youth were taken into custody at their Green Bay homes early Tuesday morning, about 10 hours after Burnham's body was found on the Milton Peters Farm, 3 1/2 miles south of Seymour on State 55.

The third youth, who was believed to have fled to Shawano Monday night, was found by Green Bay police, asleep with two other youths, in a car a block from his home Tuesday morning. Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said they obtained a written statement from him, as they had earlier from the other two teen-agers.

Ike's Ailment Was Mild Heart Attack

General to Remain in Hospital
For Several Weeks of Resting

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is expected to be hospitalized here several weeks following a heart attack that an aide describes as mild.

The 77-year-old soldier-statesman suffered a "myocardial infarction," a blood clot in a heart artery, the March Air Force Base Hospital said. It was his third heart attack since 1955.

The 77-year-old soldier-statesman suffered what the March Air Force Base hospital called a myocardial infarction. This is a death of tissue in a heart artery blocked by a blood clot or other obstruction. It was Eisenhower's third heart attack since 1955.

The bulletin issued late Tuesday was the first official word of his illness. It said "a general prognosis cannot be made at this time."

Although the bulletin did not specify when the attack occurred, it was assumed the retired five-star general was stricken Monday after playing golf in the morning.

Until Tuesday his ailment was described as "chest pains." "He has had a good day with no chest pain," the hospital bulletin said. "Blood pressure has remained normal. He has no fever. He has been visited by Mrs. Eisenhower."

An aide, asked if Eisenhower's condition could be described as a mild heart attack, said "that's right."

The bulletin said the two-term President would remain at the base hospital for "several weeks," and then be transferred to Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington for convalescence.

He and his wife, Mamie, earlier had planned to leave May 6 for their farm at Gettysburg, Pa. They have spent the winter as usual at their Eldorado Country Club home in Palm Desert, 40 miles south of March Air Base.

Eisenhower was reported on a light, low-calorie, low-sodium diet. Two heart specialists were flown from Walter Reed Monday night. The hospital announced Tuesday that Eisenhower was resting comfortably and in "excellent spirits."

McCarthy Easy Democrat Winner

Rocky 1st, Nixon 3rd in Massachusetts Voting

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who wasn't a candidate when the polls opened Tuesday, scored an upset write-in victory today over favorite son Gov. John A. Volpe on the Republican ballot in the Massachusetts presidential primary.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the only entrant on the Democratic ballot, captured slightly more than 50 per cent of the Democratic votes.

Volpe, alone on the Republican ballot in a bid to enhance his chances for the vice presidential nomination, trailed Rockefeller by about 1,000 votes in near-final returns. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran third, amost 5,000 votes behind Rockefeller.

Rockefeller said he was "very surprised" by the Massachusetts results, especially since he had not encouraged write-ins.

Rockefeller said his strategy will be to persuade delegates to go to the nominating convention uncommitted to a major candidate.

Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller express their happiness Tuesday to a gathering at the New York Capitol in Albany after Rockefeller declared he is in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I want them to stay loose," obtain a Democratic ballot but wrote in his name on their ballots. A scattering of Republicans also voted for Kennedy and Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

In all, write-in votes were cast by about 55 per cent of the more than 329,000 primary voters at the Democratic convention.

Trailing McCarthy on the Democratic ballot were, in order, Massachusetts native Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and President Johnson.

McCarthy ran fourth on the Republican ballot, capturing about 10 per cent of the vote. Kennedy 11,648, Kennedy 64,662, Humphrey 41,934, Johnson 6,589.

U.S. Okays Plan For Tonkin Talks

Indonesia Proposes to Send Ship

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House quickly accepted today an Indonesian suggestion that preliminary peace talks with representatives of North Vietnam take place on an Indonesian naval vessel in the Gulf of Tonkin.

There was no indication whether the suggestion was also acceptable to North Vietnam.

Shortly after Indonesia's suggestion was announced in Jakarta, White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen:

"A neutral ship on a neutral sea would be a good meeting place."

He said Indonesia's proposal "is acceptable to the United States."

Informed in Advance

Christian made it clear that the U.S. government—and presumably Hanoi—had been informed of the Indonesian plan in advance of the public announcement in Jakarta. "You can assume that there have also been other contacts on this," he said.

Christian said he was not certain whether a formal reply by the American government had been dispatched to Jakarta, but he left no doubt that an affirmative response was in the offing.

In announcing acceptability of Indonesia's idea, Christian said, "As you know, both the United States and North Vietnam have ambassadors in Indonesia."

Stumbling Block

One of the stumbling blocks in finding a site for preliminary talks with North Vietnam has been a search for agreement on a location where both countries and their allies have diplomatic representation.

Indonesia offered today to send a cruiser to the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam to be used as a site for preliminary talks.

Foreign Minister Adam Malik told reporters after a Cabinet meeting he had made the offer to North Vietnam and to U.S. Ambassador Marshall Green.

Kenneth Dean Month, a U.S. Embassy spokesman, declared the proposal "is another way out of this impasse" but declined to elaborate.

Malik said neither nation had given a formal reply but the North Vietnamese said they still prefer Cambodia or Warsaw, Poland. Malik earlier this month offered Jakarta as a site. The United States accepted but North Vietnam rejected the offer.

The Indonesian proposal was similar to a suggestion Johnson voiced from the flight deck of the aircraft carrier Enterprise off the California coast during a Veteran's Day weekend tour last November.

On that occasion, Johnson tossed out the idea that "A neutral ship on a neutral sea" might prove to be a suitable place to begin talks aimed at ending the Vietnam war.

Three days later Hanoi rejected Johnson's proposal.

The university says Victoria Bowles—stage name Vicky Drake—is no longer a student. But it may be that she's still eligible.

Posters featuring a blown-up photo of a discreetly posed nude female have appeared on campus plugging Vicky for president of Associated Students of Stanford University.

Miss Drake let it be known she has been performing topless at a nightclub in nearby Sunnyvale.

Her qualifications were described as 38-22-36. And the Student Elections Commissioner Craig Brown said students not currently enrolled can run for election if they were students during the preceding quarter and plan to attend during their term of office.

Registrar Harvey Hall said Vicky was enrolled last quarter and is eligible to attend again if she wants to. The student legislature has the authority to determine whether she is eligible to run.

Telephone Strike Deadlock Could be Broken by Thursday

BY ARLEN BOARDMAN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Chances appear good for a contract settlement today in the two-week-old, nationwide telephone strike joined by 6,600 Wisconsin Telephone Co. employees, a union spokesman from Appleton reported this morning.

About 200,000 Communications Workers of America union members from 40 states entered the walkout and subsequent picketing April 18. The strike was aimed at securing higher wages.

Union officials negotiating with Wisconsin Telephone Co. officials in Milwaukee had said they expected a long work stoppage. However, a CWA spokesman in Milwaukee Tuesday asked negotiators to "begin around-the-clock sessions to attempt to reach agreement."

Kerner to Resign For Seat on Bench

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner announced today he will resign as governor at midnight May 19 to accept his appointment to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Kerner will be succeeded as governor by Lt. Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro, who also is the unopposed Democratic gubernatorial candidate.

Kerner will be sworn in as a federal judge May 20 in Chicago by Chief Judge John S. Hastings.

Shapiro, 61, will become acting governor immediately upon Kerner's resignation. The lieutenant governor said he has set no date for his formal induction into the office.

Kerner, who announced in February he would not run for a third term, was confirmed by the Senate for the judgeship April 11. He received his formal commission, signed by President Johnson, this week.

Eugene Van Ryzin, Appleton Local 5521 president, said this morning that "unless something really drastic happens, we will have a contract before Thursday that will be accepted by the bargaining committee in Milwaukee."

He was optimistic and said he expected workers to be back on the job "early next week" if the contract is accepted. He received word from William Button, state CWA representative, early this week that "basic difficulties have been resolved and negotiators are now hammering out details."

Silent on Details

Van Ryzin had no details on contract terms. Negotiations in Milwaukee and Washington have been "closed sessions since the strike" began.

National union officials have expressed similar optimism. "We see the light and I am hopeful we will soon be at the point where a total package is worked out," said Joseph A. Beirne, national CWA president.

Negotiators reportedly have virtually wrapped up wage settlement and are close to an overall contract agreement. "We are now seeing eye to eye on wage levels that the union can live with," Beirne said.

Breaks Impasse

Beirne said company agreement to negotiate a three-year contract to replace the current 18-month wage reopener had broken the previous impasse in talks. Any contract settlement is expected to set a pattern for all the approximately 600,000 workers in the Bell System.

Negotiators for Wisconsin Telephone Co. contracts reportedly were from $8 to $10 apart. Company offers reportedly amounted to $4 to $6 increases on an 18-month contract while union demands were $7 to $11 increases on a 12-month contract.

Van Ryzin said this morning

Strong Housing Bill OK'd in Milwaukee

'Significant Victory,' Says Groppi
Of Ordinance After Council Vote

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's racial demonstrators, who endured stones, slurs and sales.

"All that's left is one last chunk," he said. He predicted marches, have reached their goal. City Hall has granted a strong open housing ordinance.

"We feel it is a significant victory," said the Rev. James E. Groppi. The white Roman Catholic priest helped lead marches by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Father Groppi was in the city's Common Council chambers with his young followers Tuesday when the council voted 15-4 in favor of a code outlawing discrimination in the sale or rental of all but two categories of Milwaukee housing.

Maier's Was Weaker Exempted under the measure, which was stronger than that recommended by Mayor Henry Maier, are single-family houses and owner-occupied duplexes.

The exemptions apply primarily to private sales transactions, not those through brokers. Alderman Orville E. Pitts, one of two Negro members of a council revamped by election,

But instead, the council voted 10-9 to reduce the exempted property to owner-occupied dwellings of two units or less. The amendment carried when William Drew, a white freshman alderman, suddenly and without explanation changed his vote.

The amended ordinance, which provides for fines up to $200, carried 15-4.

Maier praised the council for its action and promised to sign the ordinance without delay.

"We are now readying our next target—low income housing in the suburbs," the mayor said after the aldermen's vote.

WAUPACA — Seven building permits, two razing permits and a sign permit were issued during April by Gerald Schultz, city building inspector.

The permit with the highest estimated cost was issued to Waupaca Industrial Development Corp. which is constructing a new building which will house the Bowby Candy Company. The building located at the corner of W. Fulton Street and Western Avenue is expected to cost approximately $35,000.

Other building permits went to Wayland Dishnow, 1018 Demerest St., for a roof over a patio for a cost of $400; Raymond J. Paul, 516 Larson St., for a $300 garage addition; Elmer Dushek for a $900 interior remodeling project at a building at 108 Oborn St.; Ralph Wikel, for an $8,000 remodeling project now underway at the Central Lanes Bowling Alley, 408 Oak St.; Mildred Forseth, 330 North St., remodel kitchen at a cost of $100, and Richard Kienbaum, 417 Fifth St., remodel kitchen at a cost of $700.

Teacher's Tall Tale Wins $100

WAUPACA — The high school faculty has a tall tale teller in its midst.

History teacher Al Schlatter proved his ability to spin a yarn recently when he entered a tall tale contest sponsored by a Milwaukee radio station and for his efforts received a $100 check for placing first in the contest.

While listening to the radio one day a few weeks ago Schlatter heard some of the entries in the contest and commented to his 10-year-old son, David, that he could come up with a better story than any of those he heard on the radio program.

With a considerable urging from his son, Schlatter came up with the following prize winning story:

"One year my grandfather was drilling for oil in Texas. He had gone down 2,000 feet in a sand hill without any luck. The next day a wind storm blew all the sand away leaving gramps with a hole 2,000 feet long. He then cut the hole into four foot sections and sold them to farmers for ready made fence post holes."

The tale sounds far fetched, but Schlatter's $100 check was real.

Move Toward Expansion

Chilton School Board Takes Options on 2 Building Sites

CHILTON — Options on two parcels of land, each containing between 40 and 60 acres, have been taken by the board of education for proposed school expansion.

The action came after the board and the architectural firm of Durante, Deininger, Dommer, Gordon and Kramer, Watertown, along with Al Buechner, State Department of Public Instructions, completed a two-week study of potential sites.

Arthur Horst, board of education president, said he expects that a special meeting of the district's electorate will have to be called sometime before the annual meeting in July. The board, acting on the advice of its state and architectural firm advisers, will select one of the two sites, and the district voters will be asked at the special meeting to give the board the authority to exercise its purchase option.

Date Not Set

How soon the special meeting is called, depends on the speed with which plans are formulated, Horst said.

If approved, plans on administration, staff and cost estimates will be presented at the annual meeting for approval.

The action followed on the heels of report presented last December by Supt. A. W. Gordon citing the immediate needs for additional classroom space next year.

He pointed out the need for four additional classrooms, which he said was the absolute minimum. exclusive of the four rooms previously approved for rental at St. Mary School. He said that eight elementary rooms would be the maximum need and possibly four to five rooms in the high school.

The actual extent of the program.

proposed building program has not been defined because of the district merger discussions in progress involving the Chilton, Stockbridge and Hilbert districts. Mergers would affect building plans, it was pointed out.

Tests Indicate Low Iron Content in Waupaca Well

WAUPACA — The fourth city well developed recently will produce an excellent quality of water, according to a report received Monday by city engineer Iver Oerter from the State Board of Health.

After 24 hours of continuous pumping at a maximum of 900 gallons per minute, tests samples were taken and revealed a very low iron content and much softer water than now being produced by the other three wells of the city. Water from the new well has seven grains of hardness compared with 15 in well No. 1, 17 in well No. 2 and 16 in well No. 3.

Oerter also said water from the new well has a low manganese content.

Work on installing the pump on the well and laying water mains to connect it with existing mains is expected to start soon.

Greyhound Cancels Plans To Buy FWD Corp. Stock

Firm Won't Exercise Its Option

CLINTONVILLE — Greyhound Corp., Chicago-based firm, has declined to exercise its option to purchase control of FWD Corp., 59-year-old all-wheel-drive manufacturer and major employer here, Don Heinisch, FWD president, revealed today.

FWD officials could not be reached today but today's Wall Street Journal indicated the decision was by "mutual agreement" between the two firms.

Greyhound officials this morning confirmed the decision but would give no further details.

Greyhound's board of directors gave preliminary approval in February to acquire an estimated $6 million in outstanding FWD common stock. The decision was subject to a final examination.

The option was for cash purchase of 86.4 per cent — or 591,458 shares of FWD — owned by the firm's principal stockholder, Wisconsin Investment Inc., Lowell, Mass. Option deadline was May 8 with no Interstate Commerce Commission okay necessary.

Joint Announcement

Joint announcement of the expected purchase was made Feb. 16 by Gerald H. Troutman, president and chief executive officer of Greyhound, and Richard H. Stone, then FWD president.

Troutman commented at that time that FWD "has a good name and a quality product." He said its four-wheel-drive vehicles appear to have a strong competitive potential in world markets.

Stone had said that Greyhound, best known for its long distance bus operations, would provide financial backing for FWD expansion impossible before for lack of funds. The new affiliation would "greatly improve our prospects for the future," he said.

FWD, primarily an all-wheel-drive truck producer, also produces and sells vehicles used in road building, snow plows, fire fighting, oil field work, ready mix concrete hauling, and utility and other construction works, as well as mobile cranes.

Adverse Effects

FWD reported profits of $577,200 on sales topping $41 million in fiscal 1967, despite the adverse effects of the 1967 recession. However, in the four years prior the firm's annual income growth was at an average of 20 to 30 per cent.

FWD employs 1,400 persons and distributes through 125 dealers in the U. S. and Canada. It has branch plants in Canada and Portland, Ore.

Troutman indicated in February that FWD would complement the growing bus manufacturing operation of Greyhound, which reportedly has no interests in any companies similar to FWD. Greyhound does have many other related interests in the United States and abroad.

The Greyhound executive also said the Clintonville firm's markets would have been expanded through sales financing by a Greyhound subsidiary, Greyhound Leasing and Financing Corp., a leading industrial equipment lessor.

Klassen Quits Presidency of American Can

Corporate Policy Differences Basis Given for Decision

NEW YORK — Elmer T. Klassen resigned unexpectedly Tuesday as president and a director of American Can Co., according to an article in today's Wall Street Journal.

Klassen's resignation was based on a dispute over company policy, the article stated.

The announcement was made by William F. May, chairman and chief executive officer, at the start of American Can's annual meeting here. Klassen, who is 59, had been scheduled to be a speaker at the meeting.

Policy Conflict
American Can maintains several plants in the Neenah-Menasha and Green Bay areas.

In a statement, Klassen said his decision wasn't motivated "by negative personal considerations, but rather by the objective conclusion that my approach to corporate policy directions is at variance with the board chairman's approach."

American Can recently has been diversifying into other areas, such as printing and consumer products, but more than 56 per cent of its business still is derived from can-making.

Long Career
Klassen's career, according to some observers has been more closely identified with the company's traditional business. He joined American Can as a messenger in 1925 and worked in labor relations and other posts before being named executive vice president, operations, in 1964.

May said he would assume the president's job until a successor to Klassen is selected. Elected to fill Klassen's spot on the board was John R. Henry, vice president, general counsel and secretary of American Can.

Klassen didn't reveal his personal plans, but said he would continue to pursue his interest in collective bargaining research. He recently was named to head the Institute of Collective Bargaining and Group Relations.

hand (from a recent operation for infection), had a receding hairline, and had a couple of gold fillings and chipped teeth. Tentative identification was made.

Brown County authorities then rushed Burnham's sister to Appleton. She cinched the identification. Authorities at least now had a foundation on which to begin building leads.

Further leads came even as preparations were being made for an autopsy at Appleton Memorial Hospital. Outagamie authorities said they had to keep confidential the nature of information received from Green Bay concerning the suspects.

Before Midnight

However, shortly before midnight Monday, four investigators left Memorial Hospital for Green Bay with what they believed to be one of the first and one of the best leads. They had learned earlier that Burnham's car was found wrecked in the parking lot of an eastside Green Bay school.

Once in Green Bay, Outagamie authorities continued to get full cooperation from city and county police. Spice and Marx explained. The three law agencies sifted information until they had a solid lead.

The cooperation continued as the various lawmen went to Green Bay homes to take the two youths into custody.

And the cooperation was still evident Tuesday as police tied up loose ends in the investigation which at 3:30 p.m. Monday looked almost hopeless.

Short in Wiring Sparks Truck Fire Near Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — Fire from a short circuit in the wiring caused $300 damage to a 1950 pickup truck owned by Juan Garcia, route 1, Bear Creek, at 6:15 a.m. Sunday.

Garcia said he was awakened by the horn blowing, which apparently was caused by the fire in the wiring. The Bear Creek Volunteer Fire Department was called but the entire inside of the cab was aflame when they arrived. The wires were burned off and the windshield was destroyed. The wooden rack also burned.

The truck was parked close to the north porch of the house. The home is three-fourths of a mile northwest of the village on U.S. 45. There was no fire insurance on the truck.

Rep. Laird's Advice Badly Needed

At the past two Republican national conventions, Wisconsin Rep. Melvin Laird took a key role in the writing of the party's campaign platform. In 1964 as chairman of the convention platform committee.

This year, Rep. Laird has described his convention role as probably just being a state delegate or something of a spectator. As chairman of the House Republican Conference and as an influential member of the national GOP Coordinating Committee, Rep. Laird would seem to be describing his role with a grin and an understatement. At least, we would hope so.

Rep. Laird has recently prepared a statement which the platform committee could well draw upon for setting the tone of the document it must produce in Miami Beach in August. It was published in the Ripon Forum, a publication of The Ripon Society, often described as a national organization of moderate Republicans.

Prefacing his statement with a prediction that Republicans could well be in the majority in the next House, Rep. Laird says they must be prepared to offer solutions for the nation's pressing social problems through "redirection and innovation." He suggests that a piling of new programs on what now exists cannot do the job, and there is much to support this verdict.

There must be a more logical and less wasteful administrative organization of welfare, anti-poverty, and educational programs, Rep. Laird says, including a junking of programs which are not working and which have outlived their purpose and a transfer of programs to make possible a more coordinated effort. He notes, for example, the overlap of vocational training programs in three cabinet departments and the anti-poverty agency.

There should be no glittering generalities that this will mean an automatic reduction in expenditures, Rep. Laird says. "This would not necessarily reduce the number of federal dollars expended; it might even increase it. But the potential of getting a much greater return on every dollar spent would be greatly enhanced," Rep. Laird wrote.

In calling for innovation, Rep. Laird repeats his program for a sharing of federal tax revenues with the states through broad purpose grants to replace the present system of single purpose grants for programs directed to large extent from Washington, which often is a handicap to solving local problems in itself. He calls for an introduction of the private economy into the battle against poverty problems through such devices as tax incentives.

Rep. Laird also suggests that a Republican-controlled House would pass a congressional reorganization bill, bottled up for more than a year, which would make possible an increased supervision and review of programs. Because of the present lack of such functions, Rep. Laird wrote that "Congress must bear a substantial part of the blame for domestic ills and inadequate programs."

Rep. Laird has furnished a valuable outline for his party's platform and its campaign this fall, when Republicans must convince the voters that they have fresh ideas to replace approaches to the nation's social ills which have failed.

Humphrey Favorite for Nomination

There is, of course, nothing surprising about the fact that Vice President Hubert Humphrey is now formally in the field for the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination. Once President Johnson had announced his decision not to seek re-nomination, there was little doubt that Mr. Humphrey would make another run for the nomination which he could not reach as a Minnesota senator in 1960.

What is significant in the mounting of the Humphrey campaign is the strength among the forces which decide presidential nominations which Mr. Humphrey has been able to mobilize in the four weeks since the President made known his decision. Thus, Mr. Humphrey's position in April was one of putting off his public announcement until his organization had the time to catch up with events.

The presence of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has been the most obvious of the pre-convention forces which Mr. Humphrey has been able to identify with his campaign, strength which the AFL-CIO executive committee in Wisconsin already is on record as contributing to the nomination drive.

But perhaps most significant is the strength within the regular party apparatus which has indicated it will be behind Mr. Humphrey, even in the southern states where Mr. Humphrey was once a target because of his early senatorial record as a champion of civil rights legislation. And the meeting of Democratic governors two weeks ago which demonstrated no interest in taking sides between Sen. Robert Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy probably will work for Mr. Humphrey's benefit unless the remaining primaries record a one-sided public opinion decision for one of the two senators.

With this foundation of support within the party organization, it would not be a surprising development if Mr. Humphrey receives the endorsement of the President at the most opportune time before the Democratic convention in August.

The vice president's biggest handicap will be his identification with the record of the President, particularly on the issue of Vietnam. Mr. Humphrey, as his office calls for and as his party loyalties required, has been a most loyal spokesman for the President. This has resulted in a loss of standing with the liberals with whom he always had close identification.

The President's sudden policy change for Vietnam in itself and the support received by Sen. McCarthy in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries would seem to mean that Mr. Humphrey is in trouble on the issue of Vietnam. But he is a political professional who already has described his role as now being an active participant in a policy of seeking peace while remembering the nation's responsibilities.

While he will not be in the remaining primaries, Mr. Humphrey's chance for the nomination may well depend on their outcome. If Sen. Kennedy and Sen. McCarthy divide the primary victories or if there is no overwhelming decision in any of them, which now seems probable, the party apparatus will turn to the vice president.

Mr. Humphrey, thus, must be viewed as the most logical possibility for the nomination. But this has hardly been a year when presidential politics has gone according to the book.

Peace Possible in Nigeria

There appears now to be genuine willingness of both sides in the Nigerian conflict to seek peace. The absence of outside interests obviously has made a cease-fire more likely.

Although the carnage in Nigeria has not reached the proportions of that in Vietnam, in great part because of the lack of weapons of great firepower that American and Russian sources supply for Vietnam, there has been heavy loss of life and destruction of property. Thousands of non-combatants have died and many more have been left homeless and with little chance to rebuild or to get adequate food unless the fighting slackens. Despite tons of food sent by relief agencies, there is widespread hunger.

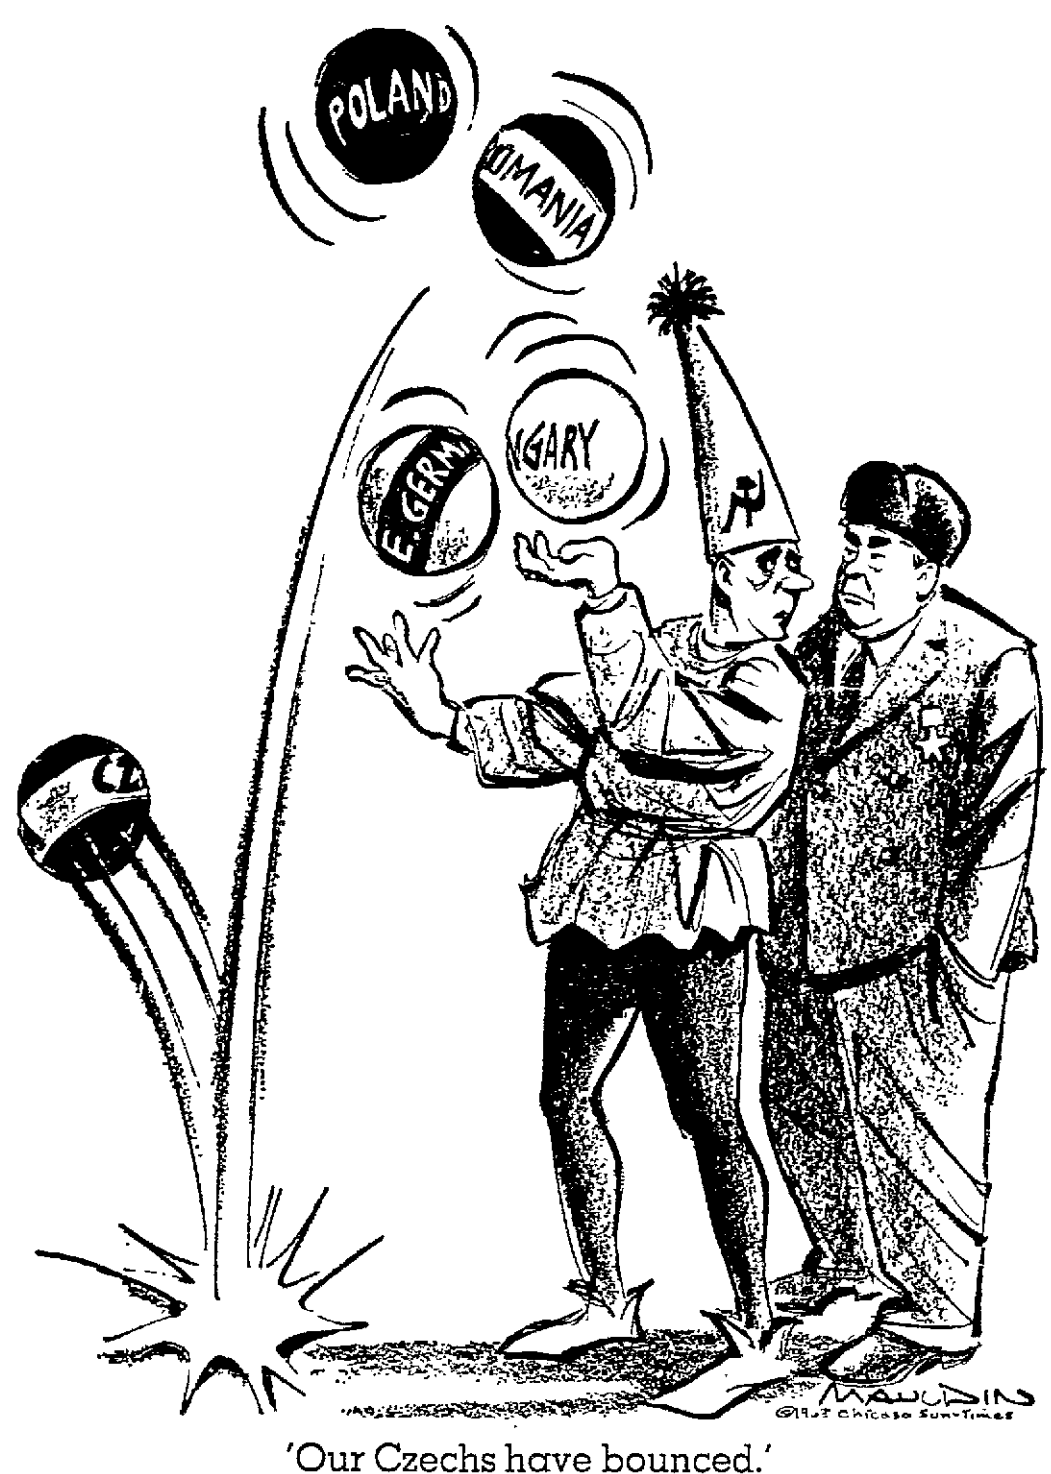

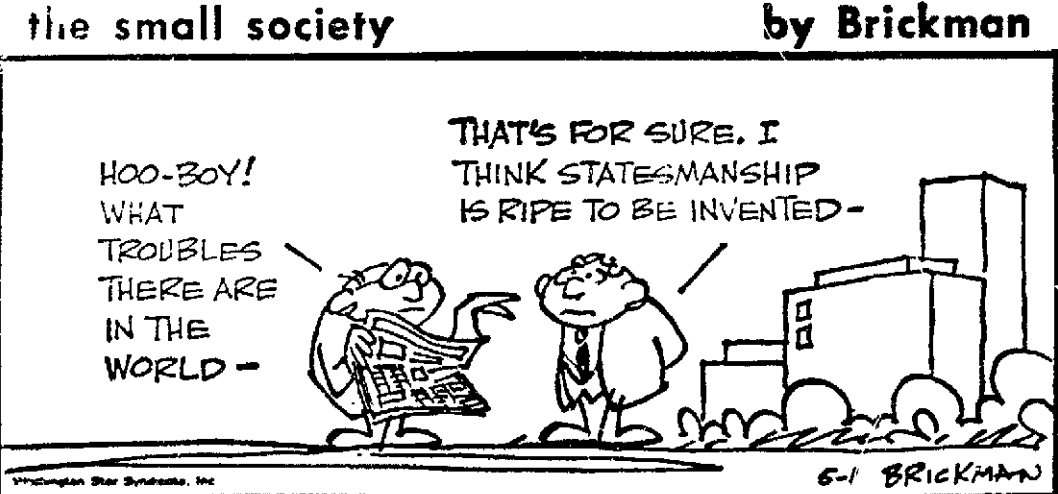

Until recently the federal government had insisted that there could be no cease-fire until the rebellious Ibos in their proclaimed nation of Biafra renounced their secession. But last week the Biafran military leader, Lieutenant Colonel Odu-megwu Ojukwu, called for talks within 48 hours to end the war. Less than two days later Dr. Okoi Arikpo, Nigeria's Commissioner for External Affairs, replied that "the federal government is prepared to embark on talks without preconditions under the auspices of the Commonwealth Secretary General . . . by May 1 at the latest."

The change of heart of the federal government is clearly because it has been unable to defeat significantly the rebellious Ibos. Their earlier proposal is in recognition of an endless war to maintain their shaky independence. And both sides are hurting economically.

In general outside nations have maintained a hands-off attitude toward the rebellion. Only one African nation, Tanzania, has recognized Biafra. But there has been no ideological conflict involved. The Ibos are primarily Christian or pagan and the major tribes of the rest of Nigeria are Moslem Hausas but religious groups from outside did not rush military help or demand the absolute triumph of either side. And communism was no issue at all.

There is a lesson to be learned here. A lot of Nigerians have suffered and died and there will be similar local rebellions and outbreaks in other countries. But the threat to the world comes only when major powers espouse the causes. Red China's activities are often irrational but the United States and the Soviet Union must exercise considerable restraint and caution in the years ahead as they attempt to influence the ideologies and activities of small nations.

Taylor Writes

May 1, 70 Years Ago, U.S. Became Pacific Power in Battle of Manila

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

On May 1 seventy years ago, at 5:41 a.m., the United States emerged as an Asiatic power. We are now fighting our third war in Asia since then, an average of one every 23 years, but this anniversary date should remind us how it began.

Great, modest taciturn Commodore George Dewey, from the bridge of his flagship U.S.S. Olympia, signalled the start of the Battle of Manila Bay. Not an American life was lost nor a Spanish ship left. Dewey and his ship and squadron had fought, in glory, the perfect sea battle.

Naval hero Stephen Decatur said of naval hero James Lawrence: "He had no talk, but he inspired all about him with ardor. He always saw the best thing to do; he knew the best way to do it, and he had no more dodge in him than the mainmast." That was Dewey, too.

ADMIRAL, SHIP HONORED

The Congress of our grateful country ordered that Dewey never be retired, bestowed on him a sword of honor and gave him the rank of Admiral, a title formerly borne only by David G. Farragut and David Porter. And Dewey's Olympia, in turn, now marvelously enshrined at a dock in Philadelphia, was chosen to bring back from France (Oct. 3, 1921) the hallowed body of the Unknown Soldier.

In April, 1898, Dewey and his squadron of nine vessels was on a courtesy visit to Hong Kong. A Washington cable notified him that war with Spain had begun and ordered him into action against her fleet then in Philippine waters.

This vast archipelago with its 7,000 islands, discovered by Portuguese explorer Ferdinand Magellan in 1521, named for Spain's King Philip II and fought over successively by Portugal, Spain, and Britain. Holland and the Chinese, had been a Spanish colony for more than 300 years. (The Spaniards formally established Manila in June, 1572.)

Serviced by the purchased

collier Nanshan, Dewey arrived off Luzon on April 30. Spanish Admiral Montojo's fleet faced him broadside to the northward, protected by the land batteries bristling on Cavite.

In an incredibly executed maneuver, and paying no attention to rumors of torpedoes, Dewey gained a commanding position within 5,000 yards of the enemy's line, his ships strung out at 400-yard intervals. There were 1,748 Americans in the action.

"FIRE WHEN READY"

Dewey had ordered the officers of the Asiatic squadron to follow the motions and actions of his flagship, Dewey himself on the bridge. At 5:41 a.m. he ported his helm and turned to Captain C.V. Gridley. "You may fire when you are ready, Gridley," he said — eight words that will ring forever in U.S. naval history.

Dewey gradually decreased his distance to 2,000 yards. By 7:35 Montojo's Christina and Castilla had broken into flames. Dewey then completed the destruction of the entire armada. This done he succeeded in silencing the Cavite batteries. His sailors and Marines took possession of them and awaited the arrival of a land force to capture Manila.

We sent 75,000 troops into action in the Philippines, four times as many as saw action in Cuba.

The annexation of Hawaii was formally ratified on July 7, 1898, four days after the war in Cuba was brought to an end by our naval victory off Santiago, near what is now our naval base of Guantanamo — Spanish Admiral Cervera's fleet destroyed by the superior firepower of the five so-lately built battleships Indiana, Iowa, Massachusetts, Oregon and Texas.

PAID $20 MILLIONS

On December 10 the Treaty of Paris transferred sovereignty of the Philippines and its 7,000 islands to the United States, with our payment of $20 million to follow upon the treaty's ratification.

Not everyone was agreeable. Said House Speaker Thomas B. Reed: "We have bought 10 million Malays at two dollars a head, unpicked, and nobody knows what it will cost to pick them." When the Senate voted on February 6 the treaty won by 57 to 27, only one vote over the required margin.

Shy 300-pound Judge William Howard Taft cooperated in establishing the Malolos constitution which promptly proclaimed the Philippines a future republic on January 23, 1899.

As Dewey said, "You may fire when you are ready, Gridley," so did General Douglas MacArthur say, "I shall return," and the fine, friendly Philippine nation remains free to this day.

Wisconsin Report

Renk's Preference For Governor Race Is Not Surprising

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The declaration of Wilbur Renk that he will probably seek the Republican nomination for governor in 1970 may set some kind of a record for long-range planning but it probably surprised nobody who knows him well.

The governorship has always

been the goal of the successful Dane County farmer who is usually regarded as among the voices of moderation in the Wisconsin Republican Party. While he would have had some support in a bid for the senatorial nomination this year, as some thought he had in mind, he is aware out of his own experience that defeating a careful and able incumbent is a formidable task. It is especially formidable when a congressional incumbent is involved, for members of the Congress have more fringe benefits and privileges designed to aid them in luring votes than any except the best informed of their constituents can imagine.

In 1970, as Renk no doubt contemplates his future, he will be running against a vacancy on his party's ticket. Gov. Warren Knowles, if he is re-elected, will step down. Renk will be required to fight for his party's nomination, without much doubt, for Lt. Gov. Jack Olson has been waiting impatiently for a shot at the executive office for a long time.

Nevertheless, he could probably claim the nomination and the support of faithful Republicans with as much reason as will the man in the comparatively inactive chair of the president of the state senate.

COMPARATIVE APPEAL

Such pragmatic considerations aside, the Renk episode recalls the frequent discussions among ambitious men in politics about the comparative desirability of the governor's office and a seat in the U.S. Senate. Which is more important? In which can a man serve with greatest effect and most satisfaction?

Those who regard the matter superficially frequently tend to look at a seat in the Senate — the most exclusive club in the world as it has sometimes been dubbed critical commentators — the more desirable.

In the first place, there the six-year term, again what has been a two-year term during the history of the governorship of this state. (The constitutional amendment for a four-year executive term takes effect in 1970.) The senatorial salary is higher. Other emoluments are considerable.

There are no rules about longevity of service. In the century, three Wisconsin senators served more than two decades each, and the present senior senator, although comparatively young man, has already held his office two years.

The work is less arduous in Washington. Senators can concentrate upon a few issues, the edification of their home folk and typically make a fair to good record. The social life of Washington is more glamorous, which sometimes appeals to the wives of candidates. With high seniority a rank, high national prestige may accrue.

THE GOVERNOR'S SIDE

But for the truly ambitious man, the man with a program and creative ideas for public service accomplishment, the governorship is clearly the more important and the more challenging office. The governor in a very real way is the principal citizen of his state. He is the leader of his party. Upon his success or failure the fortunes of his party tend to rise or fall.

He is constantly in the spotlight, and therefore lives more dangerous political life. But he has great power, not only in policy-making in his relations with the legislature but in the selection of principal administrators, institutional and department policymakers, and judges.

There is an oblique irony in the recollection that E. Harris Hallows, now the head of the state judiciary as chief justice of the Supreme Court, owed his judicial career to the fact that Vernon W. Thomson, now a member of the House of Representatives of comparatively low seniority, chose him for the bench when he was governor. The able man who serves two or three terms in the Capital executive office can leave a deeper impression upon his times than all except a few members of the Senate.

Strictly Personal Stewardesses Only Barmmaids, Waitresses

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A recent government ruling makes it seem likely that the nation's scheduled airlines may have to hire male stewards to supplement the stewardesses who now have monopoly on such jobs.

Even though I enjoy

merely think he had swallowed his Bloody Mary the wrong way.

Many European airlines have stewards — or pursers in addition to stewardesses — and it seems a sensible procedure to me. Everyone knows that waiters are better than waitresses and bartenders more adept than bartenderesses, so there is no question of competence involved.

In point of fact, it has been my melancholy observation that the level of stewardessdom has been sinking year after year, and they are no longer the sleekly superior creatures they used to be. Good girls seem harder to get and harder to keep — perhaps because the presumptive glamor quickly wears off when faced with serving 80 dinners and many mixed drinks on a 10-hour flight.

The whole matter of stewardism has swung wildly off line on the airplanes, and I suspect it would improve both service and morale enormously if only a sandwich and a cup of coffee were served except for the long transcontinental flights.

Most passengers, like me, would prefer to have the stewardesses on the qui vive about our safety and general comfort, rather than see the switching costumes as for a floor show, and teeter around with a steak in one hand and a highball in the other.

A few weeks ago, indeed, I was invited to a cocktail party given by one of the large airlines to exhibit the new "foreign accent" costumes signed for its stewardesses domestic flights. If stewardesses are going to turn in combined fashion models and barmmaids, "I'll settle for plump, ugly steward in a bumpy uniform on my no-bumpy flight.

Reserve Unit Installs New Radio System

A longer range, interference-free radio system has been installed at the Naval Reserve Training Facility, 1824 Ballard Road, Appleton.

The system assures a more secure and reliable communications for military and civilian use.

The equipment includes a single-sideband transceiver and antenna system. It was installed by local Reserves and a representative of the Naval Shore Electronics Engineering Activity, Great Lakes, Ill.

The radio will be used as part of the Navy-Military affiliated radio system communications network. According to Cmdr. D. J. Hewitt, commanding officer, the radio can provide emergency communication during failure of other equipment. It is available to the community in event of natural disaster.

Cmdr. Hewitt said the radio improves the local Reserve's capabilities for exchanging information with other commands, and training communications personnel.

Third Session Planned For Adult Education at Chilton Catholic Church

CHILTON — "Changing Times, Changing Liturgy" is the topic to be presented by the Rev. John T. Mullarkey Sunday in the third session of Catholic Adult Education programs scheduled for 8:15 p.m. at St. Mary Catholic Church.

Father Mullarkey is chairman of the Brown County Adult Education Program, stationed at St. Joseph Church and a teacher at St. Joseph Academy for Girls.

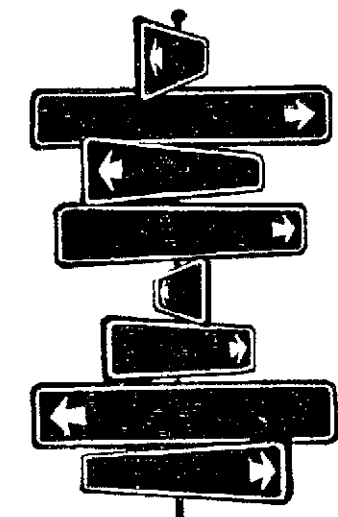

Previous sessions on scripture and the sacraments presented by the Rev. Kurt Gessner and the Rev. William J. Alcuin of Monte Alverno Retreat House, Appleton drew crowds of about 200 persons each.

Firemen Flush Spilled Gasoline From Street

Appleton firemen were required to flush E. Summer Street Monday afternoon when gasoline overflowed from a parked automobile.

The car, owned by Carl Jensen, 613 E. Roosevelt St., was parked in the 400 block. The tank apparently had been filled too full and the gasoline expanded and flowed out through the filler cap, authorities said.

Which Direction?

How to check rising crime, and how best to achieve the goal of equal rights and responsibilities for all citizens, are high priority problems for our nation.

Many Americans, perhaps most of them, believe the answers lie in more and better education for everyone, improved housing, equal employment opportunities, organized public and private efforts to eliminate conditions that breed crime and human misery.

All of these call for building a better society, in physical terms and in terms of mental attitudes that will unite the country in achieving solutions. Yet a relatively small number seek "instant" cures, challenging the institutions and processes of government. They advocate civil disobedience, organized protests in various forms. A few even espouse and promote rioting and violence.

The message of Law Day USA this year reminds us that we cannot build by destroying. We cannot strengthen some freedoms by weakening others. In our communities, and in the nation, we can only advance through united action within the framework of law.

It is a message to all Americans, worth noting and remembering.
